LOCAL.

The cold snap formed ice in Anderson.

The Democrats have nominated a half-and-half ticket in Sumter.

J. Hermann Wahlers, Esq., will return from Charleston today.

Cotton has been coming in pretty fast during the week. Cornelson almost lives with a sample in his hand.

Go to Dr. Hydriek's to buy drugs, cigars, soaps, fancy brushes, combs, &c., &c.

Gen'l Leech, a prominent man of North Carolina, is now stumping the State with Hampton.

We call attention to the notice of Capt. Jas. F. Izlar, Chairman of the Democratic Party, published in today's issue.

A Hampton and Izlar banner was raised on Wednesday last between the stores of Mr. Ezekiel and Mr. T. W. Albergotti.

Read the advertisement of S. E. Tobin & Co. They have a full stock on hand and will sell cheap for cash. In crossing the rail road, stop in at their store.

Read the new advertisement of Mr. J. C. Pike. We had the pleasure of going through his store the other day, and was surprised at the immense quantity of goods he had on hand.

If you don't want to get your toes mashed keep away from Cornelson's. His store is always crowded with customers and it's the last place in the world for an idler. They mean business down there.

CHRISTMAS COMING—

Dr. Duker's store reminds one that the year is coming to a close and that it will not be long more before "Merry Christmas" will be heard ringing out upon our streets. His shelves now present almost a Christmas-eye appearance. And if you want fine cigars, there is the place to get them. Sherrod Reeves, in fact, can sell you anything you want, from a toothpick up. Drop in and call for Sherrod.

The gin house on the plantation of John D. Keitt, in St. Matthews Parish, and at present rented by C. W. Caldwell, [was burnt on the 28th ult. The fire originated from a match in the colton. This shows the danger attendant upon ginning cotton that is not carefully examined.

We are requested to call attention to the office hours at So. Ca. R. R. Depot here which will be found at the head of our columns. No goods will be delivered except during those hours, and goods placed on the platform at any other time will be at the risk of owners. All freight must be paid for before removing.

The Court House will be ready for this term of Court. The painting was done by Mr. J. D. Wolfe, January Baltzegar and Sam Smith, and is an excellent evidence of their skill as painters. No county in the State can boast of a better Court House than ours.

P. S.—If you want fine painting done call on Wolfe.

Charles Carter, a prisoner who escaped from the County jail sometime since, was arrested by Constable J. J. Mitchell on Monday night last and brought to Orangeburg and delivered into the custody of the Sheriff. He is a desperate character, and since his enlargement committed several crimes, among which were the attempted robbery of Miss Bozardt on the public highway. He should have a life-term in the Penitentiary.

OLD OFFENDERS BAGGED—

The weekly revels had by certain persons in the neighborhood of the railroad culminated in the arrest and trial by the Town Council on Tuesday last of nine of the ring leaders. The following were sentenced to pay each a fine of $2 or be confined in the guard house for ten days: Harry Robinson, Robert Colter, Edward Glover, Buck Russel, Joe Bailey, Dan'l Smith, Billy Williams, Dan'l Scott, and Ben Johnson. Hardy Ruff was turned over to a Trial Justice.

NOT BEATEN IN NEW YORK—

Mr. August Briggmann, the courteous condjutor of Briggmann & Crook, can always be found in the well appointed saloon of these gentlemen, where he deals out draughts to suit the taste of the most fastidious devotee of Bacchus. His cocktails, milk punches, brandy slings, etc., are unsurpassed this side of New York, and impart a tone and vigor to the system without which life is a burden. If the Fall weather knocks the argue into you, call on August Briggmann and he has bitters that will kill the malady as dead as Julius Cesar.

It is well, at the end of this century, that Orangeburg can boast of a store that will compare with any in the State. Geo. H. Cornelson is the happy possessor of this huge establishment. It is packed and crammed with every thing that the imagination can conceive of, or that the heart could wish. His stock of cloths and domestics is large and of splendid texture. And up stairs he has opened a first-class furniture store, where one can select just such bedsteads, chairs, sofas, &c., as he may want. The cry now is, Go to Cornelson's.

JOHN SCHACHTE—

This gentleman was busy all day Thursday opening his new stock, and arranging it in his well packed store. He now has a full supply of beautiful calicos, homespuns, flannels, etc. which he offers low down; also a complete line of shoes and hats. His groceries are abundant and all fresh and sweet, while his stock of wines and liquors is as fine as was ever brought to this town. Now is the time to call on Schachte. He is offering unparalleled bargains. Charlie Gehrels says he has the best five cent cigar in the county.

From Safety Into Death—The Result of a Joke.

[From the Augusta Constitutionalist.]

Merritt, Jones & Co's oil works at Canton burned yesterday. Two men were burned to death.

Doubtless none of our readers who read the above paragraph, which appeared in our telegraphic columns of last Friday, thought that one of the unfortunates was so lately in our city, and was caused to leave in consequence of a practical joke. But from a letter received yesterday from Baltimore, from the President of the Patapsco Guano Company, dated September 15, we learn that such is the fact.

It seems that on the 5th of September Mr. R. Shiels, who, had come here to do some difficult work connected with the acid chamber of the Patapsco Guano Company's Works in this city, and which but few men in this country can do, owing to the peculiarity of the work, registered at the Globe Hotel. Having heard rumors of the yellow fever being here, he anxiously inquired of the book keeper about it, who assured him that the rumors were unfounded, as there had not been a single case in the city.

Some parties who were standing near, seeing that Mr. Shiels was a stranger, and that he was somewhat excited about the fever, concluded that he was a countryman, and that they would have some fun out of him by making him get up and dust out of town. These parties at once, in a tone intended for him to hear, commenced to talk with each other about the number of yellow fever cases in town, and how it would soon be all over the city.

One of them called the other Doctor, and asked him how many cases he had had up to this time? Mr. Shiels, who heard all this, and supposing these men, being wholly disinterested, were telling the truth, while the hotel man, having an interest in keeping him here, might be making the best representation possible, decided to return to Baltimore by the afternoon train, notwithstanding the most positive assurances upon the part of his employers that there was no fever here.

Mr. Shiels thinking he he had heard the truth from disinterested parties, determined to keep his first resolve, and returned to Baltimore on the train of the same day of his arrival, promising to return in a few weeks. Upon his arrival in Baltimore he was engaged to do some work at the oil works of Merritt, Jones & Co., at Canton, and was one of the unfortunate men who was burned to death in the explosion of these works on last Thursday, the 14th instant. Who can doubt but for the unfortunate remarks of the parties above, that Mr. Shiels would now be among us a living man? We have been told that he was an unusually fine looking specimen of physical manhood and was in the enjoyment of the most robust health.

Practical joking is well enough in its way, but upon such serious subjects as the presence of an epidemic in a city no one has any right to joke, particularly to make assertions such as these parties made, and not correct them in time to prevent so decided an action as removal from the city. These gentlemen may have enjoyed their joke, but it has resulted in the loss of a valuable man, who from all appearances had many years of usefulness before him.

About five years ago London policemen were condemned to protect their heads with helmets covered with felt and lined with tin. During the Prince of Wales' stay in India he studied the matter of head coverings, and is now trying to induce the commissioners of police to institute helmets lined with cork. It has been discovered that cork serves as a protection against blows and cuts.

The Earl of Buckinghamshire has a son, Hobart Basha, an admiral in the Turkish service, who has written a silly and brutal letter in extenuation of the Turks. He takes occasion to remind his very indignant British countrymen that they haven't always been lambs when revolts occurred.

Call at Dr. J. G. Wannamaker's and get a pamphlet and read about Dr. Clark Johnston's great Indian blood syrup, the best medicine in use. Dr. Wannamaker also has the medicine for sale at wholesale and retail.

Dyspepsia
Americans are particularly subject to this disease and its effects: such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual costiveness, Heart burn, Water brash, coming up of the food coated tongue, disagreeable taste in the mouth, palpitation of the Heart and all diseases of the Stomach and Liver. Two doses of Green's August Flower will relieve you at once, and there positively is not a case in the United States it will not cure. If you doubt this go to your Druggist Dr. C. Dukes, and get a sample Bottle for 10 cents and try it. Regular size 75 cents.

QUESTIONS FOR EVERY ONE TO ANSWER—

Are you troubled with Indigestion, Constipation of the Bowels, Dyspepsia, or any disease of the Liver? Have you suffered for years and found no relief from the use of medicines? Do you have a faint appetite, and are you troubled with feelings of languor? If you have these feelings we know you have not tried the new discovery Merrell's Hepatine, at Dr. A. C. Dukes' Drug Store. It is performing wonderful cures in this and all other communities where the people use it. It is pronounced by all as the best Liver Medicine in the world. Two doses will relieve the worst case of Dyspepsia or Constipation of the Bowels. Each bottle contains fifty doses, and a teaspoonful of this medicine in a wine glassful of water three times a day for one day, produces a most wonderful change. Where the system is run down with loss of energy and appetite, or Dyspepsia, with all its train of evil, is affecting its deadly work, this remedy, Merrell's Hepatine, never fails to bring about a speedy and permanent cure. Those who doubt the merit and virtues of this medicine, a. d. live from day to day without trying the Hepatine, have our sympathy, but can not be cured unless they take the Medicine.
