

Fire—Scene of Misery.
About twelve o'clock, Thursday night, a fire broke out in a small frame building in the rear of No. 37 Orange street, occasioned by one of the occupants setting fire to a straw bed. From the statement of Captain Brennan, of the Sixth Ward, it appears that the apartment in which the fire originated, was about twenty feet square, and was occupied—strange as it may seem, by over thirty men, women, and children; nearly all of whom were half-naked. One of these lodgers arose about midnight, and striking a match, set fire to a straw bed upon which he had been lying after which he seized his bundle and fled into the street. Another lodger, who happened to be awake, saw the operation of the incendiary, but before he could arise from his place, the man had escaped. He, however, aroused the others, who had barely time to escape before the bed was in a full blaze. Several pails of water were procured, and the flames extinguished before much damage occurred to the apartment. Policeman Riker, of the Sixth Ward, chanced to pass the building at the time, and observed a flash of light, and in a moment after, saw a man run out. Thinking something was wrong, he gave the alarm raps, which soon brought assistance to the spot.

The incendiary meantime had escaped, but was found in about two hours afterwards prowling about the Five Points.
On being apprehended he acknowledged setting fire to the bed, assigned no reason for doing so. He gave his name as John Crawley, and on being taken before the Magistrate yesterday morning was committed to prison for examination.

Captain Brennan says the apartment and its occupants presented a most miserable scene. There was nothing in the room save a number of straw beds, which lay side by side on the floor. The tenants were of the lowest class, the men and women being bloated with liquor and almost destitute of clothing to protect them from the cold. The room was filthy, almost beyond endurance, a fit place to engender a pestilence in warm weather.

INSURANCE.—The Pennsylvania Inquirer gives its readers the following sound advice:
"Are your houses insured? If not insure them. Is your stock in trade insured? If not, insure it. It is better to pay a few dollars premium than to regret a loss after fire has consumed your dwelling or your merchandise. If you are already insured, look to your policy, and repay the premium before the policy runs out. If your stock is not fully insured, have an additional amount covered under your policy. Are you living on a salary to support a wife and children? If so, have a few dollars from it, and have your life insured, and thus leave your loved ones something to live on after your death."

NEWSPAPERS AND THEIR PATRONS.—A great portion of the community suppose, says an exchange, that a newspaper can publish everything that occurs far and near, and this whether it refers to public or private matters. Indeed it has come to pass that matters of a purely private and personal nature, where a single individual is to be alone benefited, the custom prevails to trot off to some one or all of the newspapers, to obtain a "notice." If an individual has a notion in his head; if he imagines he has made a discovery or an invention; if he has constructed a machine, or received a package of goods; if he has become possessed of some novel toy; bought a calf with two heads or five legs, he expects any newspaper to open its columns at any length and enlighten the public on the same, simply because he "is a subscriber," or "buys the paper every day." If people want their private business or pleasure advertised, then let them put out their cash and pay for it; pay what all it is worth. It costs publishers money and a good deal of it, they pay "cash down for every thing they have and use—for labor, paper, &c.; and it is only from those whom they individually benefit that they can obtain the means to meet their outlay.

The Black Dress is doomed. An unkindness of His Imperial Highness, Napoleon III, has banished it from the saloons of Paris—and as Paris gives the vogue to all the world, we may soon see it disappear from this western hemisphere. Its successor is a blue velvet, single breasted, standing collar, steel buttons, braided and gilt. The old black was a very unpretending garment—and it would last indefinitely for parties, it was cheap—very cheap, compared with its more conspicuous successor. It has had a pretty long reign—surviving some half dozen French dynasties, and yet the Paris writers deplore its demise. They fear that the gentleman, in adopting the style of glaring colors and decorated dress, will eclipse the ladies, or force them to resort to ruinous extravagance to maintain their superiority.

CAUSE OF GRAY HAIRS.—Douglas Jerrold is a well-known wit, and often cracks a good joke with his literary and other friends in the social circle. At a private party in London, a lady—who, though in the autumn of life, had not lost all dreams of its spring—said to Jerrold: "I cannot imagine what makes my hair turn gray; I sometimes fancy it must be the essence of rosemary, with which my maid in the habit of brushing it. What do you think?" "I should rather be afraid, madam," replied the distinguished dramatist, dryly, "that it is the essence of time!" (The Illustrated London Chronicle.)

ALLIGATOR'S SKINS.—Mr. J. W. Benedict, of Galveston, has manufactured some of the most beautiful boots and shoes that we have ever seen with leather made of Alligator skins. The skins are tanned and prepared so that they resemble the finest calfskin in pliability, and are beautifully mottled like tortoise shell. He intends to send a pair of boots to the World's Fair at New York. He certainly merits a premium for changing the skins of these huge ugly monsters to forms of beauty and usefulness.—Houston (Texas) Telegraph 11th ult.

Between 1840 and 1850 Massachusetts constructed more than a thousand miles of rail road. Her property was thereby augmented, in value from $209,878,220 to $597,036,995, and her population increased from 737,690 to 994,271.
During the same period New York constructed nearly fifteen hundred miles of rail roads; and her property was augmented from $639,174,000 to 1,080,309,216; and her population increased from 2,428,921 to 3,090,022.

A few weeks since we published a problem in Arithmetic to this effect; use all the ten numerical characters, 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, but each one only, in such a manner, that added together they amount to 100. We have received several solutions to the problem, but we think they are scarcely correct, because the fractions are used. The New York Evening Post publishes the following solution by whole numbers:—
15 + 36 + 47 = 98 02—100.

CHANCELLOR DARGAN.—This able officer is now presiding in the sittings of the Court of Chancery for this Circuit. Learned without haughtiness, tardiness, kind and familiar without apparent anxiety, and enviable popularity.—Marion Star.

John Kennedy, now living near Columbus, Tennessee, has eighteen children—fully grown—seventy-four grand children, and fifty-one great grand children—in all one hundred and forty-three! There has not been a death in the family since 1806.

NORTH CAROLINA COPPER.—A company of Englishmen are now working successfully a copper mine in Cherokee county, N. C. The copper ore is said to be strongly impregnated with silver. The Ashville News states that a substance very much resembling, and believed by many to be the pure diamond, has been recently found in Buncombe county. It cuts glass and steel. The finder has "several pieces of large size."

SPECIAL NOTICES.
Another Scientific Wonder!
IMPORTANT TO DYSPETICS
Dr. J. S. Houghton's Pepsin, the true Digestive Fluid, or Gastric Juice, prepared from Rennet, or the Fourth Stomach of the Ox, after directions of Baron Liebig, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. Houghton, M. D., Philadelphia. This is truly a wonderful remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Constipation and Debility, curing after Nature's Own Method, by Nature's Own Agent, the Gastric Juice. Pamphlets, containing Scientific evidence of its value, furnished by agents, gratis. See notice among the medical advertisements. 8-1y.

Poisoning.
Thousands of parents who use Yermifuge, composed of Castor Oil, Calomel, &c., are not aware, that while they appear to benefit the patient, they are actually laying the foundation for a series of diseases, such as salivation, loss of sight, weakness of limbs, &c.

Hoofland's German Bitters.
Hundreds of our citizens complain of debility and languor of the system, derangement of the liver and stomach, want of appetite, &c.; they are frequently the result of too close application, and a thousand other causes we cannot here name; but we would say to all afflicted, do as we have done—get a bottle or two of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. Jackson, and our word for it you will be cured. We recommend this medicine, knowing from experience that it is much superior to the generality of patent medicines. We would say to our readers, purchased none unless prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. July 1

Dry Goods for Cash.
W. G. BANCROFT & CO.
253 KING STREET, Charleston, S. C.
We have in conformity with the spirit of the times adopted in our business the system of low Tariff and Cash Prices, and offer to the city and country retail and wholesale trade every variety of goods in our line—PRINTS, MUSLINS, SILKS, CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, DRESS GOODS—of all kinds—GLOVES, HOSIERY, &c. &c. We shall be constantly receiving the latest and most fashionable styles of goods, and it is our determination that our stock in point of Styles and Assortment shall be unsurpassed, and in cheapness of price unequalled by any in the city of Charleston. We have made this change in our system of business from our preference to the small but more certain return of the NIMBLE SIXPENCE, rather than that of the slow shilling, and in the belief that the public cannot fail to perceive the advantages it offers to purchasers. Our business will be conducted so as to ensure their entire confidence, and we appeal directly to their judgment. Through our connections in the various markets of Europe and of this country we possess the ability and the will to offer extraordinary inducements to the Consumer, the Planter, and the Merchant.
