VARIOUS AND ALL ABOUT.

August 12. Is it coming fast. State campaign day.

Hear the county candidates and choose your men.

There is a lie out somewhere. But keep cool. The humidity was bad enough, when it enveloped you.

In reading the morning Star we see that Miss Snow is in Wilmington. She'd melt in Newberry.

The county campaign party is at Mt. Pleasant today. The State and senatorial parties have a rest today.

You will have a good bunch from which to pick your governor at the speaking on August 12.

Everybody vote for C. C. Schumpert for judge of probate. The "other man" is not in it with him.

What about that barbecue, or those two barbecues, at Pomaria campaign day, August 11?

Voting will be easy this time. You don't have to vote for clerk of court, sheriff, county treasurer, auditor, master of county commissioners.

See Sharder and Fisher at the opera house Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Vaudeville singers and dancers, very clever artists.

Miss Kate Traywick's little dog was run over and killed by the train last Saturday morning.—Winnsboro News and Herald, Poor little dog.

The rainfall Saturday was .77, lowering the temperature to 98. Monday the temperature was 103, Sunday 104, Saturday 103, and Friday 102.

The politicians, with their ears to the ground and their eyes open, know very well that woman suffrage is here.—Charleston News and Courier.

Whatever you fail to do, don't fail to behold "The Perils of Pauline" at the Arcade-Airdome today and tonight. And be on the lookout for the great "Million Dollar Mystery."

If you wish for "Memories that Haunt," go to the opera house this afternoon or night, and you will also see "The Resurrection of Gales Worth."

Read the various and all about barbecue notices and become hungry. There is nothing like barbecue hash, mutton, etc., to a hungry man. Prepare your appetite.

A reader wishes to know if we "think it necessary to pull suckers off corn?"—York News. It would pay everywhere to pull suckers off eggs and run in other suckers.

Mr. J. Partlow Neel has sold his cotton platform and cotton weighing business to Mr. C. H. Cannon. The deal was made through the real estate agency of Mr. Frank R. Hunter.

Earl Williams, Rose Tapley and Mary Maurice will be seen in "The Memories That Haunt," a Vitagraph feature in two reels at the opera house today.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of Central Methodist church will meet on Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock with Mrs. Mary Fant.

All persons interested in the School Improvement association are requested to attend a meeting of the association at the town hall in Prosperity Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Some people say they would not be afraid to eat water melon and drink whiskey at the same time. At last accounts from an Augusta negro he was at the point of death from that cause.

There will be a missionary meeting at Central Methodist church, under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary society, Sunday night at 8:30.

A collection will be taken for missions.

The finest, most attention-riveting motion picture the writer has ever seen at the opera house was the production of Captain Alvarez. It was thoroughly enjoyable from start to finish of its six reels.

It is said that Harry Thaw has disappeared, but we fear he will be found.—Anderson Mail. So has the Parr Shoals robber, and we fear that he will never be found. Likewise the mother of that deserted baby, some months ago.

That nice rain Tuesday afternoon, making it so cool and shady and pleasant, gave you a little foretaste of what fall will be to you next time, didn't it? You agree now that fall is the best time and October the loveliest month, don't you? Been telling you that all the time.

Mr. J. M. Counts is preparing to double on barbecues. He tells you that he will have one at his residence as well as one at the place of speaking on State campaign day, which will be a week from next Wednesday.

Hon. Fred. H. Dominick, candidate for congress from the Third district, delivered a speech at Chiquola mill last Thursday night to a large crowd. He is waging an aggressive campaign and is receiving encouraging reports from all counties in the district.—Honea Path Chronicle, 30th.

There will be a protracted meeting at Smyrna church, beginning on Saturday, August 1, Rev. T. C. Croker, pastor. The services will be conducted by Rev. Jas. L. Martin, D. D., of Abbeville. The following week, including the second Sunday in August, a similar meeting, by the same minister, will be held at Morris.

The annual picnic at Beth Eden next Wednesday promises to be an enjoyable occasion, as there is a large crowd present every year having a good time. The same is expected this year. People for miles and miles around always look forward with great anticipations to the annual picnic gathering in the good country of Beth Eden.

In order to restore citizenship, the governor has pardoned Tom Kibler, who was convicted on a charge of grand larceny in November, 1888, at the Edgefield term of court, and sentenced by Judge T. B. Frazer to one year's imprisonment in the State penitentiary.—Columbia cor. News and Courier.

Miss Winnie Brown, of Newberry, was the guest of honor last Saturday morning when Miss Frances Caldwell entertained about 20 girls at a pretty luncheon. Guessing contests furnished the amusement for the occasion, and brows were puckered and brains racked by the clever contests which were given. They afforded quite a lot of merriment until midday, when luncheon was served.—Winnsboro News and Herald, 28th.

Said Mr. Wilbur R. Gauntt, last Tuesday, to the reporter: "You have heard of one man in a thousand; well you are one in twelve hundred." That was stunning, and before the said reporter had time to recover, Mr. Gauntt handed him a large watermelon, remarking that it made twelve hundred melons that he had delivered in Newberry. Yes, we are one in twelve hundred to get a melon, and not a lemon, and were so taken by surprise (it was so sudden) that in the confusion of the moment we forgot what variety he called it. Think he said "Florida Favorite." Thank you, Mr. Gauntt. It is always polite to say, "call again."

From the fine flavor and sweetness of that melon it must have been first cousin to a Bradford. "Onlooker" is right in his plea for merchants to close earlier Saturday nights. We hope this plea will avail. Not since dawn of the day the morning stars first "sang together in glory," when there was "a song in the air and a star in the sky," has there been so wonderful a thing in the starry firmament as the great fiery orb blazing through the immensity of space which scientists call Capella, and of which The Herald and News has been writing, on the principle that "the stars that in their courses roll have much instruction given." The Scientist Service says "if you could lay the sun beside Capella on a table it would look, as to the size, like a boy's marble beside a cannon ball." When one reflects that the diameter of the sun is about 865,000 miles, it is staggering to be told that the diameter of Capella cannot be less than 8,500,000 miles. Think of it and dwell on it, you little insignificant puny worm of the dust that don't amount to a fly in the great universe.

The rain Tuesday was not general, but it was very generous.

Solicitor Cooper would make a fine governor. He is an honest man and a good thinker.—Orangeburg Times and Democrat.

A GREAT DAY IN NEWBERRY

The Children of Epworth Orphanage have Outing in Newberry. Everybody Happy.

The man or the woman who would not contribute his share to make the orphanage happy is devoid of heart and soul. Some time ago Mr. Bonanight, superintendent of the O'Neill street Methodist Sunday school, suggested the idea of inviting the orphans from the Epworth orphanage in Columbia to Newberry to a picnic at the Willowbrook park. President Wright and all the officials of the Newberry mill are always ready and willing to do anything that would tend to the happiness and the uplift of the people who live over there, and so the idea was taken hold of at once and the invitation was extended.

Arrangements were made by which the street car people in Columbia furnished special cars to bring the children from the orphanage to the railroad and President Livingston, of the C. N. & L., willingly offered his good service and a special train was secured and on Wednesday the children, about 200 strong, came to Newberry for an outing. Rev. W. B. Wharton, the superintendent, and several of the assistants were in the party.

It was a most delightful day, not only for the children, but for those who in any way contributed to the enjoyment of the children. It seemed that every one caught the spirit of the day and everything went off as smoothly and as pleasantly as if it were with military precision without the stiffness which attends a military affair. The mill closed down and the young ladies and the old ladies and the children and the men and the boys and every one did everything possible to make the day a success. All the Sunday school joined in and such a bountiful dinner was spread that one seldom sees. There was chicken in every conceivable manner and in abundance and there was ham and beef and pies and cake and truly the multitude was fed and several basketsful were left. The children were taken on automobile rides around the city and they seemed to be happy and to enjoy the day.

Six tables were spread in the pavilion and others on the grounds and in the band stand and there was abundance for all. And it was furnished by the people of the Sunday school of West End principally. There were a few people from the country.

The children who were hosts gave way to their guests and the little ones enjoyed the swings and the slides and the other amusements furnished by the Willowbrook park.

Mr. J. H. Willingham brought in a load of fine watermelons and in the afternoon the children were given a watermelon feast. Ice lemonade and ice cream were served during the day free to the children.

Mr. H. B. Wells, of the opera house, invited all of them over in the afternoon to a four reel picture show and after it was over they marched to the train and returned to Columbia.

It was a great day for the children and for the people of Newberry. President Wright and Superintendent Davis and the other officials are always doing something for the comfort and happiness of the people who live in his mill village and that is one reason he has such a fine class of help who always seem happy and contented.

The Columbia State of Thursday had the following to say of the trip:

"The orphans were taken from the orphanage to the train yesterday morning in two special cars provided by the Columbia Railway, Gas and Electric company. They were taken to Newberry on a special train provided by the Columbia, Newberry & Laurens Railroad company. J. F. Livingston, president, and Horace I. Horton, trainmaster, accompanied the youngsters, who were in charge of the matrons of the orphanage and the Rev. Whitfield B. Wharton, superintendent of the institution. About 200 little ones enjoyed the outing. There are 240 at the orphanage but a number are away on vacations.

"The special train on the return from Newberry reached Columbia about 7 o'clock last night. The good people at Newberry had provided lunch and candy for the kiddies to eat on the return trip. The special street cars met the train and took the orphans home. "The Rev. Mr. Wharton said last night that he could not say too much in thanking all those who gave the orphans "the biggest day they have ever had." He said that the children had been invited to Newberry by the Sunday schools of the Newberry cotton mills. The invitation was extended, said the superintendent, through the Rev. Gobe Smith, pastor of the Methodist church of the Newberry mills. The other denominations joined in giving the orphans a big day of it, he said. Mayor Wright, of Newberry, welcomed them."

PROSPERITY CLUB ENTERTAINS

The Tomato Club Entertained Other Clubs of County—Misses Garlington and Napier Present.

Miss Fannie Holloway, the tomato club organizer for Newberry county, has done faithful, honest, conscientious and hard work during the year, and it has been under trying conditions. This was the first year for the work in the county and it took hard work to organize and then the weather conditions have been unfavorable and many times the girls naturally became discouraged. But Miss Holloway has persevered and visited and encouraged the girls and she now has a fine club of as fine girls as can be found in the State and they are interested in the work.

One of the pleasant features of the work, and all labor has its pleasant side, was the entertainment given the county club by the club at Prosperity, on last Friday.

The Prosperity people know how to make the stranger feel at home and when it comes to an occasion of this kind they are at home at all times. The trains were met and all the visitors made to feel at home at once. The luncheon and demonstration was held at the science hall of the high school.

The visitors were first taken to the town hall where a musical concert was given by the Prosperity club for the benefit of the visitors and from there the visitors went to the school building. A demonstration in making sandwiches and canning tomatoes was given. Practical questions were asked and answered in the matter of the work.

There was also a demonstration in good cooking and the ability to eat by the visitors, for one of those picnic dinners that the good people of this section know so well how to serve, was spread before the guests and very much enjoyed by those fortunate enough to be present.

Miss Garlington, of Laurens, and Miss Napier, of Richland, were present and gave the girls the benefit of their experience.

Altogether it was a delightful occasion. Miss Holloway and her club girls deserve and should have the encouragement of all the people of the county.

Sunday School Convention.

The Sunday school convention for No. 1 township will be held at Cannon Creek Mission church near Mr. J. C. Neel's residence Sunday, August 9, beginning at 2 o'clock p. m.

Programme.

How can Christian people be persuaded to pay more attention to Sunday school work? J. F. Epting and Rev. C. H. Nabers.

The best way to get young children interested in the Sunday school, Mrs. J. Sidney Derrick and Miss Lizzie Salter.

Are women better Sunday school teachers than men? Prof. O. B. Cannon and Dr. E. C. Jones.

We are very anxious to have a good attendance at the convention as the Sunday school is a very important part of our Christian work.

Talks limited to ten minutes each. We shall expect each Sunday school in No. 1 township to send at least two delegates.

Arthur Kibler, For Committee.

News of Pomaria.

Special to The Herald and News. Pomaria, July 30.—Mrs. T. E. Hutto, of Fountain Inn, and Miss Nora Kleckley, of Swansea, spent a few days with Mrs. C. D. Saealy last week.

Mrs. M. E. Long has taken her annual trip to Greenville, her home county, where she will spend the remainder of the summer months with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Wideman Ligon, who has been staying with Mr. B. M. Setzler, has gone to the mountains of North Carolina for the summer.

Mr. B. M. Setzler, in company with Mr. Bullock, of Newberry, has gone to Knoxville, Tenn., for a few days.

Mr. C. T. Wooten, of Statesboro, Ga., spent a few days with his wife and relatives some time ago. Mrs. Wooten is spending a few months with her sisters, Mrs. Aull and Mrs. Setzler.

Mr. W. L. Bedenbaugh surprised the town Saturday by bringing several open cotton bolls to display. Every one enjoyed the barbecue, speaking and ball game here on July 25. The score of the ball game was 3 to 1 in favor of Pomaria and the game was very interesting. Almost the same programme will be carried through on August 11. The barbecue will be for the benefit of the school, and a large crowd is expected. A good time and a fine dinner may be expected.
