Slight rise of rivers in State due to rain.—Headline. What else could the rise be due to? Corn liquor, you reckon?

Cotton is still going up and the end is not yet. A good many farmers are selling and 12 cents pays debts much faster than 8 cents cotton.

The Herald and News had quite a number of pleasant callers on Saturday and many of them took advantage of the sale price now on for The Herald and News. Only ten days more at the price—$1.19—so come right along and avoid the grand rush at the close.

Mr. L. Morris has a unique sign on either window as you enter his store. On one side is his name written in Indian pennies and on the other window it is written in Lincoln pennies. He was careful, however, to do the writing on the inside of the glass.

An advance agent from Spartanburg was in the city yesterday and wanted to get Mr. Wells to put on the Leo Frank moving pictures. Mr. Wells, of course, promptly turned down the proposition. Wells runs a clean picture show and you can always feel safe in patronizing his place.

Mr. Robert H. Folk, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Folk of this county, who has been doing special work in surgery in the hospital at Wilmington, N. C., has returned to Baltimore, Md., to finish his course in medicine at the medical college. This is Mr. Folk's last year at the medical college. He has been appointed first assistant in the clinical department of the hospital in Baltimore and will do that work in connection with his last year at college. He was one of four students selected to do work in the James Walker hospital at Wilmington, which was quite an honor and recognition of the good work that Mr. Folk did in the college in Baltimore.

Our good friend Hayne Folk says he was seriously thinking of bringing a damage suit against our Prosperity correspondent for saying that Miss Grace Burton Reagin was to teach the St. Phillips school, but on second thought he says he concluded it might have been worse. She might have said that she was going to teach at Jolly Street. As a matter of fact she is to teach in the Zion school the coming session. Mr. Folk delights in joking the Jolly Street school, when as a matter of fact he is very proud of what Jolly Street did, because after he found out that Jolly Street was going to establish a rural graded school he immediately went to work to establish the rural graded school at Zion.

Life is too short for mean anxieties.—Kingley.

CAROLINA VS. NEWBERRY

Indians Unable to Make First Down—Score 29 to 0.

Columbia, Oct. 2.—The University of South Carolina opened its football season by defeating Newberry college here today, 29 to 0. Nearly all of Carolina's scoring was done in the last two periods by means of skillfully executed forward passes and long end runs. Cope and Hill of Carolina, were the individual stars. Newberry did not make first down.

AMONG THE SCHOOLS.

The question is often asked: What is the chief business of a high school? Is it the function of the secondary school primarily to prepare for life, or primarily to prepare for college? These are some of the points considered always by those whose duty it is to make and balance the high school curriculum.

The superintendent of the Newberry city schools has this gratifying report to make of the twenty-two who received high school diplomas last June: Eighteen are in some college, two have applied for extra work in the high school, one is working in a store, and one is at her home in the country now, but will go to college later.

Of the twenty-two the following twelve have entered Newberry college: James Dennis, William Halfacre, Douglas Hornsby, Mildred Evans, Kathryn Harms, Ruth Digby, Martaa Kennerly, Eldridge McSwain, Willie Belle Duckett, Winnie Eleazer, Elise Peterson, Louise Smith. Two, Mattie Lou Wicker and Frances Wheeler, have entered Winthrop college. Ruth Head is at Greenville Woman's college. Goode Burton is at Anderson college. Henry Rikard is at the University of South Carolina, and Julia Summer at Chicago College for Women.

Blanche Norris and Dorothy Taylor have asked for fourth year work in Newberry High school. Robert West is working with the Mayes book and variety store. Fannie Eleazer is at home.

Besides the twenty-two who completed the high school course, twelve who were in other grades in the high school last year have entered other institutions. Jack Dunstan has gone to the Citadel as the winner of the scholarship from Newberry county. He had just finished the ninth grade. Maude Gruber, Adrian Summer, Gerrie Summer, Thos. Davenport, Edward Davis entered Newberry college from the ninth grade. Ralph Langford of the ninth grade went to Porter Military school. Azile Parr of the eighth grade and her sister, Eddie Mae, of the tenth grade, are at Due West college. Forster Smith, Marion Blease, Harriet Mayer, Harry Summer of last year's eighth grade are in the preparatory department of Newberry college.

So long as thirty of those who were in the high school last year are in some college, and we know of not more than five enrolled last year, that are not in school this year, we must conclude that the function of Newberry High school in 1914-15 was to prepare for college.

There are forty-four, just twice the number of last year's class, enrolled in the tenth grade for 1916. Just how many of these will take a college course remains to be seen. The high school is justly proud of this class. Not simply because of the quantity, but the quality of its material. The accomplishments of this class will no doubt be the greatest in the history of the school.

There are thirty-four in the ninth grade and fifty-five in the eighth grade, making a total of 133.

Church Notice.

There will be communion service at Bachman chapel on Sunday, October 10, beginning at 11 a. m. No service there in the afternoon, and none on Friday or Saturday preceding.

Henry Brown is hereby announced as a candidate for alderman from Ward 5 and will abide the rules of the Democratic primary.

News From St. Phillips.

The people in this section are busily engaged in picking cotton. We are proud the price is better than last year and hope for still better.

St. Phillips school house is being painted now and it adds very much to its looks. We are proud of our two nice buildings, and they both are finished. All they need is to be furnished and they will be ready for service, and will be glad when both buildings are painted, and hope the people will not neglect this much longer. You see the difference it has made in the school house, and surely you won't let the church stand without the brush being used on it.

St. Phillip school opens October 11 and will be taught by Misses Ola and Vinnie Brown.

There was a large crowd at the ice cream festival at the residence of Mrs. A. F. Ruff and I thank the people for their good behavior. I am glad all enjoyed themselves and had a nice time, and I thank the ladies for their kindness in so liberally helping.

St. Phillips new church will be furnished with a bell.

It seems that all the widowers have taken a notion to marry at once, and St. Paul's parsonage is very popular.

I am sorry the good old summer time is gone, and fall is here, and the beautiful green foliage will change to sadness and rude winter will come with its icy winds and chill the people.

Married.

Married, by Rev. D. P. Boyd, at the Pomaria Methodist parsonage, on the 10th day of October, 1915, in the presence of a few friends, Mr. Albert Wilson and Miss Istalena Summer, both of Pomaria.
