What has become of all the candidates for lieutenant governor who were "mentioned" by the newspapers during the recent session of the legislature?

After all, even in a contest over a dispensary election, the man on the other side may be conscientious. At least, it is more temperate to give him credit for so being until you have proof to the contrary.

The Herald and News has decided to charge the same price as heretofore for announcing candidates. For communications advocating the cause of any candidate or setting forth platforms, we will charge 25 cents the inch. The cash must accompany the order in all cases.

Whatever other indiscretions Governor Blease may be charged with, he certainly made no mistake when he appointed Col. A. A. Richardson chief game warden. He is right "on the job."—Greenwood Index.

Is it possible that Blease has done something that you are able to commend. The millennium may dawn yet.

The nation is to be congratulated upon the election of Congressman Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, to the United States senate, over Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson. And it may be remarked, though Mr. Hobson was riding the "prohibition" horse, that the cause of temperance has lost nothing in Mr. Underwood's election.

The recent interviews of Detective Burns, published by the newspapers, in regard to the Frank case in Atlanta, are so palpably an attempt unduly to influence public opinion and thereby to have effect upon the opinion of the court in the case, that it is a wonder such reputable organizations as the Associated Press would give space to them. Frank may be guilty or he may not. We do not know. But his guilt or his innocence will never be properly passed upon by such methods.

We notice from the daily papers that a jury of farmers and business men of Greenville have rendered a verdict for $2,000 against the county on account of injuries incurred by a farmer of account of bad roads. The farmer was hauling a load of brick and the wagon was overturned and injuries to the farmer resulted in his death. His family sued the county for $5,000 and obtained a verdict of $2,000. The farmers of many sections are being damaged every day on account of bad roads. It would be economy to spend some money improving the roads.

If it were not such a manifest injustice to the aspirants for office, we would advocate the formation of a "Society for the Prevention of Handshaking."—Greenwood Index.

There is little doubt that we need a few more "thou shalt not" laws or societies. We need to prevent things and prohibit them—in fact, everything must be regulated and run by statutory enactment or rule. But if you prevent the thing you mention you will deprive some very learned gentlemen of having and using their only asset. The people love a good handshaker, it matters not if he have any other qualification.

It is stated that the county supervisor of Richland county has about completed the portion of the Capital-to-Piedmont highway through Richland county, which covers a distance of about 20 miles out of Columbia towards Newberry. We suppose the Lexington county supervisor will complete the portion that passes through that county. If Supervisor Chappell would place a few drain pipes in the portion that runs through Newberry county and clean out a few ditches, which would not take his chaingang force more than 10 days, we would then have a fine road between the Laurens line and Columbia. This should be done, and after the road is completed a contract should be let to farmers who live along the road to keep it in condition. It would cost very little and would insure a good road all the year.

The city of Greenwood has a very live chamber of commerce and it is doing things for the city and county. Here is an enumeration of some of the things the chamber of commerce is doing for Greenwood, according to the Index:

"Summing up the chamber of commerce of Greenwood is doing the following things at the present time: working with the farmers for increased yields, better markets, etc.; working for better railway facilities and lower freight rates, giving to the public the best of attractions in the Chautauqua, managing and holding the Greenwood Horse show, collecting accounts and furnishing credit information, beautifying the city, advertising Greenwood and bringing in new citizens, working for larger wholesale business, for new industries, for better insurance rates, better fire protection, better housing conditions, etc., etc.

"Can you suggest other things which should be undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce? Are you supporting the organization?"

Some of these things need to be done in Newberry and with some organized body we could be doing all of them.

What are we really doing in an organized way for the advancement of the town and county. We can't do a great deal for the general welfare without some sort of organized effort. We only throw out these suggestions for the information of those most interested.

Don't be afraid you will help some one else if you unite with your neighbor for the advancement of your own community.

Yarns of the Wireless.

Walter S. Hiatt, in Scribner.

The spirit of voyages never-ending, of adventures impossible hovers about the traffic manager's office whence operators meet and are assigned to ships.

"Hello! Jenkins. So you're the man I've been talking to these three years and never yet set eyes upon. That's a great yarn you told me down in the Caribbean about the Kingston negro who got a shock walking under 'Well! well! well! And this is the sport I landed in the business. I bear you handed it to the old man when he asked you to call up the Don Juan de Austria and beg the loan of the key to the keelson. What was your answer? I remember now. You told him you were busy frying fish on your antenna for supper, and when you got that little job finished you intended to find out what became of the waste ether dots. I guess he found you weren't so green, at that . . ."

"Boys! look at the bulletin board! The next operator reported at this office for swearing anywhere within three hundred miles of the port of New York will be severely dealt with. All improper conversation among operators must cease. Listen to this: 'Please note that the s-s Kiruna, call letters S. F. N., of the Rederaktiebolaget Lulea-Ofoten, has been equipped with wireless apparatus, to be operated by the Societe anonyme Internationale de Telegraphic Sans Fil.' Here's more of the same: 'Please note that the call letter of the s-s Bahia Castillo of the Hamburg sud-Amerikanische Dampschiffahrts Gesellschaft is D. B. K.' They hand us stuff like this to remember and then they wonder why fellows get mad and let off steam. . . ."

"When I was at Calcutta, I did a good turn for an old fakir and he took a shine to me. He said he'd let me know when he died. That was three years ago and, will you believe me, this voyage home, a thousand miles at sea, he rung a bell—the astral bell!—right in my cabin, and told me he was dying. He knew the code all right. . . . Well if you fellows won't believe me . . . It's true. No ghost story at all. . . ."

"Yes, the lad at Fame Point died. They said he had heart trouble. I believe it was pure homesickness."

SALE OF ACCOUNTS.

By virtue of a Resolution passed at the meeting of the creditors of S. W. Bruce, held at Newberry, S. C., on the 6th day of April, 1914, the undersigned, will, on the 18th day of April, 1914, at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon, at Chappells, South Carolina, sell to the highest bidder, or bidders, for cash, all the ANNUAL RETURNS.

Executors, guardians or administrators shall, while an estate remains in their care or custody, at any time before the first day of July of each year, render to the Judge of Probate of the county from which they obtained letters testamentary or letters of administration a just and true account, upon oath, of the receipts and expenditures of such estate the preceding calendar year, which when examined and approved, shall be deposited with the inventory and appraisement, or other papers belonging to such estate, in the office of said Judge of Probate, there to be kept for the inspection of such persons as may be interested in the estate.

If any executor, guardian or administrator should neglect to render such annual account he shall not be entitled to any commissions for his trouble in the management of the said estate, and shall moreover be liable to be sued for damages by any person or persons interested in such estate.—Section 3648-3765.

C. C. Schumpert,
Judge of Probate.
