MELANCHOLY AFFRAY. -On last Friday morning an affray occured near May binton, in this District, between Capt. John D. Sims and Thos. Purdee and wife, in which both Purdee and wife were killed. It appears that Purdee was Sims, overseer, and had been discharged from service the day previous, but refused to leave the premises or give possession of the keys which locked the corn crib and and other farm houses. Sims, by the advice of friends, attempted to put new dered one of his negroes to assist him. A dispute thereupon arose between Sims and Purdee, in which Purdee,s wife interfered with a pistol in her hand and was shot by Sims. Purdee, sent his son to the dwelling house for his gun, and as the son was about to hand it to him, Sims shot down Purkee. The two lingered about twenty-four hours and died of their wounds. Sims promptly delivered himself up and is now in charge of Sheriff Bonds. Unionville Jour al,

AN EXTRAORDINARY FREAK OF NA TURE!-Where is Barnum?-A man by the name of George W. Houston, living a short distance from this place, (Sparta,) has a cow which has brought forth a most uncommon calf. The calf is now two weeks old, living and likely to live. It has two distinctly formed mouths, four distinctly formed nostrils, two tongues, and four eyes; and will, I think, have four horus. In all other respects, it is formed as usual, and is a playful and very pretty calf. It eats very heartily with either mouth. Some three or four hundred persons have been to look at it, and all consider it a very great curiosity. Such a man as Barnum, could, I have no doubt, make a fortune by exhibiting this calf as a show. Mr. Houston, to whom it belongs, has no turn that way, and would sell it if he could get a fair price. He talks of exhibiting it at Caroline County Court, which takes place on the 2d Monday in June next. A. S. BROADDUS.

Sparta, Caroline, Va., May 3, 1853. Soule's FLIGHT FROM FRANCE.-In a late number of the Memoires of Dumas which have been publishing of late in the Paris Presse, a brief mention is made of the late circumstances to which we are indebted to Mr. Soule's emigration to and settlement in the United States. We translate the paragraph:

In the intimacy of Mery and Barthelemy [two distinguished French authors, lived at this time one of the Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. principal editors of a journal called the Yellow Dwarf (Nain Jaune.) This editor was named Soule. He had happened to bear a strong resemblance sight, weakness of limbs, &c. to Barthelemy, which permitted his it to him. Soule fled to London, and hundred thousand francs a year.

FEMALE TYPESETTERS .- The Boston Olive Branch, on which females are employed as compositors, says:-

'Our rooms are well carpeted, and the girls do not come in till 9 or 10 o'clock in the morning, retiring in good season, seldom making over seven or eight hours a day. Smart compositors can in that time earn from $6 to $8 a week. We have also one female clerk out of the three we emplay. Added to this, one desk has bos occupied by a female editor as Sur assistant, at a salary of $900 .-She has spent seven hours a day in rant him in saying, that all who give him a the office, for five days in the week .-We generally have in our office an organ and a piano forte, and have music at the meal hours, when the ladies feel like playing.'

INSPECTOR GENERAL OF THE ARMY. -The vacant post of Inspector General of the Army has, at length, been filled, by the appointment of Brevet Colonel J. K. G. Mansfield, of the Engineers. Colonel Mansfields was a graduate of West Point Academy, and was appointed a Brevet Second Lieutenant in 1822. A number of distinguished officers were applicants for the post. Among those whose claims were considered were, it is said, Col. Sumner, Major bliss, Col. Smith and Col. May. It is said that the President finally presented to the Cabinet the names of Mansfield and Smith, and that the Cabinet selected the form,

The following communication has been ust received from the Committee to make arrangements for holding an adjourned Commercial Convention at Memphis, Tennessee, on the first Monday in June next: MEMPHIS, Feb. 13, 1853.

The Commercial Convention recently held in the city of Baltimore, having adjourned to meet in Memphis on the 1st Monday in June next, the undersigned have been authorized to make all needful arrangements, that the same may pass off usefully and pleasantly. The various important subjects discussed at Baltimore, will doubtless be renewop and examined with increased interest with a view to practical results. We have been commissioned by our fellow citizens to invite you to be present on the interesting occasion, and participate in its deliberations. In discharge of the duties assigned us, we have likewise to request that your Excellency will immediately nominate a numerous delegation of your most prominent citizens, to represent your State in the adjourned Convention, and that you have the names of those delegates published.

We take this occasion to tender to you and the delegation from your State who may visit us, a cordial welcome and the nospitalities of our city.

We have the honor to be, with great respect, your obedient servants. E. M. Yerger, James H. Obey, F. P. Stanton, W. A. Booth, A. Wright. J. T. Trezevant, J. P. Cauthens, H.C. Walker, D. M. MARRIAGE, Happiness and Competence.

WHE IS IT I That we behold many females, scarce in the mercian of life broken in health and spirits with a commercial of discass and silpents, depriving them of the power for the super ment of life at an use when physical health, brown sty of spirits, and happy screnity of mind, arising from a cea-dition of health, should be predominant. Many of the causer of her safferings at first-senimy years before, perhaps during gielhood, or the first years of unarriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unastless, and of course neglected.

IN APTER YEARS,

When too lete to be benefitted by our knowledge, we less back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our then and mount of the give to possess, in early life.
What would we not often give to possess, in early life.
It is not seen to be a selected in eller years! And what days and nights of magnith we might not have been source, in the knowledge wes timply possessed. It is
