ILLNESS AND DDATH OF MR. POLK. We find the following interesting details of the illness and death of Mr. Polk, in the Nashville True Whig of Tuesday last: James K. Polk, late President of this Republic, died in this, city, as we barely had time to announce in our last, at about 5 o'clock on Friday evening last, the 15th instant, after lingering for about two weeks. His disease was of a chronic na: ture, having been troubled with it more or less for twenty-seven years; probably ag-gravated by the cholera epidemic which has been raging in this city for some time

The Board of Trustees of the Bradford Springs Institute, having elected a Principal and two Assistant Teachers, to serve during past- He retained his consciousness, we learn, up almost to the moment of his dissolution. We saw him at a period when his physicians considered his case very critical. He happened to hear that we were going to Columbia, where his good old mother resides, and sent for us. Upon entering the room he asked us to take a seat by his bedside; he then proceeded in a very calm, deliberate manner, to say that the exhausted condition of his body was not alarming to him; that he felt satisfied that his earthly career was fast approaching an end; that he wished to send some word to his beloved mother, who was so unwell, as he understood, that it was probable she might not be able to come to see him; he spoke of her and other members of his family most affection tely; among other messages delivered in the same calm, resigned tone, he requested us to tell his mother, that, should they not be permitted to meet on earth again, that he had an abiding hope that, through Divine mercy, they would meet hereafter.

Early in his sickness, we understand, he connected himself with the Methodist Episcopal Church. A funeral sermon was delivered by the Rev. J. B. McFerrin, of that church, and his remains followed of citizens. He was interred with Masonic ceremonies, having been a member of that fraternity.

A Case for the Consideration of FANATICS .- A colored woman by the name of Ellody, who belongs to an estate entrusted to the management of Hugh Nelson, Esq., of Petersburg, Va., voluntarily returned to Richmond last week, in a vessel from Boston. The Richmond Times "This woman was formerly employed in the family of Mr. Thomas A Rust, of such accompanied Mr. R. and his family for Board. to the city of Boston, in September last. During the sojourn of Mr. Rust's family in that city, several gener-ous and philanthrophic 'friends of liberty' prevailed upon the woman to assert her right to liberty; and consenting, the case was brought before the proper tribunals. Mr. Rust was subject to some vexation and delay, and finally returned to this city with his family, leaving Ellody to the tender mercies of her newly acquired friends. She expressed contrition for her conduct, and having 'seen' the elephant' to her heart's content, has returned to this city, preferring to remain in servitude here, rather than enjoy liberty in Boston. It is understood, however, that Ellody, together with all the slaves left by her deceased and sent of the State."
