VARIOUS AND ALL ABOUT.

The banks will be closed on Monday, the 25th.

The county offices will be closed Monday.

Go to Mayes' Book Store for your best girl's Christmas present. Many beautiful gifts to be found there.

The Bachelor Maids will have a social meeting with the Misses Martin on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Visit the wonderful "Toyland" at Mayes' Book Store, and make arrangements with "Old Santa" for the little folk at home.

Somebody may forget that Sunday is Christmas, but nobody will forget that Saturday night is Christmas eve night.

It is a grand thing for Newberry county when her farmers are raising and killing hogs weighing as much as cotton bales.

In cotton blossom time people send the printer cotton blooms and in hog killing time they send him the weight of the swine. Not a cotton bale nor a blooming pig do they send. Nothing but leaves.

The regular services will be held in the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church on next Sabbath morning at 11 o'clock. The sermon will be based on Matthew, 1:23: "They shall call his name Immanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us." The whole service will be appropriate to the Christmas season. A cordial welcome is extended to all who may be able to worship with us.

COLLEGE CLOSES TODAY.

Students Go Home to Spend the Holidays—Recess to Continue Until January 3.

Newberry college closes today at noon for the Christmas holidays. For the past ten days "exams" have been in progress, and the students have been hard at work. Nearly all of them leave today for their home. The Christmas recess will last until 8.45 Tuesday morning, January 3.

The term just closing has been above the average in every way. The students have been busy. The double daily schedule, with sessions in forenoon and afternoon, has been a distinct success from the beginning. It works a little hardship on some of the students who live in town at some distance from the college, but they are satisfied, like the rest of the students, that the "double daily" is all right.

While the boys go home on vacation the college authorities are as busy as ever. During the week many little repairs are to be made, lecture rooms and dormitories thoroughly cleaned so that at the opening on January 3 everything will be in fit and fine condition for the students.

Prof. Voigt has gone to Mt. Pleasant, S. C., to spend the holidays.

Prof. Rountree will take his Christmas in Quitman, Ga., with his people.

Prof. and Mrs. Derrick will spend Christmas out of the city. Everybody at college is glad to know that Prof. John C. Goggans, Jr., will take up his classes at the college after Christmas.

Mr. W. K. Sligh and family, of Jacksonville, Fla., are spending the Christmas holidays at President Harms' at the college.

Mr. Tench Q. Boozer, who took a place in the Newberry college Tech. in the absence of Prof. Goggans, finished the term with great credit. Mr. Boozer supplemented his training at Newberry with a course at the Boston Tech., at Boston, Mass., and has had besides fine practical experience. The boys all have a good word for Prof. Boozer.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BANQUET

Brilliant and Delightful Affair on Tuesday Night—Distinguished Visitors.

One of the most pleasant occasions, socially, in the history of Newberry and far-reaching in importance in the stimulus which it will give the movement for the upbuilding of Newberry town and county, was the banquet given by the Newberry chamber of commerce on Tuesday night.

In addition to President W. W. Finley, of the Southern railway, who spoke of the development and of the great future of the South, paying a splendid tribute to Mr. A. D. Hudson, of this city, president of the South Atlantic States' Corn exposition, there were a number of distinguished visitors from practically every section of the State. The banquet was tendered in the dining room of the Crowell hotel, which presented a beautiful appearance in its decorations appropriate to the Christmas season. Preceding the banquet a reception was held in the hotel parlors from 8 to 9 o'clock, the visitors meeting and mingling with the local members of the organization.

The Banquet. The ladies of the Methodist church served the banquet. An excellent menu was provided; there was inspiring music by the Newberry concert band; H & N—XX the toasts were appropriate and the responses eloquent and to the point, and the occasion was a success from every point of view and a credit to Newberry city and county.

The chamber of commerce has been in existence for several years, but during the past year under the presidency of Mr. I. H. Hunt, it has taken on new life and has made itself felt as a potent factor in the development of this city and county and this section of the State.

The banquet from every standpoint was one of the most brilliant and most successful affairs of its kind in this section of the State in recent years. The ladies added the charm of their presence to the occasion. President Finley, the guest of honor, came to Newberry. Shortly before he left Columbia the jury in the celebrated merger case had returned a verdict in favor of the Southern, and he said that he was particularly pleased to address a South Carolina audience as soon after the verdict had sustained the constitutionality of the legislative act.

Finley on Merger Verdict. "The verdict," he said, "the justice of which I believe will be generally recognized, means much to the Southern Railway company. It means much to the people of this State." He looked forward to a brighter future for the South, in which the Southern hoped to bear its part.

Governor-elect Cole. L. Blease, presented by Representative C. T. Wyche, in responding to "South Carolina," said that the people of this State were noted for the fairness with which they treated the stranger within their gates, and he believed the people of the whole State would say to the jury in the merger case, "Well done." He paid fine tributes to President Spencer, Superintendent Henry A. Williams and Mr. B. L. Abney, and closed his happy address with a glowing tribute to woman.

"The Piedmont Section," proposed by Editor W. H. Wallace, of the Observer, was happily responded to by President H. K. Aiken, of the Laurens chamber of commerce. The Piedmont section, he said, in his sober judgment, after having seen much of the world, was surpassed nowhere, and he cited the records to prove it at the same time, however, pointing out its needs one of the most urgent of which he emphasized was that "we cease to pay tribute to others for what we can do for ourselves."

Various Toasts. President August Kohn, of the State Press association, was introduced by Mr. E. H. Aull, who was for a number of years president of the association. Mr. Kohn spoke eloquently of the resources and progress of South Carolina and of the part which the press had played in the State's advancement.

Joseph L. Keitt was presented by President A. D. Hudson, of the South Atlantic States Corn exposition, and had for his theme "Our Town and Our County," to which he eloquently responded.

"Cooperation Among Commercial Organizations" was happily responded to by Secretary A. McP. Hamby, of the Columbia chamber of commerce, who was presented by Mr. A. C. Jones.

Dr. George B. Cromer, presented by Mr. Geo. W. Summer, had "Education" for the theme of his magnificent response.

Dr. James McIntosh, presented by Mr. W. A. McSwain, talked on the Newberry-Edgefield-Augusta railroad, for which the chamber of commerce is working. Dr. McIntosh is chairman of the committee on railroads.

Mr. Z. F. Wright, a former president of the chamber of commerce, presented Dr. G. Y. Hunter, president of the chamber of commerce of Newberry's sister city. Prosperity, who responded to "Our Sister City."

It was late when the program was concluded, but with the magnificent supper the congenial party and the timely and appropriate addresses, there was not a tiresome moment. All in all it was a great occasion for Newberry.

The Visitors. The visitors, in addition to President Finley, included W. N. Foreacre, general superintendent, J. C. Williams, assistant to the president; Mr. Bell, private secretary to the president; Henry A. Williams, of Columbia, division superintendent; R. B. Pegram, assistant to the president with headquarters in Charleston; Geo. M. Bishop, of Columbia, train master, all of the Southern; President H. K. Aiken, of the Laurens chamber of commerce; Editor A. M. Carpenter, of the Anderson Daily Mail; President August Kohn, of the State Press association; Editor James A. Hoyt, of the Columbia Daily Record; William Banks, of the Columbia State; Secretary A. McP. Hamby, of the Columbia chamber of commerce; C. C. Wilson, of Columbia; President Geo. Y. Hunter, of the Prosperity chamber of commerce, and Representative C. T. Wyche, of Prosperity.

The Menu. The following menu had been arranged, and was elegantly served by the ladies:

- Grape Fruit Maraschino Cherries
Roast Turkey with Dressing Cranberries
Green Peas with Pimentos Macaroni
Escaloped Oyster Biscuit
Chicken Salad Pickles Celery Crackers
Olives Pickles Celery
Ambrosia Cake
Cafe Noir Cheese

MARRIAGE OF POPULAR COUPLE.

The Wedding of Two Young People Beloved in City and County of Newberry.

It is common to say "a happy marriage." All marriages are supposed to be happy ones, but unquestionably this marriage was one of the happiest of all the happy marriages, and the figurative silvery wedding bells rang merrily indeed, when Mr. Pope, Lee Buford and Miss Clara Reighley were married at 7.30 o'clock Wednesday evening, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Reighley, 2304 Main street, this city.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. M. L. Banks, and the scene was brilliant. The wedding march by Lohengrin was played in her most delightful manner by Mrs. J. W. Haldinger. The maid of honor was Miss Florie Lominick. She carried pink carnations and asparagus ferns and wore a pink messaline. Mr. Robert Hayne Buford, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride wore a white messaline gown trimmed in pearls and carried asparagus ferns and bride's roses, wearing a pearl brooch, present of the groom. The marriage took place under a large white wedding bell. The dining room was beautiful in pink and white, the table resplendent with a handsome Battenburg center piece, conspicuous among the accompanying things being a white wedding cake. A delicious salad course was served. The guests were received by Mrs. Lonnie Dickert. Miss Weeter Summer presided at the punch bowl. The presents were numerous and handsome. Mr. and Mrs. Buford are at home to their friends at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Reighley, 2304 Main street.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Reighley, of the city. To superior charms of personal beauty is added the gentle graces of culture and refinement, combined with all the gifts of a modest and sweet disposition. She is a young lady possessing exceptionally the rare virtues of perfect loveliness of character as well as of charming personality.

The groom is a son of Sheriff M. M. Buford and comes of a family well known for its sterling qualities of commanding citizenship. He holds the responsible position of deputy sheriff and is a capable and courageous officer, fearless and impartial in the discharge of his duties. Unassuming in his position, yet his friends know him to be an affable gentleman, and they congratulate him in the winning of a bride who is one of the best and loveliest of the young ladies of Newberry county, which holds the finest in the land.

The groom and his bride start out in life well mated and with promises of a bright and glorious future. May their disappointments and trials be few in comparison with the joys and blessings that shall meet them and linger with them along the journey, and may their path together lead them less through the valleys of gloom and sadness, but evermore across the mountain tops of joy and gladness.

To the groom: In the language of the sweet singer of long ago, "Peace be within thy walls, and plenteousness within thy palaces. For thee and thy companion's sake, I will wish thee prosperity."

And to the bride: May the journey which you have now entered upon be along a pathway which will ever be kept fragrant by the flowers of love and devotion. Many Merry Christmases and happy new years to you both.

Out-of-town guests were: Miss Ethel Mason, New York; Miss Sara Scott, Whitmire; Miss Carrie Buford, Kinards, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Buford, Kinards, Mr. R. C. Williams, Jr., Columbia, Mr. J. H. Bell, Renno.

McGill-Renwick.

The marriage of Mr. Jas. S. Renwick and Miss Ethel McGill took place at Symrna A. R. P. church, S. C., on Wednesday afternoon, December 14, at half past four o'clock.

The church was elaborately decorated for the occasion with garlands and arches of bamboo and mistletoe. Ferns, palms and evergreen were banked at the altar, and myriads of candles cast a mellow light upon the scene.

Mendelssohn's wedding march was beautifully rendered by Mrs. J. L. Oates, and as the first soft chords were played the bridal party entered the church. First came the ushers, Mr. B. D. Kennedy, of Rock Hill, and Mr. H. B. McGill, of Hickory Grove. They were followed by Mr. H. T. Renwick, of Newberry, and Miss Addie Scroggins, of Smyrna; Mr. W. C. Brown, of Newberry, and Miss Hattie Mae Carmichael, of Union. The bridesmaids and groomsmen came down opposite aisles, and crossing in the front of the church formed a semi-circle. The bride then entered with her maid of honor, Miss Carrie McGill, of Hickory Grove, and the groom with his brother, Mr. J. E. Renwick, of Union. Little Miss Ruth Oates, of Yorkville, followed the bride, bearing the wedding ring on a silver salver.

The color scene being pink and white, the bride's maids wore white mull over pink silk, and carried armfuls of mistletoe and ferns tied with pink maline. The maid of honor was gowned in pink messaline, and the bride was beautiful in an exquisite creation of white messaline with lace and pearls. Her veil was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a bride's bouquet of carnations, rose buds and ferns.

Just after the wedding a course luncheon was served at the home of the bride, after which the young couple left for a wedding trip.

The presents were unusually beautiful, attesting the universal popularity of the contracting parties.

Mr. Renwick is a son of Dr. M. A. Renwick, of Newberry county. He is a young man of energy and of sterling character. He is a social favorite wherever he is known, and has hosts of friends throughout the State.

The bride is a charming and accomplished young woman, who is well known in this county.

Mr. and Mrs. Renwick have the heartiest best wishes of all who know them for a long and happy journey through life together.

Death of Mr. J. W. Chappell.

Mr. John Watts Chappell died of Bright's disease at his residence in this city at 7.10 o'clock Tuesday night, in the 49th year of his age. He had been in declining health for about a year, and was in a serious condition from last September, growing gradually worse until the past week or two when he became desperately ill and lingered between life and death. Mr. Chappell was a native of Edgefield county, in that portion which is now Saluda. He had been living in Newberry about 23 years, and was a member of the Mower company.

He was the son of the late Stanmore Chappell and Eleanor Chapman, of old Chappells depot. Mr. Chappell was married to Miss Clara Blease, and lived a happy life, devoted to his family and loving his home. He leaves a wife and two children, Miss Gladys and Master John, an affectionate and dutiful little household to mourn the great loss that has come into it. He is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. B. B. Kinard, of Ninety Six, and Mrs. B. M. Dennis, of Newberry.

Mr. Chappell was of a quiet and retiring disposition, a sober and clean merchant and a good citizen who attended to his own affairs and did not meddle into the affairs of others. He was one of the most popular salesmen to be found anywhere, a general favorite among the lady customers because of his agreeable manner, always polite, thoughtful, attentive and accommodating.

The funeral service was at the house Wednesday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. Dr. A. J. Bowers, assisted by the Rev. Dr. J. E. James.

The pall-bearers were: F. Z. Wilson, Dr. Theo. Johnstone, W. F. wart, A. C. Jones, W. G. Mayes, A. J. Bowers, Jr.

The grief-stricken wife and little children are in the heavy shadow that is cast by death. All hearts sympathize with them tenderly.

DEATH OF MR. C. D. HUNTER.

Injuries Which He Sustained at His Gin on Monday Morning Proved Fatal Monday Night.

Mr. Chesley D. Hunter, of the St. Luke's section of the county, who was caught in the main belt to his gin on Monday, died at his home shortly after 7 o'clock Monday night from the injuries which he sustained. As was stated in The Herald and News, his left arm was caught in the main ten-inch belt, and he was drawn between the belt and the pulley and crushed to the floor. His arm was badly mangled, his upper teeth were knocked out, his head injured and his shoulder crushed, and he sustained internal injuries. He was released by the breaking of the belt which, fortunately, was considerably worn.

He was taken to his home unaccompanied, and Drs. Wheeler and Bedenbaugh, of Prosperity, were immediately summoned, but medical skill could avail nothing.

Mr. Hunter was about 53 years of age. He was the son of the late Capt. Samuel A. Hunter. He is survived by his mother, two brothers, Messrs. Joe W. and N. E. Hunter, and four sisters, Mrs. Bessie Lane, Mrs. A. H. Hawkins, Mrs. Belle Hunter and Miss Nancy Hunter, all of this county. He was unmarried and lived at the old home place, in the lower section of the county, with his mother.

Mr. Hunter was one of the leading farmers and business men of the lower part of the county. In addition to his extensive farming operations, he was largely engaged in the saw mill and ginning business. He was a man of sterling worth, and had hosts of friends.

The interment was at Prosperity on Tuesday afternoon, with the burial service by the Rev. S. P. Koon, of St. Lukes.
