SHOT BY WOMAN.

A Russian Lieutenant General Assassinated by a Woman.

EVENT CASTS GLOOM

Over the City of St. Petersburg. Count Witte's Faith in the Thinking Classes and Hopes of Carrying Out Liberties Promised by the Czar are Fading.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Telegraph in a dispatch dated December 5, sent by way of E. dtukhnen, East Prussia, says: "Lieut. Gen. Sakharoff, former minister of war, was assassinated today.

The government had deputed Gen. Sakharoff to visit the province of Saratoff for the purpose of quelling the agrarian riots there.

"A woman belonging to the so-called 'flying columns' of the revolutionary movement called at the house of the governor of Saratoff at noon today and asked to see General Sakharoff.

"She fired three revolver shots at the general killing him on the spot."

The tidings reached St. Petersburg Wednesday night. Count Witte charged Lieut. Gen. Rudiger, minister of war, with the task of breaking the news to Mme. Sakharoff.

"The event has caused a profound impression in St. Petersburg, owing to fears that the revolutionists here will follow the example thus set.

"The spectre of a military dictatorship, which has been looming on the horizon, is slowly gaining consistency and sharpness of outline.

"I am personally convinced that Count Witte's faith in the good sense and political tact of the Russian thinking classes, which recently was as firm as a rock, is gradually weakening, and with it his hopes for the carrying out of the liberties promised in the emperor's manifesto."

The Tagblatt's St. Petersburg correspondent in a dispatch sent by way of Eydtkuhnen December 6, says:

"The situation is visibly growing worse. The critical moment for Count Witte is coming when the liberal elements will demand his resignation. A resolution by the agriculturists at Moscow demanding the immediate dismissal of the present cabinet denotes the beginning of the movement away from Count Witte and signals indicate that this movement will gain in intensity soon."

The troops here have received secret orders to be ready to cope with anticipated anti-Jewish demonstrations.

The correspondent of The Times at St. Petersburg says: "I am informed on excellent authority that a revolt of the St. Petersburg garrison is certain to occur."

"The newspapers print harrowing details of the whippings by order of Gen. Sakharoff of the peasants whom he was sent to pacify."

WHY HE WAS KILLED.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says news of the assassination of Lieut. Gen. Sakharoff, former minister of war, who was shot in the Governor's palace at Saratoff, on December 5, had been preceded by the most horrible stories about how Sakharoff had been repressing the agrarian disorders. He corralled peasants with Cossack and then had them beaten with soldier's whips.

The assassin of Sakharoff has not been identified. When arrested the woman who committed the crime declared that she had executed the decree of the terrorists' section of the social revolutionists.

Following is a description of Sakharoff's arrival at Hovooan-china, a village of the province of Harzeff: "He came with Cossacks and artillery. The peasants were surrounded by Cossacks and Sakharoff addressed them demanding that they surrender their leaders. The village elder replied, but gave the general no information. The elder was immediately beaten until he lost consciousness.

"Sakharoff retired to the court house, leaving the peasants at the mercy of the Cossacks, most of whom were drunk, and they began torturing the peasants pulling out their hair and beard and even tearing pieces of flesh from their faces. Thirty-three peasants were thus maltreated."

SOME PLAIN TALK

By Col. R. B. Watson in the Baptist State Convention.

Col. R. B. Watson, of Ridge Spring, orator candidate for governor, stirred up the Baptist convention in Columbia one day last week in a ringing speech against the "intemperate advocacy of temperance," taking occasion in the course of his remarks to score the hypocrisy of preachers and others. He was speaking to the report of the temperance committee's report, a motion having been put to publish the report. He declared in a voice trembling with emotion that we are not ready to enforce prohibition in this state until as a church the members and deacons are prohibited from drinking. He told of seeing two men who had been moderators of associations and two deacons or more, take drinks with young men.

"If you don't dare to enforce temperance in your churches" he declared "how can you expect to enforce it in the state. Go home and educate your people along temperance lines before you talk about disfranchising people who drink or sell whiskey."

Col. Watson added that he had incorporated in the deeds to lots he sold at his home that the owner would forfeit his title if he sold whiskey on the premises.

Half a dozen members of the conference replied to Col. Watson with more or less heat.

Col. Watson explained that he did not favor the dispensary except as the most practical way of handling the matter at present. He was a temperance man.

The report of the Woman's Missionary Union, read by the Rev. C. E. Butts, was very interesting. The society raised during the year $13,388 which is $2,421 more than it raised last year. There are nine women missionaries in the state supported by the union, a situation that has no parallel in the south. The Rev. Dr. C. C. Brown "had a kick coming" against the inconsistency of the conference. He complained that though the conference forbid women preaching to men that here they were going out to the Indians and preaching to them.

STEAMER GOES ASHORE

And Many of Those Aboard of Her Were Drowned.

Thirteen lives were lost in the wreck of the steamer Lunenburg, which went ashore Wednesday off Amberst harbor Magdalen Islands. A dispatch to that effect was received at Halifax from Meat Cove, near the scene of the wreck, by Leslie, Hart and Son, owners of the steamer.

The steamer had a crew of seventeen and probably carried several passengers, including Mr. Leslie, a member of the Canadian parliament and a member of the firm which owns the vessel.

When the steamer struck there were seventeen persons on board, including a crew of sixteen and Mr. Leslie. The dead:

- R. J. Leslie, Halifax.
- H. Meersard, steward of the Lunenburg.
- R. M. McDonald, chief engineer.
- J. Jose, cook.
- B. Hall, cabin boy.
- J. M. Connell, sailor.
- E. V. D'Arcette, sailor.
- Lophin Vinouet, sailor.
- Joseph Bourgeois, sailor.
- A sailor, whose name was not learned.

The Lunenburg had been running between Plotou and the Magdalen Islands since last spring. During a high gale Tuesday, which was accompanied by blinding snow flurries, it is thought that the steamer went out of her course in trying to make Amberst harbor and brought up on the rocks that lie some distance off shore in that vicinity. The steamer evidently had been ashore for some time before she was seen. Efforts were made to communicate with her, but the strong currents that spent around that point and the high seas made it impossible to launch a boat. Later the weather moderated and five of the crew came ashore, the twelve others standing by the ship. Later they attempted to reach shore as the vessels showed signs of breaking up, and all were lost except Captain Pride.

Called Out and Murdered.

J. M. Harrison, a prosperous farmer near Carlo Ga. was called to his gate Wednesday about dusk and shot twice in the breast with a shot gun loaded with buck-shot and killed instantly. The murderer up to the present time has not been apprehended. Sheriff Patterson was summoned and went to the scene of the tragedy but was unable to find any clue to the person who did the shooting.

Caught in the Act.

Attempts made last Friday, Saturday and Sunday and Monday nights to wreck passenger trains on the Georgia Southern railroad at Heartsville Pk., resulted in a watch being set. This resulted in the arrest Wednesday of Will Barn, a negro who was caught in the act of laying a rail across the track. A reward of $250 has been offered for the arrest.

RACE SUICIDE IDEA

Possesses the Country, but the South Still Loves Children.

In its November issue the National Geographical Magazine presents some interesting facts, computed from the census, respecting the proportion of children of the United States. The official data show that there has been a steady decline in the relative number of children during the past hundred years. At the beginning of the last century the children under ten years of age numbered one third of the population; at the end of the century they numbered less than one fourth. While the decrease was constant, it was at varying rates during successive decades.

This is held to be itself conclusive of a declining birth rate, as the decrease of the number of children in proportion to population might be accounted for by an increase in the average duration of life and the large influx of adult immigrants without children. However it was deemed a fair test to calculate the proportionate number of children in the country 5 years old to each 1,000 women between the ages of fifteen and forty nine, the period of potential motherhood. Applying this test it is found that the number of children per 1,000 women in 1860 (the first year for which such data were available) was 634. In 1900 the proportion other words the number of children to potential mothers in 1860 was only about three fourths as much as in 1860.

This is held to show the persistent decline in birth rate during the forty years. The greatest decline has been in the north and west. Table shows that in New England and New York the birth rate per year in forty years has been less than 400 children to 1,000 women and in the middle states the rate has not gone above 500 per 1,000. In the Southern states however, the rate has averaged between 600 and 700 per 1,000 during the period under consideration. The zone of greatest fecundity seems to have been in North Carolina and extended through the south the New Mexico, with the single exception of Florida. Louisiana showed a decline in the rate according to the latest census.

The decline is not confined to any single race, but is shared by all the races, and was heaviest during the decades of greatest immigration. That the dropping off in the south was not as great as in the north is believed to be accounted for by the fact that the south has received less immigration than the other sections. In the last twenty years it appears, the decrease in the birth rate of negro children has been especially rapid. Without exception the proportion of children to population is greater in the country districts than in the cities. In the North Atlantic country districts, however, the proportion is almost as great in the cities as in the country, while in the South Atlantic division there are about twice as many children, in proportion, in the country as in the cities.

Tragedy in City of Mexico

A dispatch from the City of Mexico gives further details of the accident in which James Russell Parsons, United States consul general, lost his life Wednesday night. The open carriage in which he was driving with Mrs. Parsons and their son was struck by an electric car. Mrs. Parsons was slightly injured. The boy escaped without a scratch. The accident happened while Mr. Parsons and his family were going to the central station to bid farewell to friends. The coachman tried to cross the street car track in front of a rapidly moving car which struck the carriage with terrific force, crushing it against a trolley post. Mr. Parsons' head struck the post, the whole top of his head being taken off. The motorman and driver of the coach disappeared after the accident and have not yet been arrested.

Clash in Cherokee.

Saturday afternoon as Backshury United States Commissioner Tresscott and Deputy United States Marshal Hallman engaged in a difficulty as to the controversy over Cherokee's need of dispensary consents. Tresscott drew a revolver but Hallman disarmed him. Tresscott was unable to get a blow. Hallman getting several effective punches. It is probable that Tresscott will be prosecuted for carrying concealed weapons.

CATARRH FIRST A COLD THEN CATARRH THEN CONSUMPTION

A cold in the head is a common ailment, but it rarely ever stops there. It often grows stubborn and protracted, the mucous membranes, or inner lining of the body, become inflamed and secrete a filthy, unhealthy matter which is absorbed by the blood and soon produces that disgusting disease, Catarrh. Then follow the unpleasant symptoms of "hawking and spitting," ringing noises in the ears, headache, poor appetite, mucus dropping back into the throat, and a feeling of general debility. Every day the blood becomes more heavily loaded with these poisonous secretions, and if the trouble is allowed to run on, the lungs become diseased from the constant passage of poisoned blood through them, and then Catarrh terminates in the most dreaded and fatal of all diseases, Consumption. The only way to get rid of Catarrh permanently is to cleanse the blood, and S. S. S. is the ideal remedy for this purpose. It soon clears the system of all impurities, purges the blood of all Catarrhal matter and poisons, and effectually checks the progress of this dangerous and far-reaching disease. S. S. S. keeps the blood in perfect order so that Catarrh cannot remain; and as this pure, healthy blood goes to every nook and corner of the body, the entire system is strengthened and invigorated, and the symptoms all pass away. Book with information about Catarrh and medical advice free.

Tombstones and Monuments.

Represent three large marble works, and it will pay anybody needing anything in this line to get my prices before buying. You should not fail to mark the last resting place of your loved ones with a stone whose inscription will survive for many years the crumbling touch of time. It is a duty of love that should be symbolized by something more lasting than flowers watered by tears of grief. Every slab, shaft, tombstone or monument I handle is a triumph of the stone cutter's, sculptor's and engraver's art and my prices are most reasonable. How about that neglected grave of mother, or father, sister or brother? Can refer you to work done in this county by the companies I represent, and I think that you will agree that it is first-class in every particular. Also take orders for high-grade sewing machines, pianos and organs. Others are higher in price—but none better.
