To Our Patrons.

We would announce to our patrons that Mr. R. C. LOGAN, the former foreman of our office, has again been engaged to take charge of and conduct the business of the office. Mr. Logan. for some time past, has not been connected with the Banner, having refused to remain in the office while it was under the management of CHARLES N. Holcomb, the Northern scoundrel, who lately palmed himself off upon us and then absconded with several small sums which had been thoughtlessly paid, by some of our patrons, into his hands.

We make this announcement as a guarantee to subscribers, that the paper, which we learn from numerous sources, has been very irregularly received by many, during his (Holcomb's) foremanship, will hereafter be conducted in a more satisfactory manner by our former foreman, from whom we were always sorry to have parted.

Regretted Death.

A gloom has been thrown over our community by the death of one, who had, by her manifold estimable quali ties, endeared herself, in a remarkable manner, to a numerous circle of relatives and friends. Mrs. Susan Haynsco-editor is no more. After a painful revenue, liable for the loss of such over his large plantation, and it was with illness of eight weeks, she calmly and letters or packets, or the contents great difficulty that his dwelling was saved it into the hands of God.

This is truly a sad event, when we think of the bereaved, and especially of him to whom she was endeared by a thousand tender ties. Though young in years, the had early "chosen that good part which could not be taken from her "

"Is that a death-bed where a Christain lies Yes, but not his; 'tis Death itself that dies.' If the sympathy of friends could avail any thing in a great affliction like this, we feel confident that, they were never, in any case, more heartily rendered.

The biot. We learn from our city exchanges that, on the 8th inst., the Irishmen engaged at work on the Northeastern Railroad, near Char eston, positively refused to work or to let a body of Germans proceed in their work unless their wages were raised. A riot en sued and the city authorities were called upon to enterfere, and were themselves resisted by the Irishmen until a dispatch was sent to the Govenor and the military ordered out, who succeeded in quelling the fuss, and arresting some twenty four out of the thirty two proceeded against. The others had made off with themselves. The Courier in commenting upon the affair says :

" With the question of wages between these men and the Railroad contractors, we have nothing to do .-If they were dissatisfied, they had a night to complain, and to leave their work. But they proceeded to force other parties to quit their work, and finally defied, insulted and threatened the lawful authorties. It was this last act, and this alone, which justified and enforced the employment of the military, and which threatened to be a precedent of violence and defiance of law, which gave it importance.

We know of riots here almost nothing, and this one has naturally excited great feeling."

'This is the first and we hope it may be the last instance of the kind in

be obeyed, we can not refrain from hoping too that the Railroad authorities will not go unwhipped of that sensure which they deserve for introducing such laborers into our country. We endorse the Times in saying "They are not needed here. We have plenty of labor of our own, which can be easily controlled, without resort to the military of the State. It is only necessary to command, and our slaves cheerfully and promptly obey the command."

We rejoice to see industrious white mechanics coming among us, come whence they may. They should be welcomed and honored. They constitute not a little of the strength of be found. But as regards mere day laborers, the place of such in the Southern States is best filled with African slaves.

THE NEW POSTAGE BILL.-The new post office bill passed by Congress requires everything to be pre-paid after the 1st of July next; the postage to California is to be ten cents instead of six.

The rates on single letters for any distance, not exceeding three thousand miles, three cents; and for any distance exceeding three the usand miles, ten cents. For a double letter the charge is to be double, for a treble letter, treble, and for a quadruple let ter, quadruple these rates.

And from and after January 1, 1856, the Postmaster General may require postmasters to place postage stamps upon all pre-paid letters upon which such stamps may not have been placed by the writers. All dropletters, or letters placed in any post office not for transmission through the mail, but for delivery only, are to be charged with postage at the rate of one cent each; and all letters which are hereafter advertised as remaining over, or uncalled for, in any post office, are to be charged with one cent each, in addition to the regular postage, both to be accounted for as other postages now are.

The Postmaster General is authorsed to establish a uniform plan for the registration of such letters on application of the parties posting the same, to require the pre-payment of the postage as well as registration fee of five cents on every such letter or Doings of the Last Congress -The great work of the first session of the Thirty-third Congress was the passage of the Nebraska Kansas bills. the second session's not distinguished by any measure of equal import and interest.

Beyond the large appropriation made at the close of the session, for one purpose or other, and considerable legislation for the Territories, only a few acts of general interest were passed. Among the latter, are the Bounty Land Bill; the Consular and Diplomatic Reform Bill-a very imperfect reform indeed; the Court of Claims Bill; the Bill for the Re-organization of the Navy, and the Naval Discipline Bill; the Ship Passengers Bill, providing better treatment and accommodation for emigrant passengers; the Bill for the better protection of life and property from vessels ship wrecked on our coasts; the Portification Bill; the Bill for the Construction of a Line of Telegraph from the Missuori river to the Pacific ocean, an the Postage Bill, fixing the postage for any distance (not across the ocean) less than three thousand miles at three cents, and over that distance at ten cents; also providing for a registry of money letters, and obliging the prepayment of all letters by stamps after December next.

THE BRITISH BEFORE SEBASTOPOL. A letter from Paris dated January the 18th says: "The English, who are horribly decimated, cannot any longer defend their works; they have not been able even to finish the construc tion of the batteries on the right of their attack. The care of occupying these positions, of fortifying, of arm: ing, and of defending them, has been confided to us, the French."

Another French letter of the 20th January says: " Since yesterday we have taken all the posts of the English."

The Late Fire.

From every quarter of our District is coming in the news of '" fire! fire!" while rom all the adjoining Districts the sound s echoed and re-echoed.

On Friday last, the information of "fire n the woods" first reached us, when it was discovered that it was rapidly extendng itself towards our village from the North. For a time it was thought that the village was in considerable danger, owing to the high wind, which blew a perfect gale from that direction, but through the exertions of a number of citizens, who went out, the danger was averted from us. The fire spread rapidly, however, far and wide throughout the country, destroying a great deal of property and doing a great dear of injury to our farmers. A great many of them have any community in which they are to lost more or less of their fencing, some their barns and stables and in a few instances their dwelling houses.

Mr. G. W. BRADFORD, we are sorry to learn, had some to enty head of sheep burnt to death in a thicket in where they had taken refuge.

St. Paul's Church, situated in the lower part of the District, we hear is burnt to the ground, The fire has been every where. Up to this date, 13th, the whole country has been enveloped in a perfect cloud of smoke, since Saturday morning.

We are told the injury done to Darlington, Marion and Williamsburg Districts is immense. The whole country in South and North Carolina along the line of the W. & M. Rail Road has been on fire.

We subjoin a few extracts from our exchanges in the upper and lower parts of the State, to show its general extent, and also a few from exchanges out of the State, from which it will be seen that South Carolina has not been the only sufferer. The Charleston Mercury says :

" A fire started in the woods, about 15 niles from the city, night before last, and spread with great rapidity along the line of the Railroad, till at our latest informa tion last evening, it had reached the Five Mile Post. The fire was exceedingly violent and destructive, and has done great injury to the farms on its route. A train, aded with Cotton taken in at Kingsville, caught fire yesterday from the current of burning flakes, and two cars, containing eighty bales, were burned.

The Columbia South Carolinian of March 10th contains the following:

"There are tremendous fires in the voods all around us. Near Lexington, Houses, Mills, Fences and a vast amount of property has been destroyed. At the last accounts, the town of Lexington was threatened with destruction.

On the Charlotte Railroad the woods for many miles is on fire, and many Saw Mills and Dwellings burned. The track of the Road is on fire, interrupting travel on the Camden Branch Railroad, A number of Houses and many telegraphic posts have been burned, thus interrupting communion with the North.

The Barnwell-Sentinel of the same date says: "We regret to learn that a fire broke compulsory, and it shall not render out yesterday about 11 o'clock, A. M. on WORTH, the consort of our esteemed the Post office Department, or its the plantation of Mr. Wood, near this from the devouring flames. In its rapid flight, it reached the plantation of Hon. J. Duncan Allen, and his residence, together with his magnificent furniture, was entire ly destroyed. He also lost a solendic carriage and a large quantity of provisions. seldom that we are called upon to record such fearful destruction.

Fixe in the Woods.—We learn from passengers arrived last evening by the Georgia Railroad that a little distance above Thompson, the woods were on fire and that a considerable quantity of wood along the, road, and much fencing was destroyed .- Augusta Constitutional ist of Saturday.

FIRE IN THE WOODS .- For several days fires have been raying extensively through the Pine Land between this City and Macon, and ou City has been unusually filled with smoke. We learn that the greatest caution, is necessary on the Central Railroad to preserve the track. O vesterday the fire was so high near Ma con, that the downward Cotton Trains could not risk the passage, and the Au. rusta Cotton Trains also were detained at Millen in consequence of the quantity of fire in the vicinity of Paromaries, Hall, No damage whatever has been, as yet, sustained, and we trust that all danger on this account will soon pass away. The country generally never required rain more than at the present time. The pas senger trains have all passed regularly through,-Sacannah Courier

TERRIBLE TRAGEOV IN MISSOURI.-The St. Louis Democrat of the 22d ult., says it has been communicated by a gentleman living in Lexington, Missouri, that two rish pediars, named John Kanchan and James Carrigan, left that city about two weeks ago, carrying with them two large and valuable packs, containing dry goods and jewelry. They travelled about 45 miles to the town of Warrenburg, Johnson county, where they conduded to stop for the night. Feeling very much fatigued, one of them, Kanchan, immediately retired to rest. About an hour afterwards, Carrigan went to the pedroom of his companion, and was surprised at not finding him. However, he finally concluded to lie down.

As soon as he touched the bed he ound it was wet. He lit a candle, and discovered the bed was covered blood, and upon looking under it, discovered the body of his companion. While looking at the body he heard footsteps on the stairs. He extinguished the candle drew his bowie knife, and stationed himself behind the door. In a few moments three men entered, one having a candle and a bloody axe in his hands, and the others clubs. He sprang upon them suddenly, and, before they could recover from their surprise, succeeded in killing all three of them. He then went to a magistrete's of lice, made his statement, was tried, and acquitted.

An ordinance has been presented to the Common Council of Albany, by the Mayor of that city, imposing a fine of $25 upon every person using comphene in any house, store or shop.

THE LATE INDIAN MASSACRE ON THE ARMANSAS.-The terrible massacre by In lians at the Pueblo on the Arkansas, in New Mexico, has already been briefly mentioned. It occurred on last Christ. mas day, and the murderers were Utah and Apache Indians, about one hundred in number. The Sante Fe Gazette says:

They went up to the Pueblo, and pr essed much friendship for the inhabitants. and asked them to make a tole for them. which they did. The people, suspecting no harm, received the Indians kindly, and minuled freely with them, when the latter without the least warning, surrounded and massacred them, Fourteen men were killed and two wounded, who were left for dead, and three women and two children were made captives. One man fortunate. The Kosciusko (Viss.) Sun of the 17th ult., has the following: A report has reached Kosciusko that Dr. Woodward the willage. The Indians then rode away, taking all the stock, some two hundred head. All the women of the village, ex. reached Kosciusko that Dr. Woodward, cept the three captured, were at the St. er his opponent Major Aquilla R. who formerly preached at this place, was | Charles, attending a Christmas party | Johnson.

The same Indians returned the next day and killed one man and wounder another, opposite the mouth of the St. Charles, and within half a mile of the Fort; and that night they run off near one hundred head of animals belonging to the Fort. Mr. Atwood was at the St. Charles on his way from Salt Lake City to Taos, when the massacre took place, and half cated member became indignant, and an hour afterwards was at the Pueblo. He describes the scene as heart rending in the while the trial was in progress, he rushed extreme. The victims were lying as they fell, stripped, and the warm blood wa still running from their wounds. The two wounded men he met on the road, crawling towards the Fort, one died on the road, but the other reached there, and was slive when Mr. Atwood left.

For the Sumter Banner. The Riot.

Messrs. Editors: You have seen in the papers, some accounts of a riot which took place on the North Eastern Rail Road. 1 has peried to be present, in Columbia at the time application was ma e to Governor Adams for an exercise of his authority in quelling this petty rebellion. It seems that some German laborers had landed in Charleston, and the Irish, who were already on the Nort Eastern Road, showed some violent manifestations towards their newly arrived rivals for work. The Irish were prevented from any violence at the time, but merely desisted for the time declaring what they would do when they go their rivals on the road. Accordingly to prevent the Germans, by artifice, from taking part in the work which they wished to monopolize, they pretended to strike for wages, forming their for ces upon a line of the rail road refusing to work themselves or to allow any one else to do so. In this state of alfairs the Attorney General, Col. Isaac W. Hayne, issued a warrant for the most unruly of those whose names he could get; and sent, with the Sheriff. an Irish and a German Constable, and also a Catholic priest, with the hope that they might be informed as to the consequences of their conduct and vield to the authority of law. But the rebellionists refused to be arrested. At that that stage of the disorderly conduct, Col. Hayne, who had left Charleston in the meanwhile, was telegraphed to, that he might present e matter to the Governor. He did so; and the Gover for very promptly despatched orders to Maj. General Schnierle to call out one Company of Riflemen, one of Dragoons, and, if necessary, a Company of Infantry and Flying Artilery. From the newspa-per rep rts I see that twenty-four of the rioters were arrested.

I am very sorry to see manifesta-tions of this kind, upon the part of the lawless multitude, in South Carolina; and very happy to see a prompt disposition to quell such outrages. If the aws of South Carolina are not sufficient to redress the wrongs of those who seek citizenship with us, it were far better they should seek protection elsewhere than that they should take their cause into their own hands, to the disturbances of the public peace a d

THE REV. ORVILLE DEWEY, D. D. This distinguished divine, we see by the Charleston papers, was to have commenced a course of lectures on The problem of human life and des tiny" in Charleston on Monday last.

Dr. Dewey is one of the most distinguished div nes in America and his lectures have been looked forward to with much interest and pleasure. Ar exchange speaking of him says:

He seems to acquire new powers at every step of his progress in the discussion of his theme, which may be said to be the world at large; the whole creation, animate and inanimate; and the great purpose of the discussion thus far, has evidently been to "vindicate the ways of God to man."

In the means which he has take i to accomplish this purpose, we scarcely know w other most to admire the variety of his learning, the rich influence of his ideas, the beautiful simplicity of his expressions, the deep pathos of his tones, the fervor of his piety, or the vigor and comprehension of his mind. Every succeeding lecture displays more and more his originality of thought, his profound acquaintance with nature, his familiarity with science in its most comprehensive sense, and, above all, a heart that seems to yearn for the happiness of his fellow man. He shows, as far as voice and gesture can show, that he himsel feels the truths that he desires to impress upon others; and without this essential characteristic, no man, let his qualifications in other respects be what they may, can never hope to be a persuasive orator, for without the power of persuasion, of what avail are well turned sentences, brilliant phrases or logical precision! In this particular we have heard no orator, of Church or State, at all comparable to Dewey. We purposely avoid saying any thing of the inference to be drawn from hi theory of evil as it exists in the world. Those whose mode of faith differ from him may sately listen to all that is beautiful and true in the display of his splendid intellect, and yet hear nothing offensive to their creed. We did not take up our pen to controvert a reli gious dogma, but to pay the tribute of our homage to genius, learning, and

KNOW NOTHINGS IN COURT.-At the ommencement of the trial of Arthur McMahon for the murder of his wife, n Troy, N. Y., some curious proceed. ngs were had on empa in lling the ury. The Troy Budget of the 24th ult, says: The prisoner being a Cath. olic Irishman, his counsel thought it advisable to question the jurors called in relation to their feeling towards for. eigners, and their connection with the Know Nothing organization. With-out a formal decision that persons belong ng to that outh ound secret organization are, from that connection merely, incompetent to sit as jurors in a case between the people and a Catholic foreigner, the course pursued by he Court, counsel and triers in the making of this pannel, appeared to be in effect equivalent to a recognition of that principle. Mr. Townsend, for the pre-cention, n answer to the objection raised by Mr. Beach, did of co cede that the bligations of the society would ne. ces wily prevent a member, as a juror, from returning a just and f ir verdict, in a case like the present; et, to a certa n extent be acquiesced the views expressed by Mr. Beach who regarded the tendency of that connection as dangerous, liable to defeat the ends of justice, and one that should be carefully guarded against, in cases especially whire the life or liberty of a Catholic foreigner is involved.

MORE BLOODSHED IN JACKSON .-The Jackson (Miss.) Mercury of the 20th ult., says:

"Our community was shocked by the occurrence of another terrible trag-edy on Saturday evening. Mr. J. F. Irish stabbed Mr. Henry Hipple with a bowie knife, causing his almost instant death. The parties were brothers in law, and long residents here.-We forbear from any publication of the circumstances. An examination will be had before the Magistrate this morning at 10 o'clock."

Mr. Hipple, we believe, was a member of the First Mississippi Regiment in the Mexican war. This is the fourth citizen of Jackson killed within three months back NEURALGIA.—This formidable disease, which seems to baffle the skill of physicians, yields like magic to Carter's Spanish Mixture.

Mixture.

Mr. F. Boyden, formerly of the Astor House,
Mr. F. Boyden, formerly of the Astor House,
New York, and late proprietor of the Exchange Hetel, Richmond, Va., is one of the hundreds who have been cured of severe Neuralgis, by Carter's Spanish Mixture.
Since his cure, he has recommended it to numbers of others, who were suffering with nearly every form of disease, with the most wonderful success.

He says it is the most extraordinary medicine
he has ever seen used, and the best blood puri

Among diseases, dyspepsia and liver com-plaint rank as most difficult to cure. We are pleased to have it in our power to point out a remedy which has proved effectual in many cases, and which we can safely recommend as a certain and infallible cure; it has been the means of rescuing thousands from an unusuely means of rescuing thousands from an untimely grave. We mean the Hoofland's German Baters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, at the German Medicine Stere, 120 Arch Street Philadelphia. For Sale by MILLER & BRITTON.
