

TURN THEM OUT.

No State in the Union has ever suffered more from Republican influence than has South Carolina. It seems like a hideous nightmare—those eight years of carpetbag misrule. South Carolinians turn, and for good reason too, shudderingly from a white man in this State who casts a ballot that might possibly be instrumental in restoring a condition of affairs similar to the past.

The above we think is the general sentiment of the State. Of course no efforts are ever made to force a man to vote the Democratic ticket. We believe in a free ballot. But when a man is employed to teach our children, to shape their destinies probably, it seems to us that great care should be exercised in the choice.

We clip the following from the Orangeburg Times and Democrat, every word of which we endorse: The Spartanburg Herald of last week says it is reported that two of the Professors at the South Carolina College walked up to the polls on November 6th and deposited two Republican tickets, much to the disgust and indignation of the students under them.

We think the trustees of the South Carolina College made a grand mistake in employing any such men to teach our Southern boys. These are men in the South, to the manor born, eminently qualified to fill every position in that college and why go North for teachers? It is a State institution, supported by State funds, and ought to be Democratic in influence.

HYGIENE IN SCHOOLS.

School teachers should be progressive. Every teacher should be a hard student, and each year be better fitted to teach school than he was the preceding year. A third grade teacher of one year should be a second grade the next year, and a first grade the following year.

A teacher ought to endeavor to keep his school supplied with the very best text books, such as are best adapted to the children he is teaching, and such as will yield best results. Such a book is "Smith's Physiology and Hygiene." It is a small book, written in a clear, simple, beautiful style, and as interesting as a novel.

Physiology and Hygiene is an important study. It does not, in this little book, enter into minute details, but briefly gives a fair idea of the mechanism of our own bodies, and how to take care of them. It shows the evil effects on the system of narcotics and stimulants. It gives the young student some idea of how wonderfully and fearfully we are made.

We call attention to this book for several reasons. We have been using it in the school room for several years, and know whereof we speak. The State board of education has placed this book on the list of common school studies, and teachers are now examined on this subject the same as they are on arithmetic and grammar.

Dr. McBryde, president of the South Carolina College, says of this work: "A careful examination of 'Smith's Primer of Physiology and Hygiene,' and 'The Human Body and its Health,' has impressed me very favorably with their merits. Science primers are not infrequently anything but elementary, condensation is attained at the expense of clearness and simplicity of treatment.

We hope to see this little book introduced in every school in the county. It costs very little, about thirty or forty cents, and is published by Ivison, Blakeman & Co., of New York. If any teacher will send 35 cents to R. E. Park, general agent for the South, Macon, Georgia, he will send him a copy post free, and we advise every teacher in the county to get a copy at once.

This is no advertisement, but we are interested in the school system of the county, and wish to see all the improvements possible.

The New York Herald claims that the recent presidential election cost five hundred million dollars.

South Carolina neither needs nor wants any Republican professors in her State College. Turn them out.

We are unavoidably forced this week to omit our report of the Legislature. We shall give it next week.

Congress convened last Monday. The President's message was received and read. It was an able document. He recommends a change in the tariff laws, and makes many other salutary suggestions.

Simmons Liver Regulator produces no unpleasant effect upon the stomach no matter how long it is taken. A little taken at night insures refreshing sleep and a natural evacuation of the bowels. A little taken in the morning sharpens the appetite, cleanses the stomach and sweetens the breath.

I never recommend a medicine unless I know it to be good. In a ministry of twenty-five years I have often felt the need of such a medicine, and when I found it I exclaimed: "Eureka!"—Rev. J. P. HARPER, Proprietor "Christian Visitor," Smithville, N. C.

Summerton News-Notes.

SUMMERTON, Dec. 3.—A week of pleasant weather after the rains and storms.

Rev. T. E. Wannamaker is in Wainsboro, attending Conference. Collections on the Santee circuit have been excellent, the preacher's salary paid in full, and other collections very good, considering the short crops. We hope Mr. Wannamaker may be returned another year.

Several from our village attended Gai Week in Charleston.

In my last article I should have said Mr. Levi took the blue ribbon for single driving. The other prizes were won by Mr. Levi after I left the Fair grounds.

The burning of the store of S. E. Strange & Co., in Salem, falls heavily on Dr. B. M. Badger, who was the company, and the principal owner of the store.

Mr. N. M. Johnson has sold his St. Pauls plantation to Mr. D. J. McQueen, of Marlboro county. I hear that Mr. Johnson will move to Manning, but will continue his shingle business in the county.

An Experience.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., June 27, 1888.

The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Gentlemen:—In 1884 a friend of mine contracted a terrible case of blood poison, and at once sought the advice of the best physicians. After a four months' trial, with a feeling of greatest despondency, he left Chattanooga for Hot Springs, where he remained three months. The treatment there did not seem to do him any good, and with a crushed spirit and with death in its worst form staring him in his face, he came home. He saw an advertisement of your medicine. As his friend I supplied him with the first few bottles. I was astonished at the result. After the third bottle the sores all disappeared, and his recovery was rapid. In three months he was hard at work, and there has been no return of the disease. I withhold his name from the public, but will send it in confidence to any who write for it. I give this certificate cheerfully.

The Conductor and the Baby.

CHESTER, S. C., Nov. 20.—When the narrow gauge train from Lenoir came in last Saturday afternoon, there were among its passengers an unknown lady and an infant apparently some three or four months old. When the train stopped at the depot the lady asked permission of Conductor Leard to take the child with her to a residence in this town about three years ago.—Editor [Times] to leave her child in the car while she attended to some business. The request was cheerfully granted and nothing more thought of the matter. When the same train pulled out for Lancaster at 3.50 P. M., the cries of an infant attracted the attention of the passengers, who, upon investigation, found the little stranger on a seat, half frozen and without mother or even a nurse. A kind-hearted lady on board took the child to the stove where it was thoroughly warmed, and everything possible done conducive to the little passenger's comfort. Still it was without visible ownership.

Conductor Leard was in charge of the train, and, by virtue of his position, in charge of all his passengers, to see that they were carried safely through to their destination. This hapless decree of fate placed upon him an entirely unexpected responsibility—one, in fact, amounting to a dilemma. He is young, kind and courteous, ever attentive to the comfort of his passengers; but this forced upon him a new role. For a while his predicament was bewildering. Finally a good Samaritan of Fort Lawn came to any rescue and promptly took the little nameless traveler in his keeping, stating that they had no such inquiries at his house. When the train stopped at that place the little fellow was borne away in the arms of its foster-parent to a new home in a strange land. It has since been learned that the woman in charge of the infant to this place boarded the 2.45 train for Columbia, but nothing further has been heard from her, either as to her name or the reason of this strange abandonment.

THE NEW DISCOVERY.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talk about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any other affection of the throat, procure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial Bottles Free at Dinkins & Co.'s Drug Store.

A SOUND LEGAL OPINION.

E. Bainbridge Munday, Esq., County Att., Clay Co., Tex., says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice. Out was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: "He positively believes he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters. This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malarial Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequalled. Price 50c. and $1.00 at Dinkins & Co.'s Drug Store."

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen: I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours truly, L. L. GORSUCH, M. D., Office, 215 Summit St.

Capl. Elliott Keels's Company.

ENRON TAMES.—In this time of peace and prosperity we are apt to forget the past. Missing the other day the past came up in my mind, and this question came up, who first volunteered from Clarendon in the late war? and then the form of that noble man, Elliott Keels, came to my memory. (He was killed on Maryland Heights charging the enemy.) He led the first company from this our home, and with Pack, Logan, Brunson, Lesesne, Butler, the Hodges, Stranges, Bradhams, and a host of others whose names will never be forgotten, helped the State to reduce Fort Sumter and open the ball to the long struggle which followed. It is true not many of this command remain, but the few that do remain should meet and organize so as not to let the past be entirely forgotten. It was the peculiar privilege of this company to defend their State and when she no longer had need of them they came home to their families, not to remain in peace but soon to enter again the struggle, and it can be said of them that they did their duty. Many of them laid down their lives on the battle fields of Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Mississippi, and Georgia, and many have passed away since the war, few remaining in our midst, but that few we are anxious to see to gether again that Clarendon may have an opportunity to view them as she did that day when they as a company offered themselves to that noble soldier and statesman, State Rights Gist, who was governor of S. C. Well do some of us remember the beat of the drum on that April day in 1861 when they took up the line of march to Fort Sumter, and the tears and good byes and the "God bless you boys," as this noble company left our little town. AN OLD CITIZEN.
