

Wofford College in Charleston.

It is understood that Prof. Daniel A. DuPre, of Wofford College, will come to Charleston during the Floral Fair, and be accompanied by the present senior class of that college. The special purpose, besides the pleasure incident to the trip, of the visit of Prof. DuPre and the senior class will be to visit the phosphate works around Charleston, and probably to visit the several foci of the old earthquake and for other scientific observations. It will be remembered that Prof. DuPre took the last senior class in Wofford to Washington last year, the principal purpose of that trip being to visit the Smithsonian Institute. The visit to Charleston is doubtless being looked forward to with great pleasure by the students and their profs. or. They will be warmly welcomed by the people of Charleston.—News and Courier.

The Queen Losing Her Mind.

LONDON, March 24.—It would be hardly worth while to notice the reported rumor of the critical mental condition of Queen Victoria, had it not been so frequently reiterated in the last few days, and did not circumstances give a certain air of probability to such assertions as have been so prevalent at different periods since the death of the Prince Consort. The Queen's eccentricities have been so marked that a project of the regency has been seriously considered, but such action has been regarded as unnecessary, so long as her conduct did not continue to transgress the bounds of propriety. It is now said that recent events have markedly developed her Majesty's tendency to melancholia.

The excitement consequent upon the death of Emperor William, and the ascent of her daughter to the proud position which she now occupies, have affected her visibly.

They Never Will be Missed.

After you get angry and stop your paper just poke your finger in water, pull it out and look for a hole. Then you will know how sadly you are missed. A man who thinks a paper cannot thrive without his support ought to go off and stay awhile. When he comes back half his friends will not know that he was gone, and the other half will not care a cent, while the world at large kept no account of his movement. You will find things that you cannot endorse in every paper. Even the Bible is rather plain and hits some hard lies. If you were to get mad and burn your Bible the hundreds of presses would still go on printing it, and when you stop your paper and call the editor names, the paper will still be published, and what is more—you will read it on the fly.—Keowee Courier.

Big Carolina Pines.

In a private letter to a gentleman in this city from Col. John B. Whitford there is an account of some forest giants lately measured in Greene and Wilson counties, on Contentnea Creek. One pine tree measures 22 feet in circumference, and would make a stick of timber, solid heart, 6 feet square and 35 feet long, or straight-edge plank 6 feet wide and 35 feet long. Another pine measured 18 feet in circumference and 100 feet to the first branch. Some white oaks were measured and would make planks 2 feet wide and 60 feet long. A pine which was felled for making shingles measured 43 feet in diameter and 142 feet in length. These immense trees are found abundantly in that section, and will some day command a good price.—Raleigh News.

Talks With the Cotton Farmer.

Talks with the cotton farmer. Telling how to select and keep your seed pure. How to plant and cultivate. How to fertilize and what kind to use. What kind of land to plant, and what to judge it by. How to sell to the best advantage. How to destroy worms and how to do it. Also how he made forty-four bales of cotton with one mule and one ploughman, and $1,480 clear profit. Also treats on other practical farm matters, with no fancy theory and names nor words that cannot be understood by the average farmer. Price fifty cents a copy. Call for the book at the Manning Times office.

News from Sumter.

Mrs. Joseph R. Singleton, daughter of the late G. W. Bradford, died at the home of her husband on last Saturday from pneumonia.

A new post office has been opened at Tindall's store a few miles from Old Privateer, with Mr. H. Drane Tindall Postmaster, and with the name of Privateer.

Clinton Galluchat, of the Charleston Bar, was in the city yesterday on legal business. Mr. Galluchat is a rising and promising young lawyer and will soon make his mark as an able lawyer.

Mr. W. H. Bailey died at his home in this city on last Wednesday, 14th instant. He has lived here for about 20 years, and for a number of years carried the mail from here to Manning. He was a native of North Carolina.—Sumter Watchman.

Politics at Foreston.

FORESTON, March 26.—Your correspondent, B. A., (Baham's Ass.) has again spoken and will continue to do so, says he, as long as Office Holder is in the field for any office. To this I have no objection so long as he confines himself to the truth; but I do seriously object to his crowding with in one short paragraph five lies, to wit: 1st, he says I managed to get a meeting after the night train had passed. Everybody here knows the meeting was duly advertised some day previous. 2d, he says I managed to get myself nominated. I can prove by the 21 voters present that I solicited no man's vote or intimated in any way that I wished the nomination. 3d, he says that I found I could count on the end of my finger all the votes I could get. Now I am no politician and therefore don't know much about this but I have been informed by those who are pretty good judges that had the election gone on the regular ticket would have been elected. 4th, he says I had my deputy declare the election illegal. 5th, he says there was a demijohn for the occasion.

Were it necessary I can procure certificates proving each and every one of the above assertions false.

I am now done with this subject unless B. A. wishes to pursue it further, in which case I will let the people know why he commenced this uncalled for attack upon me.

OFFICE HOLDER.

The Duty of Parents in Steady Seasons of the Year.

We commend the following testimony as to the efficacy of S. S. S. in measles and fever, from one of the best known physicians practicing in Georgia. It will be seen that he strongly testifies to the happy results accruing from the use of this medicine in preventing the frequently very serious consequences that follow an attack of measles. The resultant effects of an attack of measles remain in the system for months, and unless great care is exercised the lingering poison in the blood will attack some vital part of the system, endangering life. We take great pleasure in giving the widest possible circulation to this eminent physician's candid and manly letter written in the cause of suffering humanity.

ELLAVILLE, GA., March 31, 1887.

My dear Sirs—I have used your S. S. S. medicine with exceptional benefit on patients convalescing from measles. A feature of that disease is that it leaves the mucous membrane chronically inflamed—that is, the inflammation continues from four to six months. I have given it to several patients just getting out of bed from the measles, and always with the happiest results.

I also used S. S. S. in convalescent fever cases with the best result. It will, in my judgement, prevent summer dysentery, if one will take a few bottles in the spring, thus preparing the bowels for the strains of summer. I am prompted to send you this letter, because just now I am aware that measles prevail in Southwest Georgia. While I hesitate to appear as a voucher for proprietary remedies, S. S. S. has become such a standard medicine with many regular physicians, that I am relieved of the embarrassment ordinarily attached to a regular physician's endorsement of proprietary medicines. Besides the claims of suffering humanity are greater than selfish professional ethics. Yours sincerely,

J. N. CHENEY, M. D.

Good Advice to the Negro.

It is reported that a large number of so-called agents are at work in the Southern States. Their objects is to persuade the colored people that they can make their everlasting fortunes by emigrating to Brazil. The most remarkable yarns are told of big crops, big wages and big money generally.

It won't work, though. The negro is not as simple as some folks take him to be. He has heard of the old adage, "Out of the frying pan into the fire," and has altogether too much sense to make himself an illustration of it. Of course there is a good deal of poverty among the blacks of the South. Still, we venture to say that no three or four millions of people in their peculiar circumstances ever did so much in twenty years to better their surroundings. Nothing could be more depressing than the condition in which they found themselves at the end of the war. It seemed impossible, even to us of the North, for them to get any grip on American life and ambition for at least a couple of generations. But they have made steady and, in many instances, remarkable progress. The money they have saved, the thrift they have manifested, the celerity with which they have fitted themselves to the new circumstances, are clear proofs that time will make all things straight.

The Brazil scheme is a delusion and a snare. It is a spider and fly arrangement, and the colored man can make more cash and vastly more progress by sticking to his home than by the most promising exodus that ever appealed to his imagination. He is all right where he is; anywhere else he would be all wrong.—New York Herald.

What is this Disease that is Coming Upon Us?

Like a thief at night it steals in upon us unawares. The patients have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint, all gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish-colored expectoration. The patient feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high colored, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms.

It has been found that physicians have mistaken the cause of this disease. Some have treated it for a liver complaint, others for kidney disease, etc., etc., but none of these kinds of treatment have been attended with success; for it is really constipation and dyspepsia. It is also found that Shaker Extract of Roots, or Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, when properly prepared will remove this disease in all its stages. Care must be taken, however, to secure the genuine article.

IT WILL SELL BETTER THAN COTTON.

Mr. John C. Hemptinstall, of Chulafinnee, Cleburn Co., Ala., writes: "My wife has been so much benefited by Shaker Extract of Roots or Seigel's Syrup that she says she would rather be without part of her food than without the medicine. It has done her more good than the doctors and all other medicines put together. I would ride twenty miles to get it into the hands of any sufferer if he can get it in no other way. I believe it will soon sell in this State better than cotton."

TESTIMONY FROM TEXAS.

Mrs. S. E. Barton, of Varner, Ripley Co., Mo., writes that she had been long afflicted with dyspepsia and disease of the urinary organs and was cured by Shaker Extract of Roots. Rev. J. J. McGuire, merchant, of the same place, who sold Mrs. Barton the medicine, says he has sold it for four years and never knew it to fail.

SHE WAS ALMOST DEAD

I was so low with dyspepsia that there was not a physician to be found who could do anything with me. I had fluttering of the heart and swimming of the head. One day I read your pamphlet called "Life Among the Shakers," which described my disease better than I could myself. I tried the Shaker Extract of Roots and kept on with it until to-day I rejoice in good health. Mrs. M. E. Tinsley, Bevier, Muhlenburg Co., Ky.

AIM
The course of instruction embracing ten years, is designed to furnish a liberal education suited to the ordinary vocations of life, or to fit students for the Freshman, Sophomore, or Junior class of colleges.
PLAN OF INSTRUCTION.
The most approved text books are used. The blackboard is deemed an essential in the class room. The meaning of an author is invariably required of each pupil. In all work done, in whatever department, and whatever the extent of ground covered, our motto shall always be Thoroughness. To this end, we shall require that every lesson be learned, if not in time for the class recitation, then elsewhere. No real progress can be made so long as the pupil is allowed to go on from day to day reciting only half-perfect lessons

TO PATRONS!
WE DESIRE ESPECIALLY TO URGE UPON PARENTS AND Guardians the great importance of having their children at school promptly the first day. The student who enters late labors under serious disadvantages, and seldom takes that stand in his class that otherwise he would have taken.
The Principal feels much encouraged at the hearty support given the school heretofore, and promises renewed efforts to make the school what it should be—FIRST CLASS in every respect.
