

MOTHER GRABS HER CHILD AND FLEES

BATESBURG WOMAN BRINGS SON FROM ALABAMA

Appeals to Governor Blease, Her Cousin, for Protection And It Is Granted

Columbia, November 29.—An interesting story is told of a trip by a young woman of 25 years, who is said to have gone alone from this State to the southern part of Alabama, where her former husband and their two children lived, got one of her children in an automobile, made a wild run in the racing car cross country, headed for South Carolina. She arrived safely in South Carolina with her boy. The story is told by Miss Lena Blease, formerly Mrs. L. B. Hartley, of Batesburg, who passed through this city tonight en route to her home, having gotten protection from Governor Blease at Anderson to-day.

Miss Lena Blease is a member of a well-known family of Batesburg, and a cousin of Governor Blease. She married L. B. Hartley, some years her senior, on the 19th of April, 1903, in Batesburg, she says. The husband lived at Batesburg, and his father and several brothers reside there now. The young mother to-night, in speaking of her married life, said that it was not a happy one.

Secured a Divorce.

The two children are named Julian, aged nine and one-half years, and Lester, aged eight years. For several years after they married Mr. and Mrs. Hartley lived at Batesburg. Finally Mrs. Hartley went to Augusta to work, and about three years ago Hartley took the two boys and went to Alabama, where, she says, he subsequently secured a divorce. Mrs. Hartley resuming her maiden name of Miss Blease. She claims that Hartley afterward married Miss Ida Shealy, also of Batesburg, the ceremony taking place in Augusta about two years ago. She says when she returned to Batesburg her former husband had taken the children away. The mother says she began a long and patient search to locate her two children, following clue after clue. Finally after two years she says she located her former husband in the little town of Samson, one hundred miles south of Montgomery, on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

The mother next laid plans, she said, for regaining her children. She intended invoking the aid of the law, and about six weeks ago went to Birmingham, and from there to Montgomery, Ala. Getting in command of the situation she claims she found that the younger of the boys was sick, and this with other information led her to decide to take the other boy, Julian, and come back to South Carolina. On Friday of last week she says she moved to Elba thirty-five miles from Samson, where the boys were.

Used Fast Racing Car.

Monday morning, in a racing car, she declares she sped across country to Samson. As the children were gathering at the school the mother says she called Julian to the car in which she pulled him in, opened the throttle and headed for Elba, across country. The boy was at first bewildered, says the mother, but soon recognized her and was wild with joy, saying he wanted to come back to South Carolina.

With her boy in her lap the run was made to Elba in thirty minutes. From Monday until Wednesday the mother says she hid in the country with her boy, among friends, and Wednesday went to Montgomery by automobile. From there she came through Atlanta, bound for Greenville, S. C.

Miss Blease claims the alarm had been sent out and the police of various cities asked to be on the lookout for her and the child. On a northbound train she reached Greenville Friday morning.

Hearing that her cousin, Governor Blease, was in Anderson, she caught the interurban and went to Anderson yesterday morning, and claims she immediately got the protection she expected. She and the young boy accompanied the Governor here to-night. In the morning the woman and her boy will go to Batesburg, where her father and mother await them.

C. & G. TRAIN ADVENTUROUS TRIP

Passengers Kept in a "What Next?" State of Mind Throughout Entire Trip.

Greenville Piedmont, 25th. Passengers who arrived in Greenville on the C. & G. Southern train from Columbia Sunday afternoon, tell of a series of adventures which befell that train on its journey from the capital to this city which made the train nearly an hour late in reaching this city, and which kept all the passengers in a "what next?" frame of mind until the good ship was safely docked in her berth at the Southern Railway yards. D. D. D. Opens New Era in Cure of Skin Disease

Professor Budlong's case of eczema was known to almost every hospital and physician of reputation throughout the state of Connecticut. His letter is another interesting demonstration of what is being accomplished by the famous specific D. D. D. Prescription. It may be of interest to you to know that your life-saving preparation, D. D. D. Prescription has been of incalculable value to me. I was covered with eczema from head to foot when I began using your remedies. I could get no relief, although I tried a thousand means. I applied but two bottles of the Prescription; a cure was effected in a very short time, in less than one month."—Prof. C. J. Budlong, South Lyme, Conn.

Ask any druggist today for D. D. D. Prescription. He'll tell you it allays the itch instantly—and soon there are signs of cure.

We have handled the remedy for years and regard it as the specific for skin troubles of all kinds. Come in or ask us about D. D. D. Prescription, also about D. D. D. soap especially for tender skins.

We offer the first full size bottle on the guarantee that unless it stops the itch at once, it costs you not a cent.

escapade between members of the train crew and a fractious negro, the last out-of-the-ordinary event which befell the train before reaching Greenville was the running over and killing of a cow, which had accidentally, and without malice aforethought, wandered upon the tracks in search of preferred Southern Railroad stock.

After leaving Columbia, the train arrived at the junction at Alston, without mishap, but shortly after leaving that place, the ticket collector and a negro on the rear platform had a dispute about some matter not fully set forth, which resulted in some profanity from the dark-skinned one, and a firm warning from the collector. The negro, however, it is said, did not follow the terms of the warning, and the result was that he was forcibly ejected down an embankment by members of the train crew. As the train proceeded on its way the negro is said to have fired three times at the coach, but the bullets all went wild.

After proceeding some distance further, the passengers were informed that a large pile of lumber and other material, was on fire just beside the track. The train was stopped for an investigation, and the officials in charge finally decided that the fire could be passed safely with proper care. All the passengers were asked to move to the other side of the coaches, to avoid any chance of danger from broken window glasses, heat, etc., and the train moved on.

Having thus passed Scylla and Charibdis in safety, the passengers were beginning to feel easy, when a series of loud "boots" from the engine set all to wandering again. Immediately after, there was a heavy jolt and upon investigation it was found that a large cow had been run down and killed.

INDIGESTION OVERCOME

Overcome by Simple Remedy.

Hurried and careless habits of eating, irregular meals and foods that do not harmonize, tend to weaken the digestive organs and result in different forms of stomach trouble.

If you are one of the unfortunates who have drifted into this condition, eat simple foods only, slowly, regularly and take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic.

Mrs. H. J. Smith, Thomasville, Ga., says: "I suffered from a stomach trouble, was tired, worn out and nervous. A friend advised me to take Vinol. My stomach trouble soon disappeared and now I eat heartily and have a perfect digestion and I wish every tired, weak woman could have Vinol, for I never spent any money in my life that did me so much good."

The recovery of Mrs. Smith was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cods' livers—aided by the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol. We will return the purchase money every time Vinol fails to benefit.

P. S. Our Saxo Salve stops itching and begins healing at once.
