MANY VOTERS. June 6, 1890. FOR STATE SENATOR.

EDITOR MANNING TIMES:-Believing that we should have true and tried advocates of the great reform movement in the State House at Columbia this winter, we offer for the State Senate the name of Maj. L. H. DESCHAMPS, who is a man of the people, thoroughly identified with the interests and sympathies of the masses, and in every respect qualified. He is a Christian gentleman of the highest type, has the courage of his convictions, is a successful farmer, and enjoys the confidence of his neighbors, and we ask for him the vote of the people at the ensuing election, subject, however, to the action of the Democratic party at their nominating convention or primary election as may be agreed upon.

That the action of the convention throughout was improper, irregular, untimely, without precedent, etc. forgetting doubtless that a convention formed for the express purpose of electing representatives to the St. Louis National Convention took upon itself to nominate a governor, and when a scarcely audible whisper was heard as to their assumption of power for fear of injury to our cause silence instantly restored. Yet when this March convention suggests a name for governor any were found to blame the convention and its proceedings in unmeasured terms Some papers of the State were loud mouther against it—notably among them was the News and Courier. The same paper which put forth such strenuous efforts to rivet on this State the chains forged to bind her people, by doing what it could to secure be-yond a doubt Chamberlain instead of Hamipton, and so soon as it found Hampton had the inside track, as quick as thought, be-came so blatant in its sickening, fulsome praise of the latter, it made the welkin ring and convinced the unknown that the News and Courier deserved the credit of bringing Hampton forward, and with bugle blast led him on to single-handed victory. I regret exceedingly to have to admit and state that that cunning fox the News and Courier is the text book of many of its readers who seem to swallow down every political item therein contained as gospel truth, and imbibe freely and fully all the prejudices of that paper. In their conversation you can plainly see that they have taken long and frequent draughts from the News and Courier fountain, and have thereby become intoxicated and look upon all who differ in the least from them as blind, ignorant, and foolish, or designedly knavish and unworthy the trust and confidence of man. Here and there exception is taken by the opposition to the platform, yet no regular attempt has been made to combat it; but as if the chief
