

PURELY PERSONAL

The Movements of Many People, Newbernians, and Those Who Visit Newberry.

Mrs. Eva J. Shealy has changed from Pomaria to Leesville.

Mr. Pat Boland, of Little Mountain, was in the city Monday.

Mr. Henry Lane, of Hendersonville, is in the city.

Miss Annie Green, of Buffalo school, spent the week-end in the city.

Mr. J. B. Smith, of Greenwood, came down on Saturday, visiting his brother, Dr. T. W. Smith.

The Rev. Y. von A. Riser, of Pomaria, was in Columbia yesterday.—The State, 10th.

Miss Cordie Cole, of Whitmire, has returned home after visiting Mrs. Norwood Martin.—Libson cor. Laurens Advertiser, 9th.

Our people are ready to welcome Mr. Morris, the successor of the Rev. F. E. Dibble. He will be given a hearty hand shake and welcome by all.—Ninety Six cor. Greenwood Journal, 9th.

Mrs. S. C. Morris, of Prosperity, spent several days here last week with her sister, Mrs. Jas. Barr. The Conference sends Rev. Morris to Jonesville for next year.—Leesville News, 9th.

On behalf of the grand lodge, Deputy Grand Master R. A. Cooper presented to Past Grand Master George S. Mower a handsome gold watch in recognition of his distinguished service to the craft.—The State, 10th.

The Rev. E. C. Cronk, D. D., secretary of the Lutheran Laymen's Missionary movement returned yesterday from Newberry, where he went to speak to the student body on mission study yesterday morning. Dr. Cronk leaves today for a campaign in the interest of the movement in Virginia. This tour will include Roanoke, East Radford and Marion, Va., and Knoxville, Tenn. He will return to Columbia one week hence.—The State, 10th.

Rev. J. E. Carlisle, who was placed upon the superannuated list at his own request at the last session of the Methodist conference, may take up his residence in Laurens, according to a news item in the Newberry Observer. Rev. Carlisle married in Laurens, his wife being a daughter of Mrs. M. E. Roland, and he owns property here. He and his family would be given a cordial welcome in the city where they would prove a valuable acquisition to its religious and social life.—Laurens Advertiser, 9th.

J. K. Wicker, M. D., will open an office in the Survey building next to the Eau Claire library in connection with the drug store which Burns & Little will open about January 15. A substation of the Columbia post-office will also be situated in the new drug store. This office will have three collections daily by a carrier from the city.—The State. This is one of our own Newberry boys, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. H. Wicker.

VARIOUS AND ALL ABOUT.

It is to be "The Naked Truth" today at the Opera House.

The patrons of the Speers street school will meet at the school building Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Next year will be a busy one for magistrates. Mr. L. M. Player will have his hands full.

Give your sunshine—that will do, to help the skies turn bright and blue.—Bentztown Bard. Let the sky be blue, but not you.

A teaspoonful of lemon juice in a small cup of black coffee will relieve a bilious headache.—From uses of a lemon.

If you have a hole in your shoe (other than what you put your foot in) everybody is bound to see it—just like a hole in your stocking.

Mr. H. H. Evans says he was 14 years old when he wore his first pair of shoes.—Pageland Journal. That was not our Hub—some other.

Speaking of the right girls we know of some of the right girls in Laurens and some of the right girls in Newberry.

We are looking for bad roads.—Correspondent in exchange. You wouldn't have to look for them in this county.

Don't forget the "Country Store" at the Arcade Tuesday night. 12 pound turkey and other prizes given away. Also 5 reels of pictures.

Don't fail to see "The Million Dollar Mystery" Arcade Wednesday. Just bear in mind only 3 more episodes after this.

Number bales cotton ginned in Newberry county to December the first, 28,276, against 32,229 to that date last year.

The bazaar by the ladies of Central Methodist church, at the Crowell hotel on Friday afternoon and night netted about $60.

It will not take long for the penitentiary to be filled next year, when the stealing gets under good headway.

The Christmas box for the Lutheran orphan home will be packed Tuesday afternoon, December 15. Those sending gifts will please have them at the parsonage by that time.

Killed a crane measured from extremity to extremity, 5 feet 8 1-2 inches and 4 feet and 8 1-2 inches.—Exchange. We measure from tip to tip here in Newberry.

It goes without saying that the doctor is a very important man in every community.—Edgefield Chronicle. You strike us right whenever you say anything good about the doctor.

Mr. W. H. Blats is now at J. Lurey's shoe house where he is prepared to continue working his talent for making and repairing boots and shoes for his friends and anybody else.

Copeland Bros. say "it pays to advertise," as they "are getting the trade." That is what one of the brothers threw across the street at the reporter yesterday.

The Arcade has secured for Friday "What the Gods Decree" a four reel special by the Eclair Co. Price for this feature is 10 cents to all, afternoon and night.

Envy is an awful thing. More people than ever have been abusing Mr. Bryan since a pretty girl tried to kiss him the other day.—News and Courier. They are trying "awful hard to head Bryan off; but they just can't do it.

Parents can do no better for their daughters than to place them under the tutelage of the competent instructors at Anderson college, headed by that prince of educators, Dr. Kinard.—Anderson Intelligencer.

The Delma correspondent of the Leesville News uses "alright." We rise to remark to said correspondent that there is no such word. It is "all right." Now if he got it from us we hasten to forgive him.

There will be a box party with an old time cake walk, at St. Luke's school house on Friday night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, to be given by the St. Luke's school improvement association. Public warmly invited.

"The college has a great future. The administration of Dr. Jas. P. Kinard as president has been remarkable." That was what Mr. M. M. Mattison, of Anderson told a State reporter in Columbia on last Tuesday, while speaking of Anderson college.

One of the worst errors we have come across in several moons appeared in the esteemed News and Courier Monday morning, the headlines to the announcement of a marriage reading as follows: "Timmonsville Marriage: Miss.....and Mr..... Dead."—Earnwell People.

There will be preaching at the Pomaria Methodist church, on next Sunday afternoon, by the Rev. D. P. Boyd, who will also preach at Mt. Pleasant church on the fourth Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m. and at New Hope at 3:30 p. m.

The Philathea class of First Baptist church will have fancy work and other articles on sale at Miss Anne O. Ruff's store from Thursday, December 17, until Christmas. Don't miss this opportunity to buy a suitable gift for each member of the family.

The Silverstreet school improvement association will serve an oyster supper in the school house auditorium Friday night, December 18, beginning at 7:30. There will also be a bazaar which will contain many useful ornaments as well as Christmas gifts. The public is cordially invited.

We never before have seen so much land posted against trespass as this year. If all these people who post their land be thoroughly consistent, there will be very little hunting done away from home this season.—Delmar cor. Leesville News. It seems to be a general movement.

The appel crop looks promising, but it would look a good deal more promising if several mischievous boys in our midst would let the appels remain on the trees until they become ripe instead of eating them green and suffering from stummick ache which they deserve.—Bingville Bugle. Rather late but to the point.

What easier way to thwart Wilson than to force Bryan out of the cabinet or to create trouble between him and the president? Fortunately, the motives of this class of the secretary's accusers are proportionately harmless.—Baltimore Sun. That is it, in a nutshell. People see why certain newspapers criticise Bryan.

Mrs. R. H. Wright was hostess to the Woman's club on Thursday afternoon when the following programme was carried out: Roll call; responses, current events; a discussion of Greek and Egyptian art, led by Mrs. F. R. Hunter, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Larson and Mrs. W. H. Hunt.

An escaped prisoner from the Wallalla jail when recaptured in North Carolina the other day gave as a reason for breaking jail that he just went to the mountains for some apples. Maybe he had heard that the apple crop of the nation is estimated at 230,249,000 bushels for this year, and wanted his share.

At the meeting of the county medical society in Dr. O. B. Mayer's office on Friday, Dr. Z. T. Pinner was elected president, Dr. W. E. Pelham, Jr., vice president and Dr. Jno. B. Setzler secretary and treasurer, with Drs. W. G. Houseal, J. M. Kibler and W. A. Dunn as the board of censors. Dr. Houseal read his paper on "Otitis Media" and a discussion followed by several members of the society.

In the 21st chapter of St. Luke it is written: And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring; men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth; for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.

The Feast of Lights, or the Feast of Dedication, known in Hebrew as Chanukkan, began Saturday evening, to continue for eight days. With the Jews, it is a holiday of deep and far-reaching significance. The celebration of the feast has no elaborate ritual in the synagogue or in the home. It has become a special children's feast.—News and Courier.

The Washington government seems at last to have reached the conclusion that there is a point at which patience ceases to be a virtue. For some weeks Mexicans of two rival factions have been firing whenever they felt like it across the border into American territory in and about Naco Arizona.—News and Courier. Dr. W. G. Houseal is right when he says the psychological moment has arrived.

At the Darlington Poultry show last week Dr. W. E. Pelham, Jr., won prizes on his Buff Plymouth Rocks, as follows: Cocks, second and fifth; cockerels, second and fifth; pullets, second and fourth. J. L. Welling, formerly of Newberry, now and again of Darlington: Cocks, first, hens, second and fourth; pullets, fifth; pens, first. Black Orpingtons: Cocks, first, J. L. and A. W. Welling; also pullets, fourth, and pens, fourth.

In these times when it is so hard to collect money, The Herald and News' cash collector would like to mention on exceptional case. He owed us $4.25. He had $3.50 went out and borrowed the 75 cents balance. Who else would have done that? That young man (who is in business with his father) is bound to succeed. Such a spirit cannot die. Ask for his name and we will tell.

There is talk in some parts of the county of assassinating Uncle Santa Claus, but there is a big movement on foot to prevent his assassination, and he will be in Newberry on time. Really we don't know where you will find his headquarters. Some say at Mayes' book and variety store. Others say at Robinson's ten cent store. All we know is it looks mighty "pritty" at both places.

John Robertson drove a horse that was so lame that walking was difficult. Inspector Starling declared that to work a horse in the condition charged was clearly a case of cruelty to animals.—Columbia Record. Just like a horse that was driven through Newberry a Sunday or two ago. Robertson was taxed $5 or ten days. The Newberry man should suffer the penalty. We are against anybody who mistreats a dumb animal.

That was a surprising rain late Saturday night or early Sunday morning, whenever it began. It came "as a thief in the night," taking by surprise everybody but some wiseacre and a half. Now for another week of it, thought old pessimist. Not so, proclaimed the old reliable optimist, Big Sol, bright and early Monday morning. And thus the dark days and blue Mondays disappear, when "the clouds roll by."

The day on which the daily newspapers published the account of the recent robbery at Mr. John H. Baxter's home, Mr. R. H. McDonald, of Columbia, was in Charleston, and as he read, it struck him that the overcoat as described was his. He got in communication with Mr. Baxter with the result that the coat was returned to its owner. A letter has been received by Mr. Baxter from Mr. McDonald, thanking him for his trouble, etc. Mr. McDonald says "so much for reading the papers."

The December meeting of the Jasper chapter, D. A. R., was held on Friday afternoon with Mrs. L. W. Jones in Calhoun street. The programme was as follows: Roll call; responses, old churches of the Revolutionary period; business; report of delegates to State convention in Rock Hill; reading, "The Prominence of the Church in Carolina's Foundation Period," Miss Fannie McCaughrin. At the conclusion of the programme refreshments were served.

Nothing is so good as pumpkin pie. The only thing that prevents it from becoming a staple article of food is the failure of the United States government to valorize the pumpkin crop.—Gaffney Ledger. When did you get into this? Have you been reading various and all about? The same fellow goes on to say that the odor of pumpkin pie "is sweeter than were ever ambrosial perfumes to the gods on Olympus, and the taste of which would delight a palate wearied with the fabled pastries of Arabia." Plant pumpkins.

It was mentioned in last issue that Coroner Lindsay was investigating a killing. It turned out to be accidental, and happened on the J. E. Wessinger place just beyond Jalapa, on last Thursday morning. The dead boy, Jas. Rutherford, was 12 years old, the accidental slayer Elbert Smith, 11. Both colored. The coroner held an inquest Thursday afternoon, and the jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts, which were that Elbert Smith was cleaning the gun in his lap, when it exploded accidentally, killing James Rutherford.

Sunday was a glorious day. Of course it rained all morning. But you were thankful to have been "brought in safety to the beginning of this day." You were thankful that blindness did not keep you from looking out the window to the trees wet with the rain, while the firelight's warmth kept you comfortable. Thankful for health and the ability to enjoy good reading. Some ought to have been thankful that they are not in jail, where maybe a few of them belong. But many will never wish they had been thankful until they "wake up in hell," when it will be too late.

The Excelsior Literary society has elected the following as officers for second term beginning January 5, 1915: President, J. E. Long; vice president W. L. Mills; recording secretary, R. Pool; assistant secretary, O. B. Mayer, Jr.; corresponding secretary, H. Bedenbaugh; treasurer J. W. Smith; prospective critic, E. H. Seckinger; first reporting critic, C. C. Epping; second reporting critic, D. Oxner; third reporting critic, G. Paschal; librarian, N. Mallory; sergeant-at-arms, N. P. Mitchell; chaplain, G. A. Claus; page, H. Boozer; excuse and appeal committee, H. R. Long, K. R. Kreps, G. P. Yonce.

"That a foot may be dipped in the blood of thine enemies; and that the tongue of thy dogs may be red through the same," is written in the 23rd verse of the 68th Psalm, and is applicable to at least one of the rulers of the warring countries. As for us we prefer the latter clause of the 30th verse of the same Psalm: "And when he hath scattered the people that delight in war." Also this from the litany: "What it may please thee to give to all nations unity, peace and concord, we beseech thee to hear us, good Lord."

Tonight the great "Naked Truth" will be presented at the Opera House. As this is one of the finest and highest priced productions of the day, being in five reels, the prices of admission will be 10 and 20 cents. Some people would rather go to a picture show than to a real performance. It would cost first class price to see "The Naked Truth" in a regular play, and it in a condensed form. In the pictures you see the entire presentation, with nothing cut out except the talk, and all for 10 and 20 cents. It is really remarkable. Manager Wells has also secured the companion pictures, "Epartacus," and "The Lion of Veince."

Four months ago John P. Grace's paper in Charleston made this prediction: "Within the next 60 days the world will know the power of Germany. France will fall at her feet; the slaggard, Russia, will scarcely have massed her forces upon the German frontier when another Paris treaty will have been written, ceding further territory to Germany either in Europe or the French colonies. She will then turn, as Napoleon did, and march through Russia at will; and when France and Russia have made terms at Paris and St. Petersburg, respectively, Germany will do what Napoleon failed to do—she will cross the English Channel and land an enormous army in England."

The A. R. P. orphans will be the recipients of the proceeds at the Opera House moving picture show on Wednesday. As this will be the last of the orphanage benefit shows it is to be hoped that a large audience will be present both afternoon and night. Mr. A. B. Cheatham, of Abbeville, in his call said: "Let the managers agree that all receipts above actual expenses be given to the orphanages." Mr. H. B. Wells, who started the movement and has given a benefit performance for each of the orphanages, devotes the entire proceeds to the cause, regardless of expenses. Mr. Cheatham is right when he says the newspapers are always ready to help a good cause, and "the movement may be made a worthy effort to feed the little ones who are crying for bread."

What are our relations today with the nations of South America and of Europe and of the Orient? It is the answer to these questions which counts, and Mr. Bryan need not be afraid of it. Conceding the sincerity of some of his critics, the fact remains that many others oppose him because they are inherently opposed to Democracy and the popular rule for which Mr. Bryan stands. And others oppose him because they wish to discredit or hinder the Wilson administration. They recognize the fact that without Bryan the Wilson programme could not have been put through at the last session of congress. They believe that without Bryan the programme for the present and future sessions cannot be put through.—Baltimore Sun. Well said, and The Herald and News reporter thanks you for saying it.
