

THE FAITHFUL.

They meet each other in the glow
Of summer as the seasons flow
Amid the flowers upon the strand,
Beside the river bright and small,
That winds about and purrs through all
Youth's sunny land.

And there beneath the cloudless skies
They gaze into each other's eyes.
And leaning o'er the brimming tide,
Behold in depths of dreamy blue
Their mirrored forms to nature true,
Thus side by side.

And vow and kiss and give of love,
And pledge themselves by stars above,
And flowers that bloom down in the dale
And all the world, so purely bright,
Before them smiles in joy and light,
When they set sail.

Glide on! glide on! thus side by side
O faithful hearts! forever glide!
And suffer, Lord, no shoo! no shoo!
That just below the surface lies,
Or barren isles above that rise
To come between!

And shield each frail and slender form
From dangers dark of wind and storm
And raging tempests in the sea!
From storm and wind, as they do cross,
With dangers dark o'er take and toss
Them ruthlessly!

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has just decided that an inn-keeper is bound to pay for goods stolen in his house from guests, unless stolen by a servant or companion of the guest. The court declared that it was the inn-keeper's duty to provide honest servants, and to exercise an exact vigilance over all persons coming into his house as guests or boarders.

What is to be Done.

1. Child two years old has an attack of croup at night. Doctor at a distance. What is to be done?

The child should be immediately undressed and put in a warm bath. Then give an emetic, composed of one part of antimony wine to two of ipecac. The dose is a teaspoonful. If the antimony is not at hand, give warm water, mustard and water, or any other simple emetic; dry the child, and wrap it carefully in a warm blanket.

2. Hired girl sprains her ankle violently.

First, bathe in cold water, then put the white of an egg into a saucer stir with a piece of alum, the size of a walnut until it is a thick jelly; place a portion of it on a piece of lint, or tow, large enough to cover the sprain, changing it as often as it feels warm or dry; the limb is to be kept in a horizontal position by placing it on a chair.

3. Bees swarm, and the man who hires them gets severely stung in the face.

The sting of a bee is hollow and barbed, and, as it contains the poison the first thing to be done is to remove it. The parts stung should then be bathed in warm water, and a little ammonia rubbed on them.

4. Some one's nose bleeds and cannot be stopped.

Take a plug of lint, moisten, dip in equal parts of powdered alum and gum arabic, and insert in the nose. Bathe the forehead in cold water.

5. Child eats a piece of bread on which arsenic has been placed for killing rats.

Give plenty of warm water, new milk in large quantities, gruel, linseed tea; foment the bowels. Scrape iron rust off anything mix with warm water, and give large draughts frequently. Never give large draughts of fluid until those given before have been vomited, because the stomach will not contract properly if filled, and the object is to get rid of the poison as quickly as possible.

6. Young lady sits in a draught, and comes home with a sore throat.

Wrap flannel around the throat, keep out of draughts and sudden changes of atmosphere, and every half hour take a pinch of chloride of potash, place it on the tongue and allow it to dissolve in the mouth.

7. Nurse suffers from a whitlow on her finger.

Place the whitlow in water as warm as can be borne, then poultice with linseed meal, taking care to mix a little grease with the poultice, to prevent it from growing hard. Bathe and poultice morning and evening.

8. Child falls backward against a tub of boiling water and is scalded.

Carefully undress the child, lay it on a bed, on its breast, as its back is scalded, be sure all draughts are excluded, then dust bi-carbonate of soda over the scalded parts, lay muslin over it, then make a tent, by placing two boxes with a board over them in the bed, to prevent the covering from pressing on the scald; cover up warmly.

9. Mower cuts driver's leg as he is thrown from his seat.

Put a tight bandage around the limb, above the cut, slip a cork under it, in the direction of a line drawn from the inner part of the knee to a little outside of the groin. Draw the edges of the cut together with sticking plaster.

10. Child has a bad carache.

Dip a plug of cotton or wool in olive oil, warm it, and place it in the ear. Wrap up the head and keep out of draughts.

11. Youth goes skating, and falls through the ice, and is brought home insensible.

Strip the body and rub it dry; then rub it with a warm blanket, and place it in a warm bed, in a warm room. Cleanse away froth and mucus from the mouth and nose. Apply warm bottles, bricks, etc., to the armpits, between the thighs and to the soles of the feet. Rub the surface of the body with the hand encased in a warm, dry worsted sock. To restore breathing, close the nostrils and steadily breathe into the mouth; inflate the lungs till the breast be raised a little, then set the nostrils free, and press gently on the chest until signs of life appear. Then give a warm drink and put to bed. Do not give up hope for at least three hours after the accident.

12. Child gets sand in its eye.

Place your forefinger on the cheek bone, having the child before you. Then draw up your finger, and you will probably be able to remove it; but if you cannot get at the sand in this way, repeat the operation, while you have a knitting needle laid against the eyelids; this will turn the lid inside out, and then the sand may be removed with a silk handkerchief. Bathe in cold water and exclude the light for a day.—Rural New Yorker.

CHANGING THE CLOTHING.—Relative to changing the clothing, it is considered hazardous to lessen its amount after dressing in the morning, unless active exercise is taken immediately. No under garments should be changed for lighter ones during the day, ordinarily. The best, safest and most convenient time for lessening the clothing is in the morning, when we first dress for the day.

Our Wheat Crops.

The reasonable expectation of the whole crop of wheat in the United States this year was 420,000,000 bushels. This has been reduced by the damage in Minnesota and Iowa about 18,000,000 bushels, thus reducing the total crop of wheat this year to about 407,000,000 bushels. Those who will take the pains to inquire carefully will be convinced that the actual experience of the harvest is likely to increase the amount above this estimate. Turning, now, to the probable demand, we find that we had over 109,000,000 bushels to spare out of the crop of 325,000,000 bushels in 1877, thus showing that our requirements for seed and consumption in the year to September 1, 1878, have been about 216,000,000 bushels. Assuming, now, that our requirements for seed and consumption to September 1, 1879, shall be even as much as 220,000,000 bushels, and we shall still have 187,000,000 bushels for export.—American Miller.

OPIMUM

DR. M. W. CASE'S Liver Remedy

BLOOD PURIFIER

Tonic and Cordial.

This is not a patent medicine, but is prepared under the direction of Dr. M. W. Case, from his favorite prescription, which in an extensive practice of over twenty-seven years he has found most effective in all cases of disordered liver or impure blood. It is

ANTI-BILIOUS.

It acts directly upon the liver, restoring it when disordered to its normal condition; and in regulating the activity of this great gland every other organ of the system is benefited. In Blood Diseases it has no equal as a purifier, it improves digestion, and assists nature to eliminate all impurities from the system; and while it is the cheapest medicine in the market, it is also superior to all known remedies. While it is more effectual than Blue Mass, it is mild and perfectly safe, containing nothing that can in the slightest degree injure the system. It does not sicken or give pain; neither does it weaken the patient, nor leave the system constipated, as do most other medicines.

It cures Dropsy, Bilious Fever, Headache, Neuralgia, Water-Brain, Heartburn, Sick Stomach, Jaundice, Colic, Vertigo, Neuritis, Palpitation of the Heart, Female Irregularities and Weakness, all Skin and Blood Diseases, Worms, Fever and Ague, and Constipation of the Bowels.

In small doses it is also a sure cure for Chronic Diarrhoea.

Taken two or three times a day, it prevails Yellow Fever, Diphtheria, Scarlet Fever, Cholera, and Small-Pox.

HOW TO BE USED. Dr. Case's Liver Remedy is a pleasant Tonic and Cordial. It is not a patent medicine, and assists nature to eliminate all impurities from the system; and while it is the cheapest medicine in the market, it is also superior to all known remedies.
