

POETRY.

Endymion. BY H. W. LONGFELLOW. The rising moon had hid the stars...

MISCELLANEOUS.

SCANDAL-MONGERS AND DIRTY.—Social reform must begin with soap. The philanthropist who devotes his life to the "dissemination of clean shirts..."

WOMEN AND MEN.—Women, and especially young women, either believe falsely or judge harshly of men in one thing. You young living creatures...

WHISPERING IN COMPANY.—This habit, so often indulged in by young ladies, in the presence of friends or strangers, savors strong of rudeness...

DANGER OF KNEELING TO LADIES.—One of the drollest occurrences in the annals of gallantry is related of Gibbon, the historian...

Why are ladies' dresses about the waist like a general meeting? Because there is a gathering there...

Setting Glass without Putty.—The method of setting glass without putty, recently invented, is as follows: The window sash is made of entirely of wood...

HABITS TO BE AVOIDED IN THE PERSENE OF OTHERS.—Scratching your head or picking your teeth. Cocking your chair back.

Raising your feet on a table or chair. Trotting your heels or knees. This is a nursery trick and jays any society.

"My young friend," said a minister to a boy at a camp meeting, "do you think of a future state?" "No, I never meddle with state affairs, the brother John is a politician."

An unkind word from one beloved, often draws blood from a heart, which would defy the battle-axe of hatred, and the keenest edge of vindictive satire.

Why does the blacksmith seem the most dissatisfied of all mechanics? Because he is continually striking for wages.

HEAR HIM.—The Boston Bee, a staunch and spicy whig journal, unfolds its views and defines its position as to Gen. Scott's nomination as follows:

A single lump of gold was received by the American Exchange Bank of New York, by the steamer Illinois, weighing 60 ounces and valued at $1,100.

There is an old toper in Maine who is making quite a fortune out of the anti-liquor law. He goes into New Hampshire, and gets tiddled, and when he comes back collects his neighbors twelve-and-a-half cents for smelling his breath.

So Carolina.—Sumter Dist. C. D. VAUGHAN, who is in the Custody of the Sheriff of Sumter District, by virtue of certain Writs of Capias ad Satisfaciendum, at the suit of Thomas McGee, having filed in my office...
