The Kansas Election.
The great problem, whether Kansas is to be a free or a slave State, has been partially solved by the election which came off in the Territory

Even in those districts which have regarded as the stronghold, peculiarly, of anti-slavery sentiment, and the rendezvous exclusively of anti-slavery settlers—even in these, the free soil candidates have been left in an emphatic and hopeless minority.

With these figures before us, we cannot think that the emigrants from the North have been true to the pledges under which they were supposed to have come out. Indeed, the opposite party in Kansas boast of having, with unlooked for readiness, converted scores of Northern emigrants, and induced them to vote the pro-slavery ticket. And the results show that the boast is not without ground.

We think that on the 31st of March there were in Kansas more settlers from the Northern States than from the Southern. But it seems that all the Northern emigrants were not freesoilers, while all the Southern settlers were pro-slavery men. The candidates of the latter were undoubtedly the better canvassers and more experienced electioneers, but even this will not account for the great disparity perceptible in the vote between the two parties, and we are forced to believe that the free-soilers are responsible for their own defeat. Large numbers of them voted for the very men they were sent out to vote against, and if the result is distasteful to those in the North who desired to make Kansas a free State, let them make of it what they can. There was no bullying, no trickery, no underhand means, used by either party that we have heard of—no excitement or fighting.
Everything passed off quietly, and the result is as we have stated.—St. Louis Intelligencer.

RECIPE TO PREVENT MOLES, CUT WORMS AND BIRDS FROM DESTROYING SEED CORN.—Mr. John G. Turpin, of Clover Dale, near Petersburg, furnishes at our request the following recipe, which we feel no hesitation in recommending, particularly as Mr. Turpin says, that with him and those who use this compound the trouble is to thin the crop, and not to replant it, which is never necessary.

To each bushel of seed corn add one gallon of coal or gas tar; stir in the corn until it is well coated and saturated; then take three parts of wood ashes and one of fine salt—unleached ashes are best—mix them thoroughly, and roll the tarred corn in it, until each grain is well coated. Prepare no more at a time than can be planted in a day.

A GOOD REASON.—"Why are you forever humming that air?" asked Etoote of a man without a sense of time in him. "Because it haunts me."
"Who haunts you?" "The footstep of a forever murdering it."

An editor out West says, that he hoped to be able to present a marriage and a death, as original matter for his columns; but a thaw broke up the wedding, and the doctor fell sick, so the patient recovered.
