

Gen. Hampton made a speech in Augusta last Monday, at the Confederate Memorial service, and was the hero of the day.

Florence is having a hot municipal election campaign. Some wild talk has been indulged in, and not a few free fights are anticipated before the election is over.

Gov. Tillman has commuted to life imprisonment the sentence of Gib Wilson, colored, who was convicted at the last term of court in Sumter, of killing his wife, and who was sentenced to be hanged May 15th. The jury, judge, and solicitor all recommended him to the mercy of the governor.

The Louisiana Lottery company have won a point in their fight for an extension of their charter another twenty-five years. They bribed both houses of the Louisiana Legislature last year to vote for their measures, but the Governor promptly vetoed the bill. Other complications arose, but the supreme court has decided that the question must be submitted to the people. An exciting and bloody campaign is anticipated. The lottery company makes millions, and will spend money unlimited to get an extension of their charter.

Beautiful Fruits of a Good Work. Wilsons, April 23.—At a call meeting of the Union Hibernic club last Friday night, it was decided that as the nights are getting pretty short and the members pretty badly scattered, that the meeting of the club would be suspended until the second Friday night in August. By that time work will not be so tight, and the club hopes to open with redoubled force and energy. The club has on hand something over a hundred dollars, and a committee was appointed and instructed to have the Methodist church here painted at once. That is one of the causes for which the club has been working so faithfully, and hopes soon to see the fruits of its labor. An old saying is "be useful as well as ornamental." The U. H. C. has been a very useful instrument in promoting good humor, sociability, good sound sense, etc., and of course is ornamental within itself, and hopes soon to ornament the house of God here with a beautiful coat of paint. A committee was also appointed and empowered to draw up a set of resolutions tendering to Mrs. S. A. Nelson the most sincere and hearty thanks and good will of the club for the many kindnesses and for material aid rendered by her to the club. The club has had all of its meetings at the residence of Mrs. Nelson and we are sure that not only every member of the club but all of the many visitors who have attended from time to time feel heartily grateful to her for her kindness and genial hospitality on all occasions. After attending to other business pertaining to the club it adjourned to meet the 2nd Friday night in July.

The stand of corn is very poor this year, be it said to the credit or discredit of the crows, larks, ground moles, wet weather, etc. We saw one darkey who vowed that he had kicked all the skin off his heels, making holes to replant; it reminded us of the old saying "knock a nigger on the heel if you want to get at his brain," and it was also another link in the chain of evidence, supporting the old saying.

We heard a fellow say the other day that "every body seemed to be singing a song to the tune of cotton planting;" that's a fact, everybody is either singing it or done sung.

Tobacco Free—Whiskey the Same. Deputy Internal Revenue Collector E. H. Deas, sends us the following:

EDMUND MANNING TELLS:—I am required to inform you as you were with the information to furnish you patrons with the information that the special tax now paid by dealers in manufacturing tobacco and cigars, has been abolished to take effect on and after May 1, 1891.

Also, that liquor sales are hereby notified that taxes on the same for the full year will hereafter become due the 1st day of July of each year, instead of the 1st day of May as heretofore. Persons liable who have paid special tax for the period ending April 30th, 1891, are to retain their stamps until the 1st day of July, 1891. For this purpose the person liable should make a return on form 11 to the collector and procure an extension certificate. A similar return should also be made, and a proper special tax stamp procured for the year beginning July 1st, 1891. Persons commencing in May or June 1891 must make a return on form 11, and procure a stamp for the period ending June 30, 1891.

These returns are to be made, and a proper stamp in ample time to enable the officer to receive them, and not later than the last day of the month in which liability begins. For failures to make returns as above stated, a penalty of fifty per centum of the tax will be assessed. The failure to procure a special tax stamp also renders the delinquent liable to criminal prosecution.

Respectfully,
E. H. DEAS,
Deputy Collector.

Patent medicines differ—One has reasonable, another has not. One has no confidence, born of success—another has only "hopes."

Don't take it for granted that all patent medicines are alike. They are not. Let the years of unintermitted success and the tens of thousands of cured and happy men and women, place Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription on the side of the comparison State or territory, no—nor hardly a country in the world, whether its people realize it or not, but have men and women in them that're happier because of their discovery and their effects.

Think of this in health. Think of it in sickness. And then think whether you can afford to make the trial if the makers can afford to take the risk to give your money back, as they do, if they do not benefit or cure you.

Who Will Rock the Cradle? When women's rights have come to stay, Oh, who will rock the cradle? When wives are at the polls all day, Oh, who will rock the cradle? When Doctor Mamma's selling pills, When Merchant Mamma's making bills, Of course 'twill cure all woman's ills, But who will rock the cradle?

When mamma to the court has hied, Oh, who will rock the cradle? She has a case that must be tried, But who will rock the cradle? When Captain Mamma walks her decks, When Banker Mamma's cashing checks, When all our girls have lost their sex, Must Papa Rock the cradle?

LAUNCHED INTO ETERNITY.

First Legal Execution in Clarendon Since 1865—Edmund Holladay Faces Death Without a Tremor.

The execution of Edmund Holladay, colored, convicted at the February term of court, for the murder of John W. DuBois, white, took place in the jail yard last Friday morning.

The acting sheriff used every precaution to have the sheriff's decree carried out as privately as possible, and only those that had special permits were allowed to go into the jail yard. Among these were Rev. E. H. Wilson, pastor of the A. M. E. church, Rev. C. W. Whitham, pastor of the colored Baptist church, the doctors, representatives of the press, special deputies, and a few others, in all about thirty persons.

At about half past ten o'clock the sheriff, Rev. E. H. Wilson, and the newspaper men, went up the stairs to the cell where the prisoner was confined, and in response to the question if he desired to make a statement he replied that he had nothing to say, only that he did not rest well last night, and had not felt like eating any breakfast this morning. In reply to other questions, he stated that his wife had not been to see him since he was brought back from the Sumter jail, and that his church members were in the Calvary colored Baptist church. Wilson asked how he was feeling spiritually, to which he replied that he felt "strong in the spirit." The minister told him to put himself into the hands of the Lord, and then knelt and offered prayer, during which the prisoner was composed and punctuated the minister's sentences with prayerful responses.

He was then taken out of the cell by the deputies, who pinioned his hands behind his back, and the march to the gallows was begun. On arriving at the steps he ascended without the slightest falter or emotion, and having mounted the gallows, turned towards those in the yard. The sheriff asked him if he desired to say anything, to which he said that he would like Mr. Whitehead to pray and have a hymn sung for him. Rev. Wilson raised the hymn "Jesus, my all, to heaven," which was sung in a strong clear voice. At the conclusion of the hymn Rev. Whitehead knelt and delivered a beautiful and touching prayer. When he finished he bade the prisoner farewell, and exhorted him to believe that he would meet him at the great white throne in the presence of the Heavenly Father. The sheriff again asked the doomed man if he wanted to say anything now as it was his last chance. He said, "I have written something, but I will say to my friends and hearers, that I have made my peace with the Lord, and taken up Christ and his footsteps. I have Heaven for my home. The Lord give and the Lord takeeth. I bid you adieu. I bid you adieu to the hanging of the Maxey murderers in Sumter, was adjusted, and the black cap drawn over his face. The sheriff at once began reading the death warrant. He finished reading at five minutes past eleven o'clock, and as he read the last word on the document he sprung the trap and Edmund Holladay swung into eternity, paying the penalty of his crime.

The drop was about three feet, and the neck was broken instantly. There was scarcely any struggle, a few slight quivers, and all was over. In nine and a half minutes the doctors pronounced that death had taken place, but suggested to the sheriff that the body to remain hanging a little while longer.

There was a large crowd of white and colored persons outside of the yard, and the sheriff went to the gate, and said that if any of the relatives of the man were present, they should go in to view the body. None responded, and then the sheriff executed the invitation to the crowd. As soon as he threw the gate open the crowd made a tremendous rush for the scene of the hanging, and in a very few minutes at least two hundred persons congregated around the gallows with their curious eyes centered on the dead man as he swung suspended in the air. A great many of the negroes seemed to regard the affair with little solemnity. They laughed, cracked jokes, and did not act as if they were standing in the presence of death and viewing that which but a few minutes before contained what the Creator alone could give.

The body was allowed to remain hanging about thirty minutes, when it was cut down and placed in the coffin.

During the entire preliminaries the prisoner did not exhibit the least fear or trembling, but displayed a composure that was certainly worthy of commendation.

The sheriff made diligent inquiries as to whether any of the prisoner's friends had come to take charge of the body, but finding none would have it, he had the body buried in the Potter's field in this place.

On account of the illness of the sheriff Mr. J. H. Lessee was the acting sheriff. He deserves credit for the manner he executed this solemn and responsible mandate of the law. He was not a hitch or a blunder in the entire proceedings.

Jordan News.

JORDAN, April 27.—Everybody here is interested in the much-talked-of "Pink Tea" which comes out on the night of Friday the 28th. The indications are that it will be quite a successful affair. Everything nice to tempt the appetite will be served, as well as tea, hot and cold, coffee, lemonade, ice cream, fruit, etc. Fancy work and specialties will supply the tastes of those who do not eat. It is hoped that a large crowd will be in attendance. Everybody who comes can be accommodated.

Quarterly Conference was held here on the 17th. Rev. E. T. Hodges, presiding. Financial reports were excellent. Large congregations in attendance at all services. Crops are looking well. The coons are getting in some fine work just now.

[We have been requested to say that on account of Mr. L. Lessee's death, the "Pink Tea" has been postponed to Friday evening, May 15th.—Editor MANNING TIMES.]
