VARIOUS AND ALL ABOUT.

Mr. H. H. Wyse of Greenwood is the near clerk at the Savoy hotel. The state legislature convenes today, Tuesday. Ring off! Somebody else wants to talk over the foam. The Ladies Aid society of the Lutheran church will meet at the parsonage Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Weather forecast: Suffragette temperature rising, culminating in storm sent her. The Rev. W. R. Bouknight lost a very fine horse on Monday morning. He valued the horse at $225. Newberry's artesian water is cold and clear. So was the weather last Sunday. A simple guy asked the new bus man how much it cost to ride in the jitney bus. The members of the Newberry delegation have gone to Columbia for the legislative session. As soon as the great European strike is over no doubt the men will go back to work. Sergeant-at-arms J. Fred Schumpert of the senate has the chamber ready for the senators. He says the new rostrum is a beauty. One writer puts it, "A settled country that isn't worth a good road and a good school isn't worth living in." There is no getting away from the fact. Do you believe in signs? If your paper stops coming to your home, it is a sign that your subscription has expired. Roll on thou dark and deep blue ocean roll. Ten thousand submarines may sweep thy crest for us. Leslie's moving picture show in Caldwell street has opened up with good pictures and a flourishing business. The jitney bus has come and is doing good business. Now give us jitney movies and a jitney grocery store—these three, and the people's happiness will be complete. The temperature last Friday morning dropped so far and so rapidly that the friction caused by the swift dropping of the mercury burned out several thermometers in Newberry. There are seven passenger trains through Newberry on Sundays, yet it is impossible to go to Columbia on Sunday and return on the same day by rail. But then, who wants to go to Columbia? Mr. David Cook of near Prosperity will erect a fine dwelling on his farm as soon as the lumber can be sawed. Mr. G. W. Kinard's saw mill has been moved there for the purpose of sawing the lumber. The parent teacher's association of Boundary Street school will be held Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Prof. A. Keiser will address the association. Every mother is expected to prove her interest by being present. Miss Ida B. Neal, who will be pleasantly remember as a member of the office force at the summer school, has accepted a position as secretary to Miss Frayser. Miss Neal is a sister of Georgia Neal of the class of 1913, and who is now teaching in Statesboro, Ga.—Winthrop Weekly. Hon. B. V. Chapman says he will introduce a bill in the legislature to compel all old bachelors to get married immediately or go to the electric chair. Provided that members of the legislature from Newberry county who are bachelors are exempt from this law. Sheriff Blease arrested a man named C. G. Corley of near Holly Ferry, Saluda county, for a rather unusual offense. The man was selling, or attempting to sell a recipe for making booze at a very low cost. He had a quantity of alcohol in his pocket, which is used as one of the ingredients in this unique compound. Mr. B. B. Reid's portable museum contains another relic not mentioned in our last account. It is a paper ten cent or "shin plaster," as they were sometimes called. It is about three inches long and two inches wide. One side is blank and on the other side there is the picture of two cubes representing China tea and a barrel lying on its side. The inscription runs thus. P. Cantwell will pay the bearer ten cents on demand in correct funds. P. Cantwell, Columbia, S. C., June, 1862. The auto transfers should not despair. There is a profitable field open for the man with the energy and the will. Put on a transfer line from Newberry to Saluda court house and return the same day. Two cars would make it possible to visit each county seat and return the same day. Also a Newberry-Whitmire line could be operated. Of course in extremely muddy weather the schedule would have to be suspended, but leaving out the bad days, a regular schedule could be maintained between those points for at least ten months in the year. In filming "The Crimson Wing," Essanay's six-act features taken from Hobart C. Chatfield-Taylor's novel every effort possible was put forth in order to bring about perfect detail. Most of the scenes are laid in the historic battle ground on the border between France and Germany, where the present conflict is now in progress, and as Mr. Chatfield-Taylor has been over that territory numerous times he is thoroughly familiar with the country presented in the photoplay. It will be shown at the operat house Thursday, January 13.

DANIEL THEODORE DANIELSON

For Twenty-eight Years the Faithful Watchman at Newberry Cotton Mills.

There are a few men connected with the Newberry cotton mills who have been in the employment of the mills almost from the organization of the company. There are few, if any, however, who have been continuously on one job, during all the years.

Before the city of Newberry had a town clock to strike the hours, the watchman at the Newberry cotton mills struck the hours during the night, and he has been doing this regularly and continuously since 1888. It had come to be considered the standard time and many of the citizens would regulate their clocks by the hours as struck by the Newberry cotton mills, from seven in the evening to five in the morning.

The gentleman who has been holding down this job all these years has a very interesting history, and while not a native of Newberry, nor of the United States, the greater part of his life has been spent in Newberry county, and in Edgefield county.

Daniel Theodore Danielson was born in Copenhagen, Denmark, on the eighth of March, 1842. His father was a lumber dealer in Denmark, and his lumber yards were located on the sea adjoining the palaces of the king. It was here in Denmark that Mr. Danielson was educated. He had only one brother, and while his father was not wealthy, yet he was well-to-do, and young Theodore was the idol of his mother, and was reared without having to do much hard labor. In fact, his playmates were the children of royalty, who would come out of the palace, which was, as stated, near the lumber yards of his father. King George of Greece and Princess Alexandra of England were among the playmates of young Danielson.

According to the laws of Denmark it is necessary for every young man, on reaching the age of twenty-one to be drafted into the army and to serve for three years, and after such service to remain subject to the call of the government, in case of war, for five years longer.

The mother and father of Theodore could not bear the idea of his entering the army, so his father decided to send him to America.

He first came to New York, and from New York to Chicago, where he remained for a few months clerking in a grocery store, and afterwards worked on a farm in Illinois for several months, going from there to Pittsburg, Pa., and thence back to New York.

It was his purpose to return to Denmark, but there being a demand for immigrants in the South about that time, he came from New York to South Carolina, in 1867, coming first directly to Newberry.

His first service here was with Mr. Scott, who at that time was handling fertilizer. After working for Mr. Scott for a few months, he went to Edgefield, where he worked with Mr. D. P. Bouknight and Col. Jerry Goggans. During this time it was still his intention to return to Denmark, but a little romance entered into his life about the time he was ready to go, and before he heard from his father, he had set up a household of his own, having been married to Miss P. B. Salter of Edgefield on the 8th of April, 1870. This precluded his return to Denmark, and he began life in earnest in Edgefield county, farming and working at other things during the time.

The editor of The Herald and News remembers Mr. Danielson when he was working in the capacity of a fireman on a saw mill in Edgefield county near Good Hope church, which was operated and owned by Mr. J. L. Aull and Mr. J. B. Haltiwanger.

Mr. Danielson returned to Newberry in November, 1887, and for about a year worked at different things in the Newberry cotton mills. During the year 1888 he was employed as night watchman and has continuously and consecutively filled this position ever since. He fills it well and conscientiously, and has the confidence and COTTON MARKET table with columns for location (Newberry, Prosperity, Pomaria, Little Mountain, Silverstreet, Chappells, Kinard's, Whitmire) and price per bushel for Cotton and Cotton seed.

Moves to North Carolina.

Rev. P. E. Shealy, who resigned the Beth Eden pastorate some time ago, will conclude his work on January 31 and will move to Landis, N. C., where he has accepted work in the North Carolina synod. Mr. Shealy has two churches, one about four miles in the country and the other in town, and will begin work about the middle of February. Mr. Shealy has served the Beth Eden pastorate about three and a half years and in that time he has lifted a $1,350 mortgage from the parsonage, has baptised 77 children and received into the church in this charge 44 new members. Mr. and Mrs. Shealy have made many friends during their sojourn in Newberry who wish them well in their new field of endeavor.

esteem of the men in authority over the mill.

Mr. Danielson's first wife died on March 18, 1894, leaving three sons and three daughters. The oldest son, Chris S., married Miss Nancy Bedenbaugh of Newberry; the next son, A. M., married Miss Lula Bedenbaugh of Newberry, and the youngest, J. T., married Miss Sally Oxner of Maybinton. The eldest daughter, Nancy, married J. R. Wood of Newberry; the next daughter, Christine, married J. F. Gleason of Providence, R. I., and the youngest daughter, Elizabeth, married J. W. Taylor of Newberry, and they are all living.

Mr. Danielson married the second time Mrs. M. E. Davenport, on the 1st of August, 1894, and she is still living. He became a member of the Baptist church of Sardis, in Saluda, in 1872, and moved his membership to West End Baptist church, in Newberry, in 1888. He is clerk and treasurer of the above named church and has served as treasurer ten years and four years as clerk, and he has been secretary and treasurer of the W. E. Baptist Sunday school for ten years, and secretary of the Reedy River association for three years.

He became a member of Pulaski lodge, No. 20, I. O. O. F., and has been for ten years treasurer of this order, and was grand chaplain of the G. L. of I. O. O. F. for two years. He is a member of Bergell tribe, No. 24, Improved Order of Red Men, and for the present is member of the grand encampment of I. O. O. F. in the state.—From The Herald and News, December 10, 1909.

Mr. Danielson died at his home in Newberry on last Thursday afternoon after an illness of several weeks. He was buried at Rosemont Friday afternoon. The service was held at the West End Baptist church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. W. Stone, assisted by Rev. E. V. Babb.

All the children were present. Chris T. lives in Columbia and is connected with the Southern oil mill. J. T. Gleason now lives in Greenville. The others reside in Newberry and all are living. Mr. Danielson's second wife died some years ago and he was again married to Miss Wilson, who survives him. The funeral was attended by the representatives of the Odd Fellows, of which lodge he was only recently re-elected treasurer, and by the Red Men, who assisted in the funeral services. Mr. Danielson was a good man and far above the average in intelligence.

Of his two sons in Newberry, A. M. is second hand in the weave room at the Newberry mill and J. T. is section hand in the card room.

The Newberry library is free to the public Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week. The rooms are in charge of the librarian, who, free of charge, keeps the rooms warm and pleasant, helps select books and takes down the numbers of books that are taken from the library. Now in order to pay for wood and lights and put new books in the library from time to time money is needed, and the Newberry Library association asks aid of all public spirited men and women in Newberry. For the small sum of one dollar six books and three new magazines may be taken from the library every week for one year.

Among the books recently added to the library are: "Nobody," by Louis Joseph Vance. "Secret History," by C. N. and A. M. Williamson. "The Foolish Virgin," Thos. Dixon. "The Inner Law," by Harben.
