

Foreston News.

FORESTON, Sep. 28.—We have not received the prophetic cake yet, but will venture to write again, in the hope that this letter may be something equally astonishing, in order to give "Button" an opportunity to chronicle the fact.

Foreston is looking very beautiful this season. Never has the sky been bluer, the cornfields brighter with the harvest gold than now. It is a soft, calm day, September dying away into October, and giving nature a farewell across, while fleecy clouds drift solemnly across the zenith and massed banks of splendor behind the forests, which form the background to a charming landscape. Nature is a perfect success. Why can't our lives be the same?

Now for news. We believe that every body has made friends with everybody else, and are shaking hands across the chasm of petty feuds and disagreements.

We have always, in our role as a correspondent, endeavored to be "perfectly reliable," though we are not descended from Gen. George Washington, not claiming the honor of being even a "pet nephew." Mr. Editor, do you really believe that beautiful romance about the "cherry tree and the hatcase?" We do not undertake a crusade against family traditions, for they are certainly aristocratic and wholesome, but we have been a boy orselves and know just how it is. We think that cherry-tree episode a charming fiction invented for the benefit of the rising young America, and dispensed as a moral lesson, just as we would give a boy a sugar coated pill.

Some of our prominent citizens made a flying trip to the mountains last summer. It is good to be young, handsome, and rich. We would not be so heartily in favor that they had made a "dash" amongst the mountain nymphs, for they are all mighty good-looking, and they know it.

It is generally conceded that editors ought to be posted on every subject, so we require a solution of the following: When you see a widower brushing his hair before the glass seventeen times a day, what does it mean? We have witnessed this phenomenon, but guessed it to be some strange hallucination; or it is some new type of disease which science is constantly evolving; or it is the same old affair which has caused so much trouble in the world?

Our worthy section master, Capt. S. Y. Barnes, is keeping his road in the election, and it is a pleasure to look both at the road and the Captain, but a far greater treat to hear the old veteran spin a Confederate yarn.

The ballot for Sunday-school superintendent on last Sunday resulted in the election of Mr. W. T. P. Spott. For once, the children were masters of the situation.

We had anticipated a visit to Mr. Harrison, ere this, but the care of our vast estates, and a tender regard for the readers of the Times, compelled us to disappoint the president, and keep the Foreston people informed of their present and future intentions, plans, and prospects. BURNON.

A Corner Stone at Foreston.

The corner stone of Shiloh A. M. E. church at Foreston, S. C., of which Rev. C. F. Brodgen is pastor, was laid last Thursday, 24th, with Odd Fellows' ceremony.

The following lodges were present, and participated: Manning Lodge, 2469; Foreston Lodge, 3396; Jordan Lodge, 3378. Rev. Henry C. DeLaine, of Manning lodge, was master of ceremonies; Nelson S. Robinson, of Jordan lodge, was Sec. and deposited documents in the stone.

Addresses were delivered by Rev. E. H. Wilson, Robt. A. Stewart, and Rev. W. D. Chappelle.

Quite an interesting time was had, and a very large gathering attended and remained the entire day.

A street parade was held, and the people of Foreston viewed it as it passed through the little village. C. F. BRODGEN.

Williamsburg News.

County Record, September 23, 1891.

Mr. William J. Tisdale, one of the oldest men in the county, died at his home a few miles from this town on the 21st inst. He died suddenly of apoplexy.

Messrs. C. D. Rollins and E. C. Epps were the only applicants who came before the board of examiners to be examined for the vacant cadetship in the S. C. Military Academy from this county. Mr. Rollins was awarded the recommendation, he having won it by 44 points over his competitor. Sam Sniggers killed a very large wild cat on the 18th instant, in Mr. F. W. Player's cotton field on the west side of Black river, a few miles from Kingstree. It was 44 inches long, and two feet high, with very large head and small tail. Some say it was a panther cat. It was the largest wild cat ever seen in this section.

The Carabella cigar, hand made of pure Havana tobacco, is the best five cent cigar ever made in Manning, for sale only at Brockington's drug store.

Talbert Says He is a Democrat.

COLUMBIA, S. C., September 21, 1891. To the Editor of the News and Courier: I see an editorial in your paper of today under the headlines: "Will Col. Talbert swing?" In which Col. Talbert is asked to favor, and go into a Third Party, or the Democratic party refuse to accept the Ocala demands?"

I have already answered this question from the noncommittal standpoint, but now, as I have done before, by saying that I, too, am a Democrat, and as such my record has never been impeached, but I, too, am an Alliance man, and favor the Ocala platform, and I propose to make my fight for Alliance measures in the Democratic primaries or conventions, State or national, and if we fail to nominate candidates who stand on the Ocala platform, then we will stand by the regular nominees of the Democratic party, trusting that at the next primary or nominating convention we will be stronger, and on this line we propose to fight it out, not through forty summers, or until success shall perch upon our banner.

I beg to refer you to a letter written by me to your paper some time in the early spring, in which I stated that we were in regard to Alliance doctrines. I stated then, and I repeat now, that on that platform I would stand, and there was not enough newspaper in South Carolina to scare me out of it. I have no objection to the nomination of candidates to, in primaries or conventions, who stood on our platform, with the assurance that in the general election we would not only vote for but work for the regular nominees.

Mr. Editor, we propose to fight it out on that line, and "never give up the ship" so long as there is a Democratic primary or Democratic convention held, and we will stand by the regular nominees of the Democratic party, trusting that at the next primary or nominating convention we will be stronger, and on this line we propose to fight it out, not through forty summers, or until success shall perch upon our banner.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

MRS. S. A. NETTLES.

KITCHEN FURNITURE.—The novice is apt to think that the needs of the kitchen are trifling, and that purchases for it can be placed like itself, quite in the rear of all else.

The truth is that the kitchen table is even more necessary than the drawing-room table, and that kitchen furnishings are really formidable furnishings in expense to those in "the front room."

All kitchen utensils and furniture should be carefully bought, for they are the tools by which the health of the household is wrought.

Health-giving food and clean apparel come from within the kitchen walls, and whatever cripples its efforts to provide these is lamentable, and should have no place therein.

Scenty, poor utensils affect the variety, quality, and palatableness of food, and unnecessarily wear out the worker's strength and temper.

This needless waste of strength, even in a servant, is poor economy, and in the kitchen the builder of the home should relax her desire to save, and freely and cheerfully provide all that her practical sense of family comfort shows to be needed.

A TINY SHOE BOX.—The box is about two feet and a half long and two feet high and is mounted on casters.

The box any carpenter can manage. It is lined through with substantial cotton reps of a glowing toned yellow.

The shoe pockets are of a warm material bound with braid of the same or slightly darker tint, and are fastened on all around the inside with brass headed nails.

This will give pockets for at least ten pairs of feet covering, easily accessible and in plain view.

The lid is lightly stuffed and is covered with a gorgeous design in yellow and white cotton upholstery covering.

The stuff is put on plain and a flounce of deep cotton lace, that imitating oriental lace through which runs a cord is preferable.

This lace overlies the stuff beneath, leaving an oblong panel on top and is fastened down with heavy yellow silk cord.

The box proper is covered with the upholstery material. In a bias puff a finger and a half deep fastened down with the silk cord.

Below this falls a deep flounce of the lace over the yellow, or a flounce of the material may be substituted if more convenient.

Of course any colors or materials may be substituted. In any case the box should harmonize with the dominating colors of the room in which it is placed.

THE SMELL OF PAINT may be taken away by closing up the room and setting in the center of it a pan of lighted charcoal, on which have been thrown some juniper berries.

Leave this in the room for a day and night, when the smell of the paint will be gone.

Some persons prefer a pail of water in which a handful of hay is soaking. This is also effectual in removing the odor of tobacco smoke from a room.

Crop frequently finds a household unprepared for its visit, while the rapidity with which it develops calls for instant treatment.

For this dangerous disease Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is an admirable remedy. It saves many lives every year. Keep it in the house.

Instantaneous Affection.

He: "Won't you play the piano for me?"

She: "I don't play."

He: "Then you will sing?"

She: "I don't sing."

He: "Then will you marry me?"

W. J. McDonald, superintendent Lannan Manufacturing Co., Greenville, S. C., says: "My wife has used Brader's Cherry Pectoral and it is the only thing that relieves her sufferings."

Disappointing Acquiescence.

Mr. Fannelsuit (doubtfully): "What would you think if I should kiss you, Miss Ethel?"

Miss Ethel (indifferently): "Oh, I don't know. I'm not very original. I'd probably say just what I did to Harry Shoulderstraps and Capt. Casabel and the rest of them."

A doctor's bill is seldom less than $5, and this doesn't include the cost of filling prescriptions. One dollar purchases a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which in nine cases out of ten is all the medical treatment needed. Try it and save your money for a rainy day.

Concealed Weapons.

They were seated on a truck cart in Cadillac square, discussing points in colored etiquette.

"You ain't no cullud gemman," said one. "You's dis a plain, common nigger."

"Huh! who say dat?" growled the other.

"I does."

"Cause you hain't got no razor 'bout yo' pussion, you hain't."

"Has you?" inquired the other, with eager curiosity, forgetting his own insult.

"Deed I has."

"The other man got up.

"What you gwine?" asked his companion.

"Dat's all right whar Ise gwine. Don' you worry 'bout whar Ise gwine. Ise gwine to see dat police on de corner an' ax him ef he got mo' use fer a cullud gemman, er fer a plain, common nigger. You dis wait till I gits back."

But the "cullud gemman" didn't wait.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

a remedy which if used as directed for a few weeks before confinement, robs it of its Pain, Horror and Risk to Life of both mother and child, as thousands who have used it testify.

A Blessing to Expectant Mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND is worth its weight in gold. My wife suffered more in ten minutes with either of her first two children than she did in ten days with her last, having previously used four bottles of MOTHER'S FRIEND. It is a blessing to mothers.

Carmel, Ill., Jan., 1890. G. F. Lockwood.

Sent by express, charges prepaid, on receipt of price in paper bottles. Sold by all members of the party who represent the citizens' committee. The party carried two boxes in the carriage, containing two mortars and a dozen 21-pound bombs.

When the outskirts of town were reached the mortars were unpacked and set upon a small hill. Three rounds were fired, four shells being exploded at each volley. Brokers on clouds were passing overhead. No rain was falling anywhere in the vicinity when the firing was begun, but after every report a shower fell, and as the clouds passed away to the south-west the rain seemed to be falling in torrents over a limited area.

By the time the last shell was fired the rain was begun, and was general over the city and country for half an hour.
