Regulations for Draft Taking Definite Form

Washington, June 23.—Regulations for drafting the new National army, now awaiting President Wilson's approval, containing provision for every step in the great undertaking, except the actual method of the draft itself.
No official announcement has been made, and official confirmation is being withheld, but it has been stated, and generally is accepted here as true, that the federal government itself will do the drafting, probably in Washington, so there will be no opportunity for local favoritism, political or otherwise.
As the regulations stand now, every registered man bears a number. The numbers will be forwarded to Washington and the drawing will be entirely by number. The identity of the numbered men will be entirely unknown to those in charge of the draft machinery and can be established only by comparing the number with a printed list in the man's home district.
As the numbers are drawn, they will be telegraphed to the home districts, where the registered men will learn if they have been drafted.
Then the question of exemptions will come up, and this will go before the local boards. If a man is exempted, the man bearing the number the number which was drawn next in order take his place and so on.
In this way all those available for service out of the 10,000,000 who registered will be made ready for the country's call and from them the first increment of 535,000 will be assembled. The others will be called as the need develops. Plenty of time will be given for drafted men to arrange their personal affairs and report to the cantonment camps. It is hoped to have them all in training by September 1 or very soon thereafter.

Slater was absorbed in the evening news when his young son's crying disturbed him. "What is that child howling for now?" he demanded irascibly. "He wants his own way," said Mrs. Slater.
"Well," argued Slater absently, as his eye fell on a particularly interesting item, "if it's his, why don't you let him have it?"

Why a Healthy Dog's Nose is Cold

When your faithful dog pokes his nose into your hand, even your affection cannot prevent a little shiver, because the nose is usually so cold. Why is it? When the body of a dog is so warm, why should this one spot be different from all the rest of him?
According to the old fable, when Noah tried to get all the animals into the Ark some of them were troublesome and he had to get a dog to help him drive them in. Because of this, the dog was the last to enter the Ark. There was no room left, so he had to stand in the doorway with his nose outside in the wet and it has never been warm since.
Science gives quiet another explanation of the matter. The coldness of a dog's nose is, it says, due to the fact that it must be kept moist all the time in order to sharpen his sense of smell. And, of course, as the moisture is evaporating all the time it keeps his nose cold.

"Now, my son," said the conscientious father, "tell me why I punished you."
"That's it," blubbered the boy indignantly. "First you pounded the life out of me, and now you don't know what you done it for."

"Father," said the minister's son, "my teacher says that 'collect and congregate' mean the same thing. Do they?"
"Perhaps they do, my son," said the clergyman; "but you may tell your teacher that there is a vast difference between a congregation and collection."

Financing The Farmer

The farmer's business often needs a little extra financial backing if it is to grow and prosper. That is one reason why he should have strong and willing bank behind him.

It is an important function of this bank to give temporary assistance to the farmers who seek it of us, and who have demonstrated their ability to repay obligations when due.

The best way to have a credit here is to carry an account with us, and we cordially invite not only the farmer but every one who wants to gain ground financially to do so.
