IMMENSE CAMP-MEETING .- During the latier part of last week, the colored folks had a large meeting about four miles from town. near Town Creek, which continued for sever-. al days, ending Monday evening. Several accomodation trains were run during last Sunday to and from the locality, and many townspeople embraced the opportunity to visit the scene. The Rev. Mr. Weston, colored, conducted the meeting.

GYPSIES .- We have had, in our vicinity, for nearly a week, a camp of wandering people, who called themselves Gypsies. But we saw the entire party, and venture to say that some of them were original Paddies O'Whack from Ballinahack or Cork, regu ular sors of the Emerald Isle. During their stay, several horse trades were mode and other wonderful deeds done, of "the ways that are dark and tricks that are vain' character .-They left Tuesday morning for parts unknown.

REMARKABLE ECONOMY.—The following piece of Economy " is equal to some practiced by our County Commissioners:

The town council of Edinburgh, Scotland, having received intelligence that the rope of the chief bell had given way, met at a solemn dinner to discuss whether it should be spliced at a cost of two shillings or replaced with a new one at an expense of two and sixpence. A second and third danner, costing £10 each, were required to determine this weighty matter; and they then resolved to splicethe old rope, on the score of economy being necessary in the administration of the public funds, of which they declared that. as "faithful steward,s they were bound to be careful," thus setting a memorable example to all future civic corporations.

If any man desires to dig gold, start a cotton or other manufactory, establish a saw or grist mill, run a cotton gin or a plantation, or engage in any other enterprise which requires water power or any other kind, and who will be amply repaid by any such investment, he should immediately migrate to Kershaw county, where the opportunity will be speedily afforded him.

AMERICAN CITIES .- In the United States here are four hundred and nine incorporated cities, the oldest being St. Augustine, Florida -a municipality, however, with but small population, the census giving it only 1.717. These cities chiefly abound in the West, where it is the custom to dignify towns of small calibre by an incorporation, so that. whilst in the Eastern and Middle States an incorporated city rarely has less than 20,000 people, in the West many have as low as
