A. Levi, Esq., has gone to Ocala, Fla., on professional business.

Rev. Mr. Oliver of Foreston, preached in the Manning Baptist Church last Sunday.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS, made miserable by that terrible cough. Shiloh's Cure is the remedy for you.

Captain John E. Snowden and Mr. Walter Wilson of Williamsburg were in town last week.

Marion Star: Mr. Cooper of Clarendon, was in Marion last week on a visit to his father-in-law, Rev. A. J. Stokes.

Our attention has been so much drawn this week to other matters that the Times has not received our usual care.

Mrs. Edwards believes in printer's ink, and also in patronizing the newspapers. Her advertisement will fill the conspicuous space left vacant for her this week.

The Orangeburg Times and Democrat has abandoned personal notices. Well the Times and Democrat has it all its own way—there is but one paper printed at Orangeburg.

Through Major R. R. Briggs we learn that the Rev. W. H. Workman will preach twice in the Summerton Presbyterian Church—morning and night—next Sunday.

The Washington Post says, there is an unparalleled audacity about Sam Jones. He is now trying to convince Boston people that they can't go to Heaven without being born again.

Just received! Fresh Garden Seed and Onion Sets, also an elegant line of Flower Seeds at Dinkins & Co's.

Mr. Geo. Griffin and wife will celebrate their golden wedding on the first Thursday in February next. Mr. Griffin is one hundred and eight years old and Mrs. Griffin is not very far behind him in years.

Captain F. W. Dawson of the News and Courier will address the society of the army and navy of the Confederate States in the Academy of Music at Baltimore, next month, on "Our Women in the War."

Mother: "Did you pray in your Sunday-school to-day, Johnny?" Johnny: "Yes, mamma." Mother: "That's a good boy, always pray in Sunday-school." Father: "But what did you pray for?" Johnny: "I prayed for it to let out."

THAT HACKING COUGH can be so quickly cured by Shiloh's Cure.

The Beunettsville Chronicle edited by J. DuPre Alsbrook, Esq., is on our table. The appearance of its editorial and local columns is very creditable. A handsome list for new advertisements speaks well of the energy and growing popularity of Mr. Alsbrook in his new home.

Mrs. Winkle to new girl: "It's very late Bridget; hadn't you better go to bed? Bridget (very kind-hearted): "Sure, mam, I will if yez think best, but I thought yez was waitin' up fer yer husband, mum." "I am." "Thin I better wait, mum; you look too delicate to help a man up stairs wot stays out as late as this, mum."—Omaha World.

Attention is directed to the list of additional appointments advertised by the County Auditor. By mistake the appointment for the 29th of January has heretofore been published at David Levi's instead of David Lee's.

On Saturday the 29th of January the Auditor will be at Mr. David Lee's in Salem to receive returns.

It frequently happens that there is preaching in at least two of the churches in Manning on Sunday evening, and, as a consequence, the attendance at the respective churches is very small. Why don't our ministers unite in a union service every Sunday night? This plan was once adopted in Manning and was admirably successful.

Representatives of the Sumter Bar and Manning lawyers with an array of witnesses, were before the Probate Court yesterday. The grand attraction was the contest made over the DuRant will case. Judge Appelt, enthroned in state, with his judicial dignity sitting well on his regal countenance, looked my lord or your honor please, to perfection. The case was compromised. The satisfaction of all parties was a trial.

The News and Courier has given considerable prominence in its columns to a reportorial interview with one of our Representatives, Hon. Jas. E. Tindal, which we have copied on our editorial page. Mr. Tindal, as president of the Farmers' Convention, and a conspicuous leader in the movement, has become prominent throughout the State. What his opinions are on the subjects he was interviewed on will be read wherever the report reaches.

Hot Supper.

The ladies of Calvary Church will give an entertainment—Music, Hot Supper, Ice-cream, etc.—on the evening of the 4th of February, and invite the public generally.

For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cents.

The Foreston Amateur Troupe failed to make their appearance in Manning last Friday evening. The reason of their failure to fulfill their engagement, we have not been able to learn. The announcement of their performance was published in the Times on the authority of Mr. C. M. Mason, a member of the Troupe, who called at the Times office and stated that they had completed their arrangements, and would give an entertainment in Manning, Friday evening, at the same time requesting that it be published. As information for ourself and, possibly a suspicious public, we would be really obliged if Mr. Mason would publish through this paper, the cause of the failure of the Foreston Amateur Troupe to keep their engagement.

The venerable Samuel Leard who for four years had charge of the Granterville Methodist Church and for the past two years has been pastor of the Manning church has been placed on the superannuated list and will remove to Chester, South Carolina with his family. In his retirement from the active ministry, the church loses a veteran soldier who has fought valiantly in his day and generation in the services of his master. May peace and happiness attend him to the close of his well spent life.—Aiken Recorder.

Mr. Leard is one of the most godly men it has ever been our pleasure to meet, and we most earnestly regret that he has been taken away from Manning.

Meeting of the County Commissioners.

The chief business transacted by the Board of County Commissioners at their meeting last Monday was the election of a physician and superintendent for the Poor Farm. As advertised, these places were awarded to the lowest bidder. The bids for the physician were as follows:

Dr. W. E. Brown, $145, agreeing to furnish all necessary medicines except stimulants; Dr. J. G. Dinkins, $2.00 per visit with stipulation to furnish medicine at 10 per cent. above cost; Dr. J. I. Ingram, $120, to furnish medicine. This being the lowest, Dr. Ingram was appointed Poor House Physician.

The bids for Superintendent ranged from $119 to $200. The first being Mr. P. E. Ridgeway's and the lowest, he was given the place. Mr. Ridgeway is his own successor.

The Board issued checks for a number of claims, the greater part being preferred.

From the Treasurer's report lying on the Commissioners' table we extracted the following collections to January 21st, 1887.

Ordinary county levy, $5,400.08; for bonded debt, $678.89; for balance due on claims of the fiscal year 1884-5, $1,351.76.

The greater part of the ordinary county collection has already been disbursed. The Board will hold another meeting to-day and declare a per centage of 64 per cent. on the claims of 1884-5. No provision has yet been made for the disbursement of the bonded debt collection.

Foreston Concert.

[Williamsburg Star and Herald.]

In company with Prof. S. W. Williams of the Kingstree Academy, the representative of the Star and Herald on the evening of the 12th instant, left Kingstree for Foreston, to attend the entertainment given at the latter place. It was an awfully cold ride of fifteen miles in an open buggy, and we arrived almost frozen. But the plays had already begun, so we went at once to the place. About 150 persons were assembled in the building where the stage was improvised for the occasion, and we were soon among them and interested in the songs, charades, etc., that were successively given. The tableaux were well conceived and presented, the vocal selections were well rendered, the instrumental music charming, and several of the actors evinced considerable histrionic talent in acting the parts assigned them. "Widow Bedott" was irresistible to any one with a soul, and the hard case wretch who was so unimpressible as to hold out against her charms met a deserved fate when the broomstick so promptly assisted his exit. Our friend A. P. McCormick, Esq., appeared in the role of lover, and seemed entirely at home therein. Several others among the actors showed a proficiency in the art of lovmaking that made us think they were not unacquainted with its actualities. Sambo himself could not have surpassed the representations of his characteristics, they were so naturally given—but one of these might well have been omitted. We desired to give the program entirely, but space and time forbid. They who arranged the entertainment are to be congratulated on their success.

SUMTER FRANCIS, FRANK FRANCIS, January 18th, 1887.

"Only a Pansy Blossom."

What a sweet sentimental name. So full of soft suggestions and woo-wee ideas of dreamy happiness. Why who in the world would ever for one moment think of calling themselves, or anything they belonged to, "pansy blossoms?" Why nobody but pretty little girls, who because they are so precious, nice, and sweet, have a right to bear a name emblematic of their little innocent selves. There is one thing certain, nobody in Manning will ever dare to call the bevy of little girls who have a little society they call the "Pansy Blossom Society," "vain little creatures," etc. No, that they won't. These little gems of nature have a right to name their society, not only pansy blossoms, but rosebud, daisy, violet, touch-me-not, and whatever else their little brains may hit upon. The "Pansy Blossoms" are truly a wonderful order. It is youthful and feminine in its composition. Only very little ladies, and no little gentlemen, are enrolled on its list. Twelve years is too old and knee breeches are an abomination to the "Pansy Blossoms." There is a constitution and by-laws, with the usual cabalistic signs and mysterious pass words, hiding its proceedings from everybody else. Then there is a neat little pansy badge worn on the shoulder, the grand charm of the "Pansy's."

And there is the president, a little lady perched on a high chair who is recognized as Mr. President; and close by her maidenly highness is the vice-president, addressed as Miss President; and so on to the end. The "Pansy Blossoms" have one, if not more, very striking by-law, guarding their door of admission. The young Miss petitioning for membership must acknowledge her worst fault and promise "never to do that bad thing again." One little Miss Pansy whose sincerity itself, told us she had confessed to "telling stories," another said "disobedience" was her worst fault. This is all mighty nice for the "Pansy's"—but wouldn't the old folks squirm and gby from such a confessional order.

We cannot close our sketch without referring to an outrage on the "Pansy Blossoms." They were in solemn session the other day. The president was on her throne dispensing punishment and rewards; Miss vice-president was looking solemnly on, when Miss Secretary discovered an enemy hiding close by. It was an awful time, they were betrayed by an enemy of the Brobdingsnass tribe, too large to annihilate. The poor "Pansy Blossoms"—their secrets exposed to the wicked world, broken-hearted and miserable, dispersed to meet again.

The Columbia Bicycle Calendar for 1887. The Columbia Bicycle Calendar for 1887, just issued by the Pope Manufacturing Co., of Boston, is a truly artistic and elegant work in chromo-lithography and the letter press. Each day of the year appears upon a separate slip with a quotation pertaining to "cycling" from leading publications and prominent personages. The notable "cycling" events are given; and concise opinions of the highest medical authorities; words from practical wheelmen, including clergymen and other professional gentlemen; the rights of "cyclers" upon the roads; general cycling statistics; the benefit of traveling for ladies; extracts from "cycling" poems; and much other information interesting alike to the cyclist and to the general reader. In fact it is in miniature a virtual encyclopaedia upon this universally utilized modern steed. The calendar is mounted upon a back of heavy board, upon which is exquisitely executed in oil color effect, by G. H. Burk, of New York, an allegorical scene, representing the earth resting among the clouds, with Thomas Stevens in heroic size, mounted upon his Columbia bicycle, circumnavigating the globe. The atmospheric lights and shades of sunlight and moonshine are charmingly vivid, yet artistically toned and softened. A smaller portion of the board is devoted to a picture of a mounted lady tri-cyclist, speeding over a pleasant country road. As a work of convenient art, the Columbia Calendar is worthy of a place in office, library or parlor.

Clarendon Agricultural Society. The annual meeting of the Clarendon Agricultural Society is called for Saturday, the 29th day of January. Every Club in the county is entitled to a member of the Executive Committee, and every Club is requested and expected to be represented at this meeting. The officers and special members of the Executive Committee are to be elected, and arrangements made for future work of the society.
