

RUNAWAY COUPLE IN SALUDA.

Greenville Man and Girl of Sixteen Arrested—Said to Have Walked From Newberry.

Saluda, March 2.—Following a phone message received here yesterday afternoon from Newberry, a white man of Greenville county was placed in jail and a young white girl accompanying him was taken into custody by the sheriff's deputy.

Soon after the message was received yesterday evening Marlor and the girl were found in a restaurant quietly eating a lunch, having walked from Newberry—twenty-four miles.

It appears that Marlor married the girl's aunt, her father's sister, and that he has for the past seven years lived on her father's place in Greenville county.

Vinson, who appears to be a substantial and respectable man, is heart-broken. He today left with his daughter for his home and the constable carried Marlor to the Greenville jail.

It was his intention to leave Saluda on the afternoon train for Ward and thence to Augusta. Had they not been apprehended when they were they would have been off for Ward.

The constable stated that Mr. Vinson would push the case against Marlor. The girl gave her age as 17, but her father says she is not yet 16.

TOLBERT FACTION FOR TAFT.

Four Delegates Instructed by South Carolina G. O. P. Convention.

Columbia, Feb. 29.—The State convention of one wing of the Republican party, meeting here this afternoon, endorsed the administration of President Taft and adopted a resolution instructing the four delegates at large to vote for Mr. Taft in the Chicago convention.

The four delegates at large to the Chicago convention were elected as follows: Jos. W. Tolbert, Greenwood; J. Duncan Adams, Charleston; J. R. Levy, Columbia, and W. T. Andrews, Sumter.

H. L. Johnson, the negro recorder of deeds of the United States government was present at the convention and delivered an address.

John G. Capers, the national committeeman from South Carolina, was denounced in many speeches in the convention. The executive committee of the Capers faction of the Republican party in this State will meet here on March 4 to call a State convention.

Freedom of the Press.

Around her waist I put my arm— It felt as soft as cake; "Oh, dear!" says she, "what liberty you printer men do take!"

I kissed her some—I did by gum, She colored like a beet;

Upon my loving soul, she looked Almost too good to eat! I gave another kiss, and then She said—"I do confess I rather, kinder, sorter like The freedom of the press."

"BABY MINE" PLEASURES LARGE CROWD AT GRAND

Atlanta Constitution. Wives do not lie to your husbands. This is the great moral that "Baby Mine" will carry home to every married person, every person about to be married or every person that wants to be married.

If the reader does not come under any of these heads he or she is probably either a woman-hater or a man-hater, and in this event, they will have the blessedness of single life impressed upon them from a new angle.

The lies of a husband to the wife are proverbial. "Baby Mine" tells of the lies of the wife to the husband. Husbands should all take their wives to see this play for the example of veracity it carries to the "better half."

The story deals with a young married couple that were without children. The husband's jealousy and suspicions were finally aroused to such a point that he left home. Friends of his heartbroken wife suggested that the announcement that he was a father would surely bring him back. Plans were laid and the "father" telegraphed for. He came before he was expected. There was no baby, but a little later there was one, then there were twins and finally triplets. The situations which occurred keep the audience in an uproar. Beneath the absurdities of the play is a gentle thrust at what is generally termed as "race suicide."

Very few brighter, more clever or better presented comedies have ever been seen in Atlanta. In marked contrast to many of the popular plays the fun starts right off the reel. Instead of a long drawn out and tiresome first act given over almost entirely to explanations unfolding the plot, "Baby Mine" opens up with a rush and the fun keeps fast and furious until the final curtain.

The company is one of the best seen here this year. There are eight members, four of which have only minor parts and are on the stage but a very few minutes. Earle Martin is especially clever in his interpretation of the man who tries to help out a friend but is the victim of circumstances. Marjorie Cortland is pretty and puts lots of life in her lines. The other members are entirely satisfactory.

There is nothing complicated about "Baby Mine" except the funny situations. From first to last it is just one big long laugh and those who enjoy comedy will miss one of the best attractions in years if they fail to visit the Grand opera house this week. There will be a matinee Saturday.

PLEASED WITH SALUDA ROAD.

Officers Getting Operations in Fine Shape—Mail and Express Service.

Saluda, March 2.—M. C. Woods, W. J. Montgomery and Dr. J. C. Mace, officers of the Augusta Northern railway, were in Saluda for two days this week, looking after the interests of the road in conjunction with the general manager, L. A. Boyd. In speaking of the returns of the line for the past four weeks, since it was put into operation, in a general way, they expressed themselves as being very much gratified. The passenger and freight traffic, even in the face of adverse conditions, has surpassed their most sanguine expectations, and with the prospect of clearing weather and the approach of the fertilizer movement it will be greatly increased.

The announcement was made that the postal authorities were expected to put on mail service in a very short while, this matter now being worked out. It was likewise given out that plans for express service from Ward to Saluda were almost completed. At present all express for Saluda has to be sent to Ward and freighted over from that point.

With the improvements the officers expect to make along the Dry Creek Valley within the next two weeks they feel confident that any possible inundation of the track will be entirely removed.

The freight and passenger station at this point is now completed with the exception of some painting, and this will be finished in the next day or two. A really neat and commodious station building has been erected here.

BLEASE PAROLEES R. A. ADAMS

Grants Liberty to Colleton Man Once Sentenced to Hang.

Columbia, March 2.—The governor has issued a parole to R. A. Adams, convicted of murder in Colleton county in March, 1903, before Judge Gary, and sentenced to be hung. This sentence was commuted by a former governor to life imprisonment. The parole is during good behavior.
