LOCAL.

FINGERS OFF-

The parties who have been making it a practice to loaf papers from this office must positively stop it. They make it their business to come here every Friday night and ask in the name of others for papers. They get them, and when the rightful parties come they claim that their paperslare theirs, and they want them. Now we give warning, that the next person that comes here and loafs a paper in the name of another will be indicted for obtaining good under false pretences.

In consequence of not having received our paper for this issue until a late hour, our readers must over look the absence of the usual amount of local and editorial matter.

Nights cooler lately.

Business still dull.

Strike about ended at the North

Boys, have you paid up yet?

That is a most wretched fortune which is without an enemy.

Envy shooteth at others and woundeth herself.

The recent rains have improved cotton and young corn wonderfully.

Crowds of turnips planted during the week closing.

Fish not so plentiful as they were awhile ago. Cause-Nearly all been caught.

The Hou. W. H. Reedish and Dr. O. H. Ott, of Branchville, were in town on Tuesday last.

Who ever brings us the largest watermelon this year will be furnished the News and Times for twelve months gratis, the weights to be kept by J. C. Pike & Co., and published. and he never fails to give satisfaction

Mr. Gerlach laid upon our table on the 28th of July a fully matured cotton boll.

Horses and mules caught on the streets will all be taken up hereafter. See public notice.

We have had some glourious rains during the week, which cooled the atmosphere tremendously.

Maj. Pou is an unassuming gentleman, but in the matter of competing with his grocery brothers he is perfeetly independent.

Mr. Hayne Joiner is one of the best and most careful of deputy Sheriffs. He attends strictly to his own business and allows other people to do the same. Long may he wave.

Mr. Henry Rickenbaker will please accept the thanks of our office for a couple of fine wat amelons; and Mr. W. F. Phillips for a number of the largest and finest peaches we have seen this season.

We are requested by L. H. Wannanaker, Orderly Sergeant of the Edisto Rifles, to say that there will be drill and dress parade of the Company on Tuesday afternoon 14th instant, at 5 o'clock, on the green in rear of Riggs' shop.

Mr. John Schachte is still at Doyle's old stand, dealing out cheap bargains to his customers. His groceries are always fresh and for sale cheap. Those who have but little money and want a large return for it would do well to call on Schachte.

Our old venterau, Moses Brown informs us that he has reduced his price of shaving to ten cents. He does this on account of the hard times. Moses never fails to give satisfaction to those who patronize him. And as for neatness and cleanliness he has no

A very successful pienic was held some eight miles from here on Thursday last at Pine Grove Academy. An abun lance of good things for the inner man was there and well did the good people present enjoy themselves. The occasion was spiced with a variety of speeches.

The Liberia fever is not making much headway in this county. Our colored friends are satisfied with things as they are, and have wisely concluded that it is best for them to remain and add on to what they already have than to go elsewhere and start life afresh under adverse circumstances.

FINE PEACHES-

Dr. W. S. Barton, will please ac cept our grateful thanks for a parcel of delicious peaches, some of them being perfect twins in formation, and of unusual size. The Doctor is one our best agriculturalist, understand ing both the theory and the practice of farming, and it is not surprising to see that he comprehend sfruit culture also. Thanks Doctor.

That bright particular star in the legal firmament of Orangeburg. M. I. Browning, Esq., is gone again, this time to spend a month or so up in the mountains. Were he single we should accuse him of a weakness of the heart, but, as on the contrary, he is a staid old Benedict we must think that he is moving about for his health and that of his amiable family. Let him have all the pleasure he wants, say his numerous friends.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS-

Dr. Wannamaker informs us that he has a never failing remedy for hog cholera, which he is offering on very reasonable terms. Besides this most important article he has and constantly keeps on hand a full supply of the best and purest medimanufactured. In fact the Doctor never fails to keep up with all the latest improvements in les line. His prices are reasonable,

To day a week age a little colored girl, named Sally, in the employ of Mr. John Danner, was badly kicked by a mule.

Maj. A. B. Kuowlton left our midst a few days since on a visit to his relatives in Wisconsin. He has not been enjoying good health for a long time, and we hope that the cool bracing air of the North may invigor ate and strengthen him. He will return in a month or so; mean time we wish for him health and hap-

Elsewhere in our columns will be noticed an invitation extended to the citizens of Orangeburg County and County seat to attend a reunion of graduates and students of Newberry College. Rev. Prof. Geo. W. Holland, Vice President of that institution, will be present, together with a number of other clergy and several addresses will be made. Mr. Stoudemeyer, recent graduate of the College, will deliver the oration.

A CURIOSITY-

We were presented during the week with one watermelon weighing 39½ lbs., and one musk melon weighing 19 lbs. Mr. P. W. Bull was the gracious donor and shall have his copy of the NEWS AND TIMES for one year unless somebody else outstrips him in the melon line. Besides those he furnished us he had seventy-five or more of huge proportions. Mr. Bull purchased his supply of Mr. Hess Andrews, a wide-awake farmer of this County. But it is not only in the melon line that Mr. Bull surpasses many of his competitors. In groceries and other things for the people he offers the very best of bagains.

The young ladies are preparing for a floral scene which will come off on the night of the 30th inst., we think at the Fair Building, application having been made to the Commissioners for its use. The scene promises to be one of the handsomest ever presented here in tableaux vicant; and will embrace eleven or more of Flora's fairest flower queens, assisted by a troupe of tiny heather-bell, in all, some forty to complete the display. Each of the flowers will contend for the crown, until a woodland Recluse decides who is to be queen. Then a herald announces the choice. a court retinue escorts the queen, and she is crowned. Flora then addresses the new queen, and the forty sing her praises. A court jester will be always among the flowers, and and use his liberty to make sport at will. The scene will be represented in a grove; music will accompany every phase of the presentation, which, to complete its effect, will will be produced in two well arranged parts. The young ladies meet twice a week for practice.

Within a few weeks the cotton season will again open, and in presenting this, our annual Circular, we would respectfully ask to return our sincere thanks for the liberal patronage bestowed upon us in the past, and trust that the same confidence will be continued for the future.

We have Cotton Warehouses that will easily store Three Thousand Bales, entirely protecting it from the weather, and from stealage that might occur if otherwise stored. Our charges shall be moderate, and having ample facilities for doing business, with an experienced force, we feel confident that, for shipments cur friends may make, we can, from faith ful attention and prompt returns, render satisfactory sales.

In connection with our Cotton business, we beg to call your attention to our extensive Grocery and Liquor diseases of the liver.

Stock, for which in quality and price we can compete with any House in the United States. We have a full supply of Bagging, and are Agents for the celebrated Davis Hock Tie, which is equal to, if not superior to, any other Tie offered.

When you visit the city we shall be glad to have you examine our stock, and whether you buy or not, we shall be pleased to extend to you the courtesies of our office.

Mr. Henry Wagener, whose long experience in the trade, and who had charge of our Cotton business the past year, will continue as its superin tendent, under our immediate super

Who is that fellow "Many frien Is" Who is he striking at? Who did he go to school to? What dictionary did he study? What grammar did he learn out of? Why is it that he doesn't publish a new dictionary? Why is it that the manager of this paper dosn't look up such a youth as "Many friend?" and hire him as 'Local Editor?" I am confident it would increase the subscription list of your paper. I don't think M. F. is any common man. He is what I would call, a "sooner" fellow. (The most of your readers know what 'sooner' macra,) Way that fellow has a mind equal to that of Daniel Chamberlain. 1 wouldn't be surprised if his sense has not driven all the hair off of his head: it wouldn't supprise me the least bit. if such turns out to be the case. Mr. Editor, I would say to M. F .: try once more, if you don't succeed, try, try again. "Local Editor"

The Colossal Bronze Statue of Victory which stands in the Park, at Lowell, before the tomb of the first soldiers that fell in the revolution, is a lasting and beautiful tribute of art It is one of the first objects sought by strangers visiting our sister city, which indeed many visit purposely to see this elegant object of high art. It was obtained from the Fing of Bavaria by Dr. J. C. Ayer, to whom his Majesty was especially gracious in acknowledgment of what his remedies are reputed to have done for the suff ring sick. It was donated by the Doctor to the City of Lowell as a permanent and speaking emblem of the victories both of Science and Arms. - Hagerstown (Md.) Press.

NOTICE.

To the respectable citizens and lovers of ustice of Orangeburg, I take this method of denying the report circulated detrimen-tal to my caracter.

The charges are lies maliciously and wontonly circulated by ignorant and yindictive persons. I have in my possession un-questionable testimonies sufficiently convincing of proving m/ innocence of what these vampires would have me guilty.

To those who are too ignorant and un-principle after this statement to do me justice, I would respond by referring them to dis. M. K. Sullins at whose house I have been residing for the past six months.

The inventors of the effusions of ignorance and shameful lies have already in-
