Entered at the Postoffice at Newberry, S. C., as 2nd class matter. E. H. AULL, EDITOR.

Friday, February 4, 1916.

We judged from Governor Manning's appeal to the legislature and all that has been said in reference to the asylum that there had been a great saving in the maintenance of the institution, but we notice from the appropriation bill that the expenses are greater than they were before and greater this year than last year, and greater last year than the year before and the number of patients is about the same. Certainly the appropriation bill does not show any material reduction in the amount appropriated for maintenance.

A few years ago we visited the institution at Morganton, N. C., and the cost for maintenance there was about $150 to $160 per year per patient, and if we read the figures correctly the cost in this state is something over $200 per patient per annum. But whatever is necessary for the proper and humane care of the patients should be given.

The little disturbance down in Charleston over the election in that city cost the state about ten thousand dollars, so Governor Manning says, and he borrowed the money to pay the bills and asks the legislature to reimburse the banks. Of course this will have to be paid.

The Herald and News publishes in this issue the Newberry county supply bill as introduced in the legislature by the Newberry delegation, and, of course, as it will be enacted into law unless changed or amended by the delegation.

It will be seen from an examination of the appropriations made that the total is something over $45,000 and the levy is only three and one-half mills. This levy will raise about $25,000. The commutation tax and the fines and licenses will scarcely amount to $5,000, but suppose they do, that will give only $30,000, an amount some $15,000 short of the amount appropriated.

The Herald and News man never claimed to be much of a business man, but we can't exactly figure out just how it is expected to meet an appropriation of $45,000 with an income of $30,000. We would be glad to see the members of the delegation cipher it out. Borrow money, we suppose, is the solution, but it will have to be paid some time or other and the people will have to pay it, and the interest as well. That may be good business, but it does not appeal to us as good business for a county to raise less revenue than it takes to run the business of the county. The longer this policy is pursued the bigger the debt will get. The county is now without money and running on a credit.

The Record publishes a statement from a prominent lawyer quoting the state constitution on the subject of holding more than one office. He also quotes some of the opinions of the attorney general's office on the subject. The English language could not be plainer than that provision of the constitution in regard to members of the legislature, nor could it be made more comprehensive, but what's the difference? The members of the legislature pay absolutely no attention to it, and the people approve their course by continuing to elect them. To nades with the constitution when it suits their convenience to let it go there. But the public conscience is getting aroused. It may be a small thing, but the violation of the oath of office in small things is just as much wrong as in large things. The day of reckoning will come. The governor and United States senator and senators and representatives pay no heed to this provision of the constitution. But we hear in loud acclaim that this is a law and order administration.

Just at this session at least two of the members have been elected trustees of state institutions, and they are going to run for re-election and are holding on to what they have. We believe it would be a good law to inhibit members of the legislature becoming candidates for positions within the gift of the legislature while they are members.

The Herald and News held over a number of local matters from the last issue which we had, in order to make room for the synopsis of the appropriation bill. We may be wrong, but we had an idea that our readers would rather see what the appropriation bill contained than to have some of the local matters which we could have printed.

Don't fail to take advantage of our offer to give you an opportunity to get The Herald and News for a year for only one dollar. If you are in arrears we want you to catch up and this offer only lasts until March 1.

NEWBERRY LODGE ELKS INSTITUTES GREENWOOD LODGE

Fred. H. Dominick Acts Grand Exalted Ruler—Elegant Banquet Served—Tillman Exalted Ruler.

Members of the Newberry lodge of Elks went to Greenwood on Friday for the purpose of instituting a new lodge of Elks in that fine town. An account of the meeting and a list of the officers and members of the new lodge is taken from the Greenwood Journal of Saturday:

With a strong membership, including many of the city's most prominent and substantial business men, Greenwood lodge No. 1329, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, was instituted on Friday night by Newberry Lodge No. 1103. In addition to the members of Newberry lodge who were present, the Anderson, Gaffney, Union and Columbia lodges were well represented.

The Grand lodge into which Newberry resolved itself for the purpose of institution was presided over by Hon. Fred. H. Dominick, as grand exalted ruler. Mr. Dominick was particularly impressive in his exemplification of the high principles of the order. He is past exalted ruler of Newberry lodge, past district deputy grand exalted ruler, and he is now president of the State Association of Elks. His thorough familiarity with the tenets of the order, and his experience in public life, eminently qualified him for the position which he occupied. He was ably assisted by District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Ed. H. DeCamp of Gaffney, whose address to the members of the new lodge was touching in its sentiment and lofty in its ideals.

The acting officers of the grand lodge who participated in the ceremonies were: Grand Exalted Ruler Fred. H. Dominick, Grand Esteemed Leading Knight John K. Aull, Grand Esteemed Loyal Knight Harry W. Dominick, Grand Esteemed Lecturing Knight C. Forrest Summer, Grand Esquire E. H. Aull, past exalter ruler; Grand Chaplain Cannon G. Blease, Grand Secretary W. O. Miller, Grand Treasurer T. P. Praises Greenwood.
Col. John K. Aull of Columbia, who is secretary to the state warehouse commissioner, Hon. John L. McLaurin, said this morning before returning to his home, that he felt that he expressed the sentiment of every member of Newberry lodge when he repeated what was said by Mr. Fred H. Dominick at the meeting last night, that they appreciated sincerely the cordial reception and royal entertainment by the members of Greenwood lodge and the citizens of Greenwood.

"Greenwood knows how to do things like this," he said. "She is not only one of the most progressive towns in the State, but she has a reputation which she ably sustained last night for gracious hospitality."

The ritual lesson by Mr. Aull was one of the most impressive and beautiful parts of the ceremony last night and the parts taken by Messrs. Harry W. Dominick, C. Forrest Summer and E. H. Aull were ably sustained.

Greenwood is a good town and a live and progressive town. The visiting Elks were royally entertained by the men of Greenwood and the town has the air of prosperity about it and there are evidences of that spirit which makes a good town. The people talk Greenwood and have something good to say about the place and the people. You never hear them say or hint anything but what is to the advantage of the community and the people who live there.

There are two handsome office buildings in the city, with electric elevator and steam heat and all the conveniences of a modern office building, something that Newberry greatly needs. We have often wondered why some of our men who have money did not get together and build a modern office building in this town of Newberry. It would pay as an investment and be worth more as an asset for the community than as an investment and would pay good dividends in that way.

Then Greenwood has one of the best hotels in the South and it is run right up to the minute, and it is a great asset for the town and keeps people talking nice things about Greenwood. In fact the hotel has done more to put Greenwood on the map than any other one thing that the town has ever done.

There is co-operation in the town and in fact that seems to be the slogan. The key note of the remarks of Mr. Tillman is assuming the duties of head of the new lodge of Elks emphasized that slogan—co-operation—as an essential for the success of the lodge. It is the slogan that spells success for any community.

The new lodge is composed of good men and true and it is obliged to succeed, especially with the slogan of co-operation. The Newberry boys appreciate the kindly treatment they received and will ever look with interest at the success of the Greenwood lodge. All our boys thoroughly enjoyed their trip to Greenwood.

No. 1 Township Convention.

The Interdenominational Sunday School convention of No. 1 township was held last Friday night in the Ave-light Presbyterian church with Mr. John H. Wicker, township chairman, presiding.

All the Sunday schools of the township were represented except the following: Mission church, A. R. P.; Ebenezer, Methodist; Mayer Memorial, Summer Memorial, Lutheran, and St. Luke's, Episcopal.

The subjects arranged on the program for the meeting were discussed with interest.

In view of the absence of delegates from some of the schools of the township it was unanimously decided to hold another township meeting before the state convention in Charleston in May, in order that all the schools may be represented, thus conforming to one of the requirements to attain to the "gold star" county. The selection of the time and place was left to the executive committee.
