Birthday Celebration.

Mr. J. D. Watts celebrated his sixty-first birthday at his home Sunday, October 8. His children and many others of his kindred enjoyed the day.

The spread of good things was bountiful and songs and music contributed to the gladness of the occasion.

Mr. Lem Robbins was heard to say that he did not care for any change in the program as it just suited him.

A Texas Item

We have a card from our friend on the border, Mr. S. M. Funderburk, dated Sept. 23. We intended noting the item last week but in the rush overlooked it.

"Please say to friends that I have just gotten out of the hospital, where I had the plates, screws, bands and hinges removed from my thigh bone, which were put there three years ago when it was broken all to pieces, but had begun to give me trouble as they were foreign to my body."

Demonstration Meeting

Thursday Oct. 12, about 3 o'clock a packing demonstration meeting will be held in Pageland, Mr. W. J. Tiller and an expert from Clemson College will be present and the meeting will be held at one of the potato patches in town. Everybody invited to attend and all who are growing potatoes for the winter are urged to be present. The purpose of this meeting is to show in practical manner the best way to pack potatoes for the winter.
