

FROM COAST TO COAST.

Greatest Known Walking Feat Completed Monday by Aged Pedestrian.

New York, May 2.—Cutting his way through a living mass of twenty thousand cheering people, his white locks bared to the breeze and his shuffling feet keeping time to the strains of the "Star Spangled Banner," Edward Payson Weston today brought to a triumphant end his ocean-to-ocean walk. He ascended the steps of the city hall at 3.10 p. m., completing the transcontinental journey of 3,483 miles in seventy-seven walking days, a feat without parallel in the annals of pedestrianism.

The grizzled athlete was welcomed to his home city by Mayor Gaynor, who presented him with a purse of $400, hurriedly raised by a handful of his admirers in the last hours of his spectacular walk. This and the admiration and applause of the thousands who have followed his tramp since the day of its inception, at Los Angeles on February 1 last, is all the reward that comes to the intrepid septuagenarian, after his two months' and more of walking through heat and cold across the continent.

Ovation for Aged Pedestrian.

In the last stages of his walk from Yonkers, where he spent Sunday, into New York, Weston was the object of an ovation such as has rarely been accorded to any individual short of a victorious admiral or the colonel of a rough riders' regiment. From 72nd street down Broadway, from curb to curb, was black with moving thousands, intent upon keeping sight of the white-haired little man ambling along in his peculiar jerky gait. As Weston finally turned into City Hall park, black with thousands, he was visibly moved, and it was with difficulty that he found voice to thank the mayor for his words of greeting.

"I wanted to show the youngsters what an old athlete of 72 years could do," he said. Then, from the steps of the city hall, he thanked the crowd for its welcome, and expressed himself well repaid by their cheers for all his exertions.

Mayor's Welcome and Invitation.

Later, in the mayor's private office, he was presented with a gold championship belt by President P. T. Powers, of the Eastern Baseball league. It is the famous six-day go-as-you-please championship belt, won by Dineen and Cavanaugh in 1902 and 1903, respectively.

In welcoming Weston, Mayor Gaynor said:

"Mr. Weston, I am very happy to welcome you here and to express appreciation for what you have done. The people ought to do, like you, and live as much as possible in the open air. If they did many of them would live to be 100 years old."

With the speech over, his honor and Weston had a cup of tea together in the mayor's office, and the mayor, who is an ardent walker, extended an invitation for Weston to visit his country place on Long Island.

GOV. ANSEL TAKES VACATION.

The First One in Three Years by Hard Working Chief Executive.

Columbia, S. C.

After a service of three years as governor of South Carolina, Gov. Ansel will for the first time take a vacation of one week in his home town of Greenville. "Yes, I am going to spend a week in Greenville," said Gov. Ansel, "and it will be the first week that I have spent there since being elected governor." Gov. Ansel has been out of the State on trips of an official nature, but he has never quit business for as long as a week to go back to his home town.

O'NEALL WINS BY 12,000.

Local Option Candidate Nominated in Alabama Primary.

Montgomery, Ala., May 3.—Returns received today from sixty-seven counties show that Emmet O'Neal, local optionist, was nominated for governor, in the Democratic primary, held in this State yesterday, by a majority of 12,000, over his opponent, H. S. D. Mallory. Mallory ran on a State-wide prohibition platform.

The surprise contained in the belated returns in the heavy vote polled by Walter D. Seed, for lieutenant governor. He did not defeat E. Perry Thomas, but the majority of Mr. Thomas may not be over 5,000.

The following candidates are undoubtedly nominated: Cyrus B. Brown, secretary of state; C. Brooks Smith, State auditor; H. J. Williamson, superintendent of education; Reuben F. Kolb, commissioner of education; Leon McCord, railroad commissioner; J. R. Dowdell, Chief justice of the supreme court; John C.

Anderson, Ormond Somerville and A. D. Sayre, associate justices, and Senator John H. Bankhead, who polled more votes than both of his opponents.

It may take the official returns to decide between Max Hamburger, Jr., of Mobile, and Frank N. Julian, of Tusculumbia, for second place on the railroad commission, and between R. C. Brickell and D. H. Riddle, for attorney general.

G. DUNCAN BELLINGER DEAD.

Former Attorney General and Prominent Lawyer Passes Away at His Home in Columbia.

Columbia, May 4.—The Hon. G. Duncan Bellinger, formerly attorney general of the State, died at 9.30 o'clock tonight at his home in Shandon, a suburb of Columbia. Gen. Bellinger had been sick for some time, but following a trip to Florida it was thought that his condition was much improved. However, last Sunday he was taken suddenly ill and his recovery was despaired of. Showing a slight improvement today, his condition became grave late this afternoon and tonight the end came. Chronic dysentery and liver trouble was the cause of his death.

Gen. Bellinger first came into prominence when as solicitor he prosecuted the famous Broxton Bridge cases in Colleton county. In the early days of the State dispensary he was a well known figure, and as attorney general he was feared as a prosecuting officer of the State. He was prosecutor in the Brown lynching case in dispensary times.

Gen. Bellinger was a member of the Constitutional convention of 1895. He has resided in Columbia practically since that time. The law firm of Bellinger & Townsend, Bellinger & Welch, and later a separate law firm, were monuments of his legal talent after his term as attorney general was over. Gen. Bellinger was a member of the distinguished family of Bellingers in lower South Carolina, having been born in Barnwell. Not only as a prosecuting officer was he renowned in South Carolina but his defence in big cases will ever be remembered by those whose pleasure it was to hear him.

Notable among recent cases in which he appeared as defendants' attorneys are the Seminole trials, the dispensary trials and other big cases. In the famous Southern merger suit, the preliminary of which were tried here in 1907 before Judge Klugh and a postponement had Gen. Bellinger was associated with Attorney General Lyon for the State.

Recently on account partly of the absence of Gen. Bellinger in Florida the alleged graft cases at Chester were monuments of his legal talent. Bellinger appeared frequently, a sensational trial recalled being that of Samuel Owens, for whom Gen. Bellinger was counsel.

Gen. Bellinger is survived by his wife, who was Miss O'Bannan, of Barnwell, and the following children: G. Duncan Bellinger, Jr., Misses Sophie, Anne, Norman and Harry Bellinger. The burial will take place at the old home in Barnwell. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 1 o'clock p. m. at the residence in Shandon. The body will be taken to Barnwell on the train leaving here at 3.25 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. W. C. Lindsay, of the First Baptist church, of this city. The body will be interred at the Barnwell cemetery immediately after the arrival of the train there.
