PERSONAL. Mr. Levi left home Sunday on his annual northern tour, to purchase his fall stock of goods.

James E. Davis, Esq., is quite unwell, and will not be able to attend the Congressional Convention at Florence, to which he was chosen as a delegate.

Miss Grace Jervey, of Sumter, is visiting at Dr. Ingram's.

Mr. B. Richardson, looking as healthy and fresh as ever, passed through town on a canvassing tour last week.

Messrs. John C. Ingram and J. E. Tindal were both in town this week, each looking fully equal to the exertions of a summer campaign.

Prof. Withrow left us Saturday to return home. The Prof. is a genial, cultivated, pleasant gentleman. He has left behind him many warm friends and admirers.

The Congressional Convention of the Sixth District meets to-day in Florence. Our delegates left yesterday.

Mr. J. S. Jacobi, formerly of the house of D. Bentschner & Co., has lately joined himself to Messrs. Falk & Co. Mr. Jacobi is deservedly popular as an experienced tradesman. Read his card.

Mr. Sinclair, whose tent adorns the Court House Square, has convinced the people that his work will compare favorably with that of any artist in our large cities. All wanting photographs taken had better come at once, as he expects to leave in a short time.

The outside of the Times this week contains a full report of the proceedings of the State Convention. This will prove of unusual interest to those of our readers whose facilities for obtaining news is limited to their county paper.

The four candidates for the House of Representatives, Messrs. Ingram, Plowden, Richardson and Tindal are all handsome young gentlemen—intelligent, and pleasant company even when not candidates, but—young ladies, they are all married men.

Robt. McCantz, our clever barber, tells us that he will leave Manning this week to accept a lucrative position offered him in Washington. McCantz is a good barber, and his many customers will regret his departure.

Robt. Johnson, colored, brought to Manning last Saturday, three open, fully developed bolls of cotton, from his farm near Packville. This is the first we have heard of.

One of the largest ears of corn we have ever seen was given to us Friday, by Mr. H. A. Tisdale, a successful farmer of the Jordan neighborhood. There were 28 rows on the cob, averaging forty-four and a half grains, making 1,254 grains on the ear. Who can beat it?

Capt. Jos. Sprott has requested us to give notice that the time for holding the agricultural meeting at Manning has been changed from the 21st to the 24th of this month. This change is made in order to afford an opportunity to many who desire to attend the re-union of the Sprott's Guards at Juneville on the 21st, to be able to attend the agricultural meeting.

On information received from a member of the Monumental Association, we published in the Times of the 4th inst., that the Association would meet in the Court House last Saturday. Our informant was mistaken; the time for the meeting is next Saturday. We will repeat here what was said then—it is of paramount importance that the ladies manifest their interest in this matter by attending the meetings. Nothing will go so far towards insuring its complete success as the presence of the ladies at the meetings. We hope to see them out in goodly numbers Saturday.

The case of the Town Council against E. P. Tolson and Henry L. Johnson was called for trial last Friday. The council, with an earnest desire to do justice to all parties, entered into a full and complete investigation of the affair. The hearing of the case consumed nearly two days, and the council exhibited a wonderful amount of forbearance in listening patiently to the array of witnesses offered by the accused, who were represented with ability by Jos. Galluchat, Esq. They found Mr. Tolson guilty of drunkenness and disorderly conduct on the streets, and fined him $10, which he paid. Johnson, the council considered sufficiently punished, and was excused. Policeman Acrod Stokes was fined $10 for cursing Johnson while under arrest.

THE CHURCHES.—Communion services were held in the Presbyterian Church last Sabbath, Rev. James McDowell, Pastor, preaching and officiating. A very large congregation—the church being filled and a number in the gallery—listened to an excellent sermon, and remained throughout the interesting, pleasant and solemn communion service.

The Rev. S. Leard, the venerable and loved pastor of the Methodist Church, has been granted leave of absence, and his church was closed at Sabbath.

NEW CANDIDATES.—Mr. Jos. Sprott, Jr., is announced in this issue of the Times for County Treasurer. He is a young gentleman well connected, of fine business qualifications, and excellent habits.

Mr. L. H. DeSchamps, of Fulton, is nominated to-day for the State Senate. Mr. DeSchamps is a farmer and a friend of the "Farmers' movement."

Mr. J. E. Scott, our present Auditor, is brought forward by his friends for re-election. Mr. Scott has proven one of the best auditors in the State.

Dr. H. H. Huggins is announced this week to be voted for at the Primary election for County Treasurer. Dr. Huggins is well and favorably known throughout the entire county as a careful, attentive, courteous and efficient officer, and personally he is a very popular citizen.

away, and physicians present state that death was apparent, the pulse failing to beat and her body was cold. Her physicians during the hour applied all available remedies to restore her, and at sixty-two minutes exactly from the time she swooned away she awoke as if by opening her eyes and jumping nimbly from her bed.

She told that she had been to heaven and that God had cured her. She then told that she returned to preach to the earth, and commenced exhortations that amazed them all.

The most curious circumstance is that she remarked immediately that she had seen Mrs. Briemore in heaven, and had talked with her. Mrs. Briemore, who lives four miles away, died during the hour the girl was apparently dead, and no one had any communication from that family.

At appointed times of evenings she has continued her exhortations, telling before hand at what hour God would be with her.

Ministers from all over the country are flocking to see her, and her discourses move her audiences to shouts and tears.

Men of strong minds say there is something supernatural about her. She never went to school a day in her life and cannot read her name, and never heard but one sermon in her life; and the good language used by her in her discourses and Bible teachings strike her hearers with wonder.

She is unusually small for her age, weighing but forty-one pounds. She has always been of a retired disposition until within the last month, she has been in unusual good spirits and talked incessantly. This statement is corroborated by at least a dozen men who have seen her, and heard her talk. Great crowds are reported as going from all over the country to hear her.—Charleston Dispatch.

The "boss" book agent of the South is Mr. W. T. Hopkins, of Eastern N. Carolina, who is working for the publishing house of B. F. Johnson & Co., of Richmond, Va. Mr. Hopkins' profits are frequently footed up to $200 a week, and is thoroughly under the impression that the books published by B. F. Johnson & Co. sell faster than anything else on the face of the earth. Ad.

Mr. James E. Tindal, for Representative; Mr. L. H. DeSchamps, for Senator; Jos. F. Rihane, Esq., for Senator; Maj. H. B. Richardson, for Representative; Mr. John C. Ingram, for Representative; Dr. I. M. Woods, for Senator; and others who announced themselves for the different offices they were seeking.

After the speaking, the candidates, with the crowd present, were invited to enjoy a bountiful dinner prepared by the generous Salemites.

The day was a happy, and no doubt a profitable one for the gentlemen soliciting the people's suffrage, and we suspect, too, it was not without its enjoyment for the good citizens across the River.

A Surprising Disclaimer. Farmer Tillman has been making a speech in Abbeville, and the published report of it states that he said that he was the author of the farmers' movement but was not the author of the political movement which had crept into it; that the political features had been introduced by others.

This speech was made on Monday last, by which time he had doubtless become aware of the disfavor with which the "political features" had been received by the more intelligent of the people whom he considered it his mission to lead "out of the wilderness," and like a prudent politician he places the responsibility of the unpopular features of his movement on the convenient and impersonal "others."

But, like politicians frequently do, he has given away the only claim that he had to public attention, for the Grange and the State Agricultural and Mechanical Society were farmers' movements already organized for every purpose proposed to be accomplished by the Tillman movement except the political features, and it was only these latter which gave his movement any special significance whatever. Mr. Tillman is evidently aware of this, for in the speech referred to, so far from abandoning these political features, he recommended that the farmers should "adopt their platform" and elect as their representatives good men from every calling who would carry out their views. He advocated the calling of a Constitutional Convention and the adoption of a new Constitution; that the office of County Treasurer and Auditor should be consolidated, and proposed reforms in the offices of County Commissioners and School Commissioner. He disclaimed any hostility to the State University, but the report states that the County Democratic Club met immediately after Capt. Tillman concluded his speech and adopted a resolution in favor of a reasonable tuition fee in the South Carolina College.

The agricultural Moses appears to be trying to get the benefit of the political features without incurring any responsibility for them.—Columbia Record.

A Modern Miracle. The little town of Vernon, in Lamar county, Ala., twenty-eight miles northeast of here has furnished a first-class sensation which has set the entire country wild.

Mollie Pennington, daughter of Geo. Pennington who resides four miles from Vernon, aged 13 years was taken sick on the 15th ult. Physicians state that her illness resembled hydrophobia. On the 17th four physicians were called in to see the girl. She presented every sign of hydrophobia, attempting to bite every one around her, even herself. On the 23d inst., she somewhat rallied her consciousness and told those around her that she would die in an hour exactly, and at the expiration of that time to chafe her hands and feet and that she would come back to life.

At the time predicted she died
