A WEEK OF GREATEST PLEASURE AND PROFIT

CHAUTAUQUA WILL MARK AN EPOCH IN CITY'S HISTORY

The Week's Entertainments Are the Best That Can be Afforded—Social and Intellectual Feast.

The object of the Newberry Chautauqua association is to take the sweet flower-scented month of June and set it apart as the special time for Newberry to attire herself in robes of social and intellectual pleasures. The origin of this association sprang from an unselfish and public spirit; and its promoters do not expect financial gain. They will be satisfied if the public co-operate in making the Chautauqua self-sustaining.

Looking Backward. Newberry has a long and unsullied history. No one will deny, however, that our people have been too contented. The town for a good many years did not have that buoyant and contagious spirit for progress that has been characterizing Southern cities for the past decade.

The Great Fire. But with the great fire that nearly destroyed the city a few years ago there came a change over our people. They shook off their indifference, and went about the job of building a town with a seriousness and enthusiasm that has produced magnificent results.

The City Itself. Newberry has a population of over five thousand inhabitants; and is spread out so that the packed, crowded feeling so characteristic of many Southern towns is entirely lacking in our city. To attempt to enumerate what Newberry has would be to fall into a common habit that has been worked over time by towns newly engaged in advertising themselves. We have our full share of everything a town the size of ours needs, for our growth has all along been uniform and coordinate. Education, religion, business and social development have held their own grounds while being friendly and helpful each to the other. This is a condition seldom found, and of which Newberry is justly proud.

The Long Summers Behind Us. Out of the long span of summer's already behind some of us how many of the mara fresh and green in our memories because of special and peculiar occasions? Does not the nervous system need a rest from the iron grip of the business life? And is there a better time to live and to love than in the month of June when the woods are green and when the fields are scented and colored with countless hundreds of wild flowers native to this climate.

Looking Forward. Newberry is the place and the time is ripe for us to have a Chautauqua week. It can and is going to be made the best and happiest week in the history of this beautiful and shady town. The week's entertainments are the best that can be afforded. It takes nearly two thousand dollars to put on this Chautauqua, and talent is going to be brought here that our people have never before and probably will never again have the opportunity to hear; but the entertainments themselves are not the only things that should appeal to us and our visitors.

Outdoor Exercises. Not only has this city beautiful streets specially suitable for driving and horse-back riding and also for automobiles, but many streets leaving the city merge into fine country roads that stretch for miles along ideal woodland scenery, and along as fine farming land as can be found in the Southland. Two Chautauqua numbers will be given each day, and the remainder of the day can be spent in a hundred different ways that will produce lasting memories, and to which one can look backward with pleasure as the years come and go.

Newberry's Hospitality. Commercial prosperity and genuine hospitality do not usually go hand-in-hand; and one of the things of which Newberry is proud is that fortune has not robbed her of that finer and sweeter spirit of Southern hospitality, and wherever this city is known it is associated with the older school of ethics. Our people still have time to visit, and to linger at the gate post saying good-byes. We are going to have a good time ourselves, and we are going to see that visitors shall eat and laugh and be happy while staying with us.

The Whole City Invites You. The latch strings of this city will hang on the outside or each gate from June 18 to 24, inclusive. Every organization of the city is co-operating in the Chautauqua and you have only to enter our city to assure yourself of a week of rare enjoyment.

Visit the Chautauqua. You will live a long time before you will find a time when greater preparations for entertaining you will be made than from June 18-24. Not only are all our people going to make an effort to be at home during this time, but they want your summer or fall visit to be made this year in June.

What is Expected of Newberry. In one of the greatest naval battles of the world the motto was, "England expects every man to do his duty." Newberry is now about to engage in the biggest undertaking for the pleasure and happiness of her people and her people's friends that she has ever attempted. Pure and innocent pleasure undefiled by the baser influences is going to be our object during Chautauqua; and our motto is going to be, "Make everybody have a good time," and make them to feel that we have "Taken up the harp of Life, and smote on all the chords with might; Smote the chord of Self, that, trembling, passed in music, out of sight."

LITTLE MOUNTAIN HIGH SCHOOL. Commencement Exercises Begin on Sunday Evening—The Graduates Compete for Essay Medal.

The Little Mountain high school will close Friday, May 19. Commencement exercises will begin Sunday night, with the baccalaureate sermon in Holy Trinity church, by Rev. Edw. Fulenwider, of Newberry. The exercises Monday night will consist of songs, drills and a dialogue by the school children. The essay medal, given by Editor E. H. Aull, will be delivered.

Tuesday evening the graduating exercises will be held in the school auditorium. The graduates this year, with their subjects, are as follows: Wells Lowman, "A Letter to the Rising Generation."

Bessie George, "The Rugged Pathway." Keister Counts, "The Evils of Socialism."

Address to the graduating class by Solicitor George Bell Timmerman, of Batesburg, S. C. Awarding of diplomas.

Surprise Marriage. On Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Miss Teresa E. Melton, of Helena, came to the city and proceeded to the residence of Mr. L. I. Epting, where she and Mr. Arthur McDonald were married by the Rev. Edw. Fulenwider. Friends of the contracting parties knew that little Cupid had been making his influence felt between the two, but the romantic way in which it culminated was somewhat of a surprise. Miss Melton had come to her father's store at the dinner hour and left, presumably for home, but as developments showed, she went to Mr. Epting's according to prearranged program between the interested parties, although there was no parental objection to the match. The bride is the daughter of Mr. W. S. Melton and the groom is a railroad man, being a section master residing at Helena. The friends of the happy couple congratulate them and wish them joy.

Death of Mr. C. Atchison Brooks. Mr. C. Atchison Brooks died at his home Vaughnville on Tuesday, after an illness with pneumonia. The news of his death was a shock to his friends in Newberry, few of whom knew of his illness. He was buried at Soul's Chapel on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Brooks was twice married. He leaves a widow and several children. Mr. Brooks had many warm friends in this and neighboring counties who will be pained to learn of his death. He was a substantial citizen, and his death is a loss to the community.

"Fall of Troy" Coming to The Astor Theatre. The $30,000 motion picture spectacle entitled "The Fall of Troy" showing an exact reproduction of the Trojan war, will be the extraordinary feature which the Astor Theatre will offer its patrons on Tuesday, May 23. "The Fall of Troy" pictures are conceded to be the costliest and most magnificent picture play production that has ever been manufactured, and precisely eleven months and three weeks were required in which to complete the scenes to be seen in this most remarkable piece of modern ingenuity.

Good Pictures. It is for Newberry to appreciate the efforts of Manager Lavender in his conduct of the moving picture shows. He has been ever willing to aid the ladies in their movements for the welfare of the community, and is always ready to show the greatest liberality in the exhibition of his fine pictures. He is a friend to the children and his goodness of heart should meet a hearty response in future patronage to him on the part of an appreciative public.

SOCIAL.

One of the loveliest affairs of the past week was a reception given by Miss Lucile Dickert to her guest, Miss Sadie Roberta Coker, of Kingstree. From the front porch straight through the reception hall, parlor and library, there were pink and white flowers in great profusion, and most artistically arranged. The guests were received in the hall by Miss Mary Carville Burton. Here the decorations were pink carnations in tall cut glass vases. Punch was served by Miss Pearl McCrackin. The hostess and honoree received the guests in the parlor, where pink and white roses were banked in every available space. After the guests arrived all formality was cast aside, and progressive conversation was indulged in the remainder of the evening.

Refreshments were served by Misses Eugenia Wheeler and Eva Kibler, and the color scheme of pink and white was also carried out here.

The guests who registered their names in a pretty little book, which was afterwards given to Miss Coker as a souvenir of the occasion, were: Misses Mary C. Burton, Adeline Johnstone, Eva Kibler, Lois Goggans, Mary Cannon, Ethyl Bowers, Pearl McCrackin, Ione Caldwell, Genia Wheeler, and Messrs. J. C. Goggans, Jr., J. B. Morgan, H. W. Schumpert, H. O. Fellers, W. T. Brown, J. R. Thomas, John Peterson, T. Roy Summer, Ben A. Dominick, W. C. Waldrop, R. McC. Holmes, Thad McCrackin, Walter B. Wallace, F. R. Fellers.

Mrs. J. M. Kinard was the hostess for the Jasper chapter, D. A. R., Monday afternoon. The newly elected officers were: Regent, Mrs. O. E. Mayer, vice pres. Mrs. J. H. Harms, secretary, Mrs. L. W. Jones, treasurer, Mrs. J. M. Kinard, registrar, Mrs. J. Y. McFall; historian, Mrs. J. T. Mayes. The house was beautifully decorated in the national colors and flags, and after a business discussion a delightful ice course was served.

Thursday afternoon the Woman's club met with Mrs. H. L. Dean, and rendered the following program: Roll call. Response. Some helpful hints about beautifying our town. Paper on civics, Mrs. L. W. Floyd. Discussion. Some phases of civics, Mrs. P. E. Scott. Reading, "Civics," Mrs. F. R. Hunter.

One of the most enjoyable meetings of the season of the Emery circle was held with Mrs. J. B. Fox Friday morning. Her beautiful new home was profusely decorated with quantities of sweet peas and roses. Every place that room could be found for a vase was banked with these lovely spring flowers. The morning was pleasantly spent with "chat" and fancy work, and at 12 Mrs. Fox, assisted by Mrs. J. E. Norwood and Miss Katherine Wright, served an elaborate course luncheon to the following guests: Misses Minnie Gist, Daisy Cannon, Mesdames J. L. Burton, J. H. Harms, W. H. Hunt, Milne, Wilson, McIntosh, McFall, Kinard, Schenck, Robt. Leavelle, Floyd, Crosland, Washington, Houseal, Carwile, G. T. Wright, Smith, L. W. Jones and J. E. Norwood.

Miss Katherine Atwater, who is the guest of Mrs. Theodore Johnstone, was surprised with a "pound party" Thursday evening. About fifty boys and girls passed a most delightful evening with her.

The Fortnightly club held its last meeting of the season with Mrs. Bernice Martin Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock. Only the members were present, and much business was transacted and plans for next year arranged. The election of officers resulted: President, Mrs. W. G. Houseal; vice president, Mrs. J. H. Harms; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. T. C. Pool.

After the business, a course luncheon was served the following members: Mesdames W. H. Hunt, T. C. Pool, W. G. Houseal, L. W. Jones, W. H. Carwile, S. B. Jones, F. N. Martin, P. E. Scott, C. A. Bowman, J. E. Norwood.

Meeting of City Council. City council met in regular session Tuesday night. Representatives of the Chautauqua association appeared before council with the request that council appropriate $50 to aid in the Chautauqua and home-coming week movement, and also give the opera house free for the attractions which have been arranged. After hearing the request, council decided to postpone action on account of the fact that there was not a full meeting of council, Alderman C. T. Summer being absent.

The committee which went before council was composed of Jno. B. Mayes, J. Marion Davis and J. C. Sample.

Manager Lavender Puts on "The Fall of Troy."

Manager D. R. Lavender has booked "The Fall of Troy" for his moving picture show in the old court house tonight (Friday). The Trojan war, following the faithfulness of the beautiful Helen, and the capture of the Trojan city entered with the Trojan horse will all be vividly depicted in the fine pictures. This picture is one of the most widely known in the moving picture business today.
