

The Court of Equity

For this District, adjourned on Wednesday last.

Cows in the Street.
Would it not be well that some means be adopted to remove so great a nuisance as the lowering herd, from the streets of the town, particularly at night—as thereby, accidents may be prevented? It is unnecessary to state, that in addition to the disturbance produced by the noise of these animals, great risk is run in driving horses at night. One or two ocular demonstrations of the sort are sufficient to satisfy any reasonable man that there is great danger to be apprehended from this source; and there is not a more effectual mode by which an active horse may be induced to make tracks, than coars in the street at night. We therefore respectfully suggest to "our City fathers" the propriety of impounding straggling cows as well as vagrant hogs—for one is as great a nuisance as the other.

Mr. Woodward's Letter

To his constituents, urging the necessity of their immediate support to the "Southern Press," cannot, we think, fail to have the desired effect upon the minds of those who may carefully peruse that letter. He brings clearly and forcibly to view the necessity for establishing such an organ at this particular time. We earnestly hope that a large and prompt support will be given at once to this measure, proposed by those sixty-three good men and true to the interests of their country. Let us give this project a fair trial, and if it fails, we have the satisfaction to know, that we have at least made one effort more towards the maintenance of our rights and liberties.

Mr. Calhoun's Last Speech.

We acknowledge the receipt of a handsome edition of the last speech of this illustrious Statesman, delivered in the Senate of the United States, March 4th 1850. The edition which has been furnished us, is printed in ink, on vellum paper, at $1 per copy. Those who prefer, may obtain editions printed on fine satin in gold, at $5 per copy; on satin in ink, at $2; on vellum paper, like the copy sent us, at $1—in gold, at $2 per copy.
We will take pleasure in exhibiting our copy to those who may desire to subscribe, and will forward the names of those so disposed, or they may order as they please from the Charleston Mercury or Courier—and surely there is no one that is able who will not subscribe for a copy of the last great speech of a great and good man, who marked the age in which he lived—whose name is consecrated to immortality, for his genius and exalted talents and virtues.

Singular Coincidence.

We find the following rather remarkable coincidence in the South Carolinian of Wednesday last: Death of a Citizen.—Under our obituary head will be found recorded the death, in Alabama, of a resident of our town, Mr. Phineas Solomon. Mr. Solomon, during his residence here, was held in high esteem by the community.

A coincidence in the reception of the news of his decease we mention as rather singular.—While the operator in the Telegraph Office at this place was engaged at the Northern end of the line, recording the death of Col. Elmore, the operator at the Southern wires was receiving the message announcing the death of Mr. Solomon. Both gentlemen were parties to a cause which was to have come up for argument in the Court of Appeals, on the very morning upon which the death of both was announced.

For the Journal.

Means, Editors.—Allow me, through the medium of your Journal, to give the results of the detention of the Passenger Cars on this and the Columbia Road on Saturday last. A few miles below Lewisville, the engine unavoidably ran over and killed a cow, which caused a platform car containing some carriages and baggage to run off the track and break an axle-tree, as well as dislocate the ankle of a servant. There were three passenger cars besides the one which here the remains of Col. Elmore, which gave to the Conductor, Mr. Graham, as much as any one man could attend to; his prudent care and attention to travellers and the duties of his station cannot be too highly commended; the conduct of Mr. Riker, the Engineer, was also very commendable. The time consumed in removing the broken axle-tree and wheel, and putting the car out of the way entirely, was about two hours; there was much baggage to put out at the Junction, and also at Claremont and Middleton, all of which will account for the detention of the cars on Saturday evening last. In Mr. Graham the Company have a faithful and efficient Conductor in whose hands their interests will be looked to. Yours, &c.,
A PASSENGER.

The Massachusetts Legislators seem to be determined on the subject of liquor laws. They have recently enacted a statute making it penal to sell even a glass of beer or cider, and the punishment may be imprisonment, and after three convictions the forfeiture of a three thousand dollar bond.

Note signed on Sunday.—A defence was set up against the payment of a note, in Boston last week, that it was signed and paid over on Sunday, which the Court held to be a good defence.

SOUTHERN CONVENTION.

The following is a private despatch, dated NASHVILLE, June 10.

The Address to the People of the South, and the resolutions reported by the Committee, have been adopted. The Missouri Compromise Line to the Pacific is a sine qua non. The Address is particularly strong and good.

NASHVILLE, June 10.

The resolutions reported by the Committee were adopted unanimously, with the exception of one Delegate from Virginia. The Convention recommends the parallel of 36 to 30 to the Pacific, as the line between the Free and Slave States. The Committee reported unanimously in favor of this line. Nine States were represented.

BALTIMORE, June 12.

The Southern Convention at Nashville adopted a resolution yesterday to assemble again, at Nashville, in six weeks after the adjournment of Congress. They were engaged during the most of the day in discussing amendments to the Address. The Convention is still in session.

The steamship Saranac arrived at Norfolk on Tuesday. She reports all quiet in Cuba.

Correspondence of the Charleston Mercury.

NASHVILLE, June 7, 1850.

The Committee will report to-morrow the Address to the People of the Southern States. It is attributed to the pen of Mr. Rhett of your State, and from the information that has reached me of its purport, I may say with some confidence it will meet with your approval. The telegraph will have apprised you, before this letter is received, of its character, and probably of its adoption by the Convention. For it is barely possible they will reject it, or modify it in any material feature. But as you may not get a copy of it quite so soon by mail, I will state to you its conclusions.

The events of the slavery agitation from 1834, are summed up in brief but intelligible terms, their significance explained, and the interests and positions of the South as she has been affected by them, argued and defined. The North is held responsible for all the fatal results and promises of this agitation, and the South is rebuked for her unwise and spiritless submission to protracted wrong. The Compromise scheme is taken to pieces, and after a thorough examination of its parts, the whole is denounced as a fraud and a scheme of poorly disguised encroachment.

The Missouri Compromise Line of 36 deg. 30 min. running to the Pacific, accompanied by a distinct recognition of it as the partition line between the North and the South—all the territory lying South of it to be open to African slavery, including the Southern part of California—is recommended to the South for acceptance, if the North chooses to propose it. But it is recommended as the last and utmost concession.

In the meantime the Convention declines, whilst Congress has the matter under consideration, recommending any practical mode of redress. But the Southern States are advised to send Delegates to an adjourned meeting of the Convention after the rising of Congress—from the States and Districts that have failed to be represented at Nashville, to take into consideration the remedy which the circumstances may require.

The resolutions are understood to be chiefly the work of Mr. Campbell, of Alabama.

PROSPECTUS OF "THE SOUTHERN PRESS."

AN association of sixty-three Members of Congress, Senators, and Representatives, have constituted the undersigned a committee to superintend the establishment of a Southern Press at Washington City, to be devoted to the exposition and defence of Southern Rights and institutions—the dissemination of correct information as to Northern policy, and the course of Political Affairs generally, without reference of the old party lines of Whig and Democrat. Arrangements are now in progress, promptly to ensure the issue of such a paper under the title of "THE SOUTHERN PRESS," for the conduct of which, suitable Editors have been engaged, who will also receive the aid of a number of eminent and able contributors.

There will be both a tri-weekly and weekly issue; the latter to contain substantially the same matter as the former, and intended to reach those points of the country whose mail facilities are limited.

A Daily issue will be added hereafter, should it be deemed advisable or necessary by the press and people of the Southern States.

The paper will not be exclusively political—but will embrace on its broad sheet the General News of the day, Domestic and Foreign by mail and telegraph; criticisms; original essays; literary and miscellaneous; and, in short, all those items of general interest, the collected aggregate of which constitutes the interesting and valuable Newspaper.

Great care will be taken to give correct reports of the proceedings and debates of both Houses of Congress, as well as the action of local Legislatures on the Southern question.

A limited number only of advertisements will be received—the main object being to furnish a large amount of reading matter.

The paper will be printed on a sheet equal in size to those of the other Washington papers, and the material will be procured especially for the purpose.

It is confidently hoped that every true friend to the South will aid in procuring subscribers, and forward the names, with the amount subscribed, to some Southern Representative at Washington, forthwith.

Postmasters are authorized by law to remit subscriptions free of postage.
