

BRAND NEW TACK FOR CLINKSCALES

PROFESSOR LAUNCHES BOLT AT COTTON MILLS.

Welford Man's Declaration Regarding Industry Main Development at Bishopville.

The State.
Bishopville, June 30.—John G. Clinkscales, candidate for governor, took a new tack today in his race when he joined one of his opponents W. C. Irby, Jr., in demanding a square deal for minority stockholders in South Carolina mills. Mr. Clinkscales was so anxious to avoid the charge of "striking a blow at the foundations of the greatest industrial development of our State" that he read his speech.

Mr. Clinkscales declared that there is a class of cotton mills in this State in whose management the minority of the stockholders has long since lost confidence. Mr. Clinkscales admitted that in many cases there were natural causes for depreciation in the value of cotton mill stocks.

"But I believe that where there is a cotton mill owned and controlled by what we have come to know as the 'selling agent,' who, with the acquiescence of a highly paid mill president, directs the operations of the plant, the South Carolina stockholder has very little show," explained Mr. Clinkscales.

Asks Square Deal.

"Briefly I ask for a square deal for the minority stockholder in the cotton mills of South Carolina that in the end greater confidence may be shown in our great industrial enterprises and our people may escape greater losses in the years to come, and the laborer in these mills get a square deal and better wages. I would avoid in South Carolina a repetition of the losses that have been recently sustained by the minority stockholders of railroads in New England by secret control of these properties through the greater interests.

"In South Carolina we want to assure a healthy condition in our cotton manufacturing enterprises, and it is not asking too much that the people be able to know just what the conditions are that have destroyed confidence in so great a measure in the stocks of cotton mills in this region.

"If elected governor I will urge inquiry into the financial status of the mills of this State. If there be dishonest plans on foot in any company to destroy the value of these properties with a view to their acquisition by the greater interests such an inquiry will bring them to a halt and purify the general industrial atmosphere. I do not believe South Carolinians should be robbed of their money through the manipulation of properties by those in charge for their private gain.

"This statement I make in the nature of a warning and I believe it should be sounded throughout the commonwealth."

B. Frank Kelley, in his home town, today was given a warm reception and merely announced his candidacy for lieutenant governor without making a speech.

Cooper First Up.

R. A. Cooper, the candidate for governor who spoke after Mr. Clinkscales stressed the need of law enforcement and advocated the establishment of demonstration farms in every county under Clemson college.

"The boys and girls living in the country have the same responsibilities and will have to fight the same battles as those in towns and cities," said Mr. Cooper. "Therefore, they should have the same educational equipment, and as governor I would work for the betterment of the schools in the rural districts until they are the equal of those in urban localities."

"A coattail swinger is a man who lacks the grit to go there alone," said John T. Duncan, who told the audience that he proposed to show them that all the other ten candidates for governor were appendages of what he calls the "system."

"I have been fighting the combination of cotton mills for eight years," averred W. C. Irby, Jr., who said in reference to Mr. Clinkscales that he was proud that at least one of the candidates had admitted that he was right. He denounced manipulation of the cotton market by mills and speculators, declaring that it hurt farmers and mill operatives alike. Mr. Irby declared that after years of fighting he had put through the house his bill to force the mills to report to the commissioner of agriculture, only to see it die in the senate. Again Mr. Irby urged the formation of a corporation control commission composed of State officials and others.

No Pardoner, He.

R. I. Manning complimented Lee on the organization of its county fair association and promised cooperation. Mr. Manning stressed enforcement of the law and advocated conservative use of the pardoning power, drawing some applause by saying that criminals fairly considered need not apply to him for pardon.

J. B. A. Mulhally said that the governor had asked him to run for governor of South Carolina. Mr. Mulhally said he would give Mr. Richards a "hot time" if the mayor attacked him because he had his opponent's record in his grip.

"I want to thank you for the reception you have just given me," said John G. Richards when the cheers that greeted him when he arose to speak died down.

"That was all a bluff," remarked a man in the crowd.

Mr. Richards declared that he was too well known in Lee county to need defense for anything anybody said about him. Consequently, he said, he would not take up any time answering anything. He declared that biennial sessions of the general assembly would save the people $100,000 each year the body did not meet.

Mr. Richards claimed that the State was holding him up to opprobrium because of his opposition to compulsory school attendance.

May Destroy Oligarchy.

"There is a newspaper oligarchy in South Carolina which is trying to throttle the will of the people," averred Mr. Richards. Then he told of his intention to vote for Bleas. He threatened to give his reasons why he was opposed to the other candidates for the United States senate, unless certain newspapers stopped "twisting him."

Charles Carroll Simms told of his activity in a case in which he took the position that a farmer could not be put in bankruptcy. He denounced the new rules regulating the primary elections. He said that in Barnwell county every candidate for delegate to the State convention who was a friend to the governor was left at home. Mr. Simms insisted that he was the only administrative candidate for governor whom the State was fighting.

"Is it fair for this newspaper to single me out from among the Bleas candidates and say that I am the only one of them unfit to be governor because of my friendship for Bleas?" asked Mr. Simms.

"There is no complaint about the enforcement of the civil law in this State," said Charles A. Smith, "but the enforcement of the criminal law is almost a farce."

Would Preserve Order.

"Murderers, blind tigers and race track gambling go unwhipped of justice," declared the speaker, who then outlined the measures he has advocated in his previous speeches. He asserted that illiteracy in the State was largely due to the struggle for a livelihood after the devastations of the war.

Mendal L. Smith said that he was making his race on his manhood and record, free from all entanglements and out of all combinations.

Speaker Smith said that education and law enforcement were the two chief planks in his platform.

"So pressing is the need for both of them in South Carolina that I believe that you are going to elect as your next governor a man who advocates them," said Speaker Smith.

The audience applauded Speaker Smith's declaration that he intended if elected governor to use the pardoning power only to advance the ends of justice. He was applauded and cheered when he finished.

Lowndes J. Browning, the last candidate for governor to speak, declared that he had always been a local politician on the whiskey question.

"Some of the other candidates for governor have changed their positions on the liquor question," said Mr. Browning.

He challenged the candidates advocating compulsory school attendance to tell him "where they were going to get the money to run the schools if they put the system into effect."

W. L. Parrott, county chairman and mayor of Bishopville, presided over the meeting, which was opened with a prayer by the Rev. W. A. Brinson.

MRS. W. W. LAKE

Tells Others How to Get Strong and Well.

Mrs. W. W. Lake of Aberdeen, Miss., says: "The gripe had left me in a weak, run-down condition from which I suffered for some time. I tried different remedies but nothing seemed to do me any good until I took Vinol, from which I received great benefit. My cough is almost entirely gone and I am strong and well again, and I am glad to recommend Vinol to others who suffer as I did."

Mrs. Lake's recovery was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements extracted from cods' livers—combined with the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol, and her cough disappeared as a natural result.

We guarantee that Vinol will do all we claim and will pay back your money if Vinol does not satisfy you.

OUR FRIENDS IN PROSPERITY

Give Added Praise. Their Statements Are Convincing.

It is gratifying for us to read such good news as the following, for it shows that the experience of our friends in Prosperity is the same as that of many Newberry men and women who have spoken out so heartily in these columns:

Mrs. J. M. Wheeler, Prosperity, S. C., says: "My kidneys were disordered for a long time, causing terrible pains through my loins and limbs. I also had a constant ache in my back and on some occasions, I could scarcely get about. The kidney secretions were unnatural and annoyed me greatly. I consulted several physicians and tried a number of kidney remedies, but did not improve in the least. I had about given up the hope of ever being cured, when my son-in-law procured a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills for me at Newberry Drug Co. He had read that they were good for kidney trouble and induced me to try them. I did so and after I had taken two boxes, the backache had left and my kidneys were normal."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wheeler had. Foster Milburn Co., Props, Buffalo, N. Y.
