The Hon. J. Q. ADAMS has announced to his constituents that he shall cease to represent them at the close of the present Congress.

From the South Carolinian.
COL. MAXCY GREGG.

The last Temperance Advocate, in stating the result of the late election for Colonel, pays the following just and well-merited tribute to the sterling worth of this estimable officer and gentleman, whose whole character reflects the highest credit on the noble example, of an honored and respected sire, who has long made his name almost synonymous with rigid honesty and integrity; and modest and unassuming devotion to the public good.

Richland District has reason to be proud of this high-minded and honorable young officer. It has long been said, that a candidate in Richland District must treat to liquor, or lose his election—in other words, must resort to bribery, or be defeated. Capt. Gregg, however, with a purity of principle and moral firmness, that reflect ten-fold more honor on him than the official distinction he has gained, determined to run simply on his own merits as a gentleman and an officer—scorning office if he had to creep into it through the low and degrading path of treating and bribery. He did not run as a Temperance man, for he is not a member of a Temperance Society—he simply announced his determination to treat no man for his vote. This he scrupulously adhered to, and old Richland has shown that she can appreciate and honor the man who has the virtue and moral courage to act the high-minded gentleman, in an Election canvass, as well as in the social circle. We hope the day is not distant, when far higher honors shall be given to Col. Maxcy Gregg than his talents, integrity, and gentlemanly bearing, are fully appreciated by the citizens of Richland District.

During the present session of our Superior Court, the Grand Jury found a true bill against Rhodam A. Greene, President of the Western Bank of Georgia, for a high misdemeanor. The charge is founded upon the refusal of the Bank to pay specie. There is a provision of the charter of that Bank, which declares that the Bank shall not at any time refuse to pay specie, and that upon such refusal, the charter shall be forfeited. There is also, a section of the Penal Code, which provides, that if any bank officer shall violate any provision of the charter, he shall be indicted for a high misdemeanor. The Legislature certainly never contemplated, that the mere act of failing to pay specie unconnected with fraud, should be an indictable offence; if they did, then every officer of every suspended Bank in the State, is subject to indictment.

"ABSTRACTIONISTS."

There are two sorts of Abstractionists in our country, which may be called Virginia Abstractionists and Kentucky Abstractionists.

The Virginia Abstractionist is one who recognizes the obligations of oaths, the duty of obeying Constitution, and the observance of moral principle in the management of public affairs.

The Kentucky Abstractionist is one who looks chiefly to abstracting money from the people's pockets for the purpose of building up a Nobility. (at present without the name,) in Bankers, Manufacturing Capitalists, and other privileged or favored classes. How the money is taken he really does not care; but all of his class prefer a Tariff because it slips dollars and tens of dollars out of the Farmer's pocket without his knowing it. To tax men and at the same time make them believe they are not taxed, is the ne plus ultra of a "Kentucky Abstractionist." Talk of constitutions and oaths to him!—He will smile upon you as a poor, benighted "Virginia Abstractionist," an age behind the times in all that is practical and clever.

Whig Reform—Franking fishing poles. See the following extract from a communication in the Index, viz:

Some time in the early part of the summer I happened at our city post office, where I saw one of the messengers belonging to the General Post Office hand in a parcel about four feet long, carefully enveloped, tied, and sealed, directed to some person in Virginia, and bearing the frank of a high dignitary of the Post Office Department, whilome an editor of a Turf Register. The post office clerk observed that he thought it was too heavy to be admitted in the mail, and returned it to the messenger. Now, what do you think that parcel contained? I would give you a month of Sundays and you could not guess; so I will tell you. On inquiry, it was found to be a jointed fishing rod, weighing about four pounds, when extended reaching sixteen or eighteen feet. Any person, curious in the history of the times, that could take the trouble to inquire at the Post Office Department, might learn more of the fishing rod and the fisherman too.

Cotton Packing Extraordinary.—Mr. J. Sims, Overseer for Gen. Wm. Irwin, of Henry county, Alabama, packed in one day, from sunrise to sunset, thirty-two square Bales of Cotton, averaging 478 pounds, with a common square threaded screw, with eight hands. Mr. Sims challenges the whole world, and part of Texas to beat it, and if they can "come it," he will then do his best. Let us hear, from you friend Battle. What are you about? Fort Gaines Whig.

CHARLESTON MARKET—Nov 13. COTTON.—During the past week there was a considerable falling off in transactions for Uplands, compared to the week previous. The chief cause, no doubt, owing to the fact that the principal enquiry was limited to fine and extra fine qualities, and of which the market (particularly of the latter) is very bare. While the rates of these have somewhat advanced, with the desire of purchasers to get hold of them the others have about maintained their former rates. In the course of yesterday we received our European advices from Liverpool to the 22d and from Havre to the 20th ult., in neither of which places any material change had taken place in the Cotton market—they of course produced no effect upon ours. The sales of the week have amounted to 3450 bales. Prices ranged from 6 to 10 cts. per lb.

HEAD QUARTERS,

CLARENDON, Nov. 9, 1841.

Orders No. —
THE 3d Brigade of Cavalry, 23d Regiment of Infantry, DeKalb Rifle Guards, and Arsenal and Magazine guards, will parade at Columbia, on Wednesday the 8th December next, at 11 o'clock A. M., for drill and review.

With a high sense of the laudable spirit of emulation and improvement manifested by the Companies of the 6th Brigade, whose services have been voluntarily tendered for the occasion, the Command-in-Chief directs, that the Quarter Master General, shall make the necessary provision of Tents and Camp Equipage, for their accommodation.

The Major General of the 1st Division will take command of the Troops on the day of review. A card of the Evolutions to be performed, will previously be furnished through this Department, to the respective corps and departments.

The Major Generals and Brigadier Generals of the State, with their respective Staffs, and the Ex-Adjutant General, are requested to attend the Command-in-Chief on the field.

The Staff of the Commander-in-Chief will report for duty at Head Quarters, previous to the day of review. Lieut. Cols: English, Manning and Taylor, are detailed to select and prepare a suitable field for the exercise of the Troops.

The Quarter-Master-General with the Quarter-Masters of the 3d Brigade of Cavalry, and 5th and 6th Brigades of Infantry will attend in due time, to receive and distribute to their respective Corps, the necessary Arms, Camp Equipage, and Ammunition for the occasion, which will be furnished by the Arsenal Keeper at Columbia, upon the requisition of the Quarter-Master General.

The Commander-in-Chief will present a suitable Emblem of Distinction to the best drilled Cavalry Company, and to the best drilled Infantry, Light Infantry, Rifle, or Artillery Company, on Thursday the 9th of December. The merit of each to be decided by a competent Board of Officers, detailed for that purpose.

The Brigadier Generals of the 3d Division, are charged with the extension of this order, within their commands, and are requested to attend with their respective Staffs.

By order of the Commander-in-Chief:—
