

POETRY.

THE ONE FAMILY.
There is a wondrous family
That's scattered far and near,
All travelling to eternity,
But never gathered here,
There's many a loving brother,
And sister dear we know,
Who shall never see each other,
Nor ever meet below.
They have all one mighty Father,
Who is forever near,
But they only feel his presence,
And never see him here;
They have all one Elderly Brother
Who saved the every one,
But they shall not see his beauty
Until their journey's done.
They have all one home, far & tant,
On which their hopes are set,
But they do not know the glories,
Nor even dream them yet:
Within its blessed portals
This scattered household meet,
How great will be the jubilee,
The fellowship how sweet.

AGRICULTURE.

From the Southern Cultivator.
CLOVER AND GRASS.
Mr. Madison Strickland, of Jackson Co., Ga., having grown clover and grass for many years past with wonderful success, we propounded to him the following inquiries, and he has very kindly appended to them the accompanying answers, which we publish below.

- 1st. Which is the best time to sow the seed, fall or spring?
- 2d. How ought ground to be prepared—how ought the seed to be covered, and how much to the acre?
- 3d. What manures are the best—when and how applied?
- 4th. Should they be grazed—if so, when and how long, first, when kept for pasture purposes—second, when intended to be mowed?
- 5th. How treated when the object is to obtain seed, and yield of seed per acre?
- 6th. What is the best mixture of seed to be sown together?
- 7th. Should they be sown by themselves or in connection with a grain crop? If the latter, which small grain is the best?
- 8th. How do you save hay—more especially clover hay?
- 9th. How long will the same land grow a good crop of clover and grass, without requiring to be seeded down?
- 10th. What kind of land is best adapted to these crops?

MR. STRICKLAND'S REPLY.

- 1st. I prefer sowing either grass or clover from the 15th of January to the last of February—though it will do tolerably well to sow from the 1st of September to the middle of November.
- 2d. Plow the land thoroughly, and afterwards sow the seed, and roll with a heavy roller—one gallon of clover seed well cleaned, or one bushel grass seed in the rough to the acre, either will be sufficient.
- 3d. I have never tried any of the commercial manures, but have used cow-lots and stable manures, and have always spread them broadcast—plowed them in while preparing the land.
- 4th. Never graze under 18 months, when it is intended for grazing or mowing, as it does not get sufficient roots until it is that old. In this region, stock should not run on clover after the 10th of March, if it is to be mowed. After mowing, it may be grazed until the next March again.
- 5th. Let the clover heads turn one-half brown, and grass one-half yellow, for seed. I think grass would yield 15 or 20 bushels of seed, in the rough, to the acre. As to clover, I have never cleaned any seed.
- 6th. For grazing, I think best to sow clover, herds grass and oats grass together. For mowing, each should be sown separate.
- 7th. I have only sown with wheat or oats—either will do equally well.
- 8th. I mow the clover when about one-half the heads turn brown, and give it one-half day's sun—having it well scattered. Mow herds grass when one-half the heads are yellow, and give the same treatment as clover.
- 9th. I have tried clover 4 years, and it has done well. As to herds grass, I think by plowing up and rolling every three or four years, it would do well a great while.
- 10th. I prefer red upland and high stiff bottom for clover, and red upland and low stiff bottom for grass. I do not think that sandy bottom or gray upland can ever be made profitable with grass or clover.
The mowing blade being the life of every meadow, suffice it to say that it is necessary for a skillful hand to take a keen blade and mow off the weeds, &c.,

the last days of August or 1st of September; this kills all poisonous plants, and gives the clover and grasses a chance to get up. This is to be done, whether intended for mowing or grazing.

STRAW.—The Baltimore Gazette thinks the question of trade will work wonders in the demolition of ultra Radicalism as it affects the Southern States, especially those which plant and sell cotton. The South can help herself politically by growing, as far as possible, commercially independent of the North. The disposition to do so is very marked and even the troilist loil are beginning to appreciate the situation in this respect. The fabrics of the East are not purchased to the same extent as formerly; the West has nothing like so good a market for her breadstuffs.—Cotton, somehow, is beginning to find its way to Europe direct and feels more and more disinclined to tarry at New York. A desire to have back this trade animates our "friends" of the East and West to moderate their political bile in our regard. If we can only get justice from these people by appealing to their mean and sordid souls, let us by all odds secure a full supply of the commodity by constant and persistent turns of the commercial screw. Piteous plainings to hearts of Yankee flesh proved unavailing; let us see what effects a good sound application of the trade hammer will have upon the hearts of stone.—Constitutionalist.

SUN STROKE—HOW TO AVOID IT.—The season when the sun's rays pour down with their greatest intensity, and inflict upon the head of man the dangerous malady known as comp de soleil, is now at hand, and it is well to remind persons of the fact. Very simple precautions will save persons from being seized by the malady in question. One of the best preventives is a thin piece of sponge loosely sewed into the top of the hat, and occasionally moistened with water in the course of the day. We have heard of a man who walked twenty miles under a hot sun with a damp pocket handkerchief inside the crown of his hat, and did not suffer any inconvenience. The precautions are so obvious and simple that people do not regard them. Were they complicated and expensive, their use would be more general.

NAIL IN THE FOOT.—To relieve from the terrible effects of running a nail in the foot of man or horse take peach leaves, bruise them, apply to the wound, confine with a bandage. They cure as if by magic. Renew the application twice a day, if necessary, but one application usually does the work.

BITTEN TO DEATH.—Last week two colored women, living in the neighborhood of Goose Creek Bridge, went out to pick huckleberries, and while engaged in so doing one of them was struck in the breast by a large rattlesnake. Death ensued almost immediately, and so rapid did mortification ensue that it was found necessary to bury her on the spot. A patent has been obtained for the manufacture of water proof paper. It will be no uncommon thing, by and by, to carry a quart of milk home in a paper bag.

The New York Express says that in the incomes of business men of our city, "those who advertise make the largest returns."

A schoolmaster in the country advertises that he will keep a Sunday-school twice a week.

M. BISSELL, DENTIST.

WOULD call the attention of those requiring their Teeth filled to a COMPOSITION, FILLING that he prepares and has used for the past ten years, as it can be recommended in all cases where the teeth are so far decayed as to prevent their being filled with any filling requiring pressure. As it approaches nearer the color of the teeth than Foils, it will be found satisfactory in filling the badly decayed front teeth, avoiding the unsightly appearance of the foil showing through the thin plate of enamel. Being nearly as hard as the bone of the teeth it will prove serviceable in the masticating surfaces of many teeth: Teeth filled several years since have been found within a few weeks in nearly as good a condition as when first filled.
Charges for filling with gold, tin, or artificial Dentine from 50 cents to $2, and teeth inserted on GOLD, SILVER or VULCANITE, from $2 to $8.
