BY E. A. STEWART.

We live in an age of generous surprises. Nothing pans out as contemplated in the original--none can portend with the aid of the most ingenious divination the end of anything which depends upon the will or decision of a man. It always happens like this: Behold, the mountain has labored and brought forth a mouse.

It never fails as an unvarying rule, that to tell the truth on a follow-up is the thing that hurts--that makes the jaded gall wince--while prevarication may rise like a rocket, apparently to the firmament, it falls like a stick, is no more. Nature always provides means adequate to the ends of life and human economy; for instance, when one swells to the bad eminence of self-adulation, feels the ego, if it were possible for him to continue swelling in pomposity to suit the creature-thoughts of his own mind, now colossal-like, he would become; how soon all else of the world beside (men) would be crowded off the globe and sent heading flaming into the depths beyond. But not so, "in wisdom were all things made," so it is arranged that the malady shall rest in the head--"on the mind," "what's on the mind," all the phantasms, all the visionary fancies of one's own indisposability, this better than those manias, leaves the man the same size, the same size resulting, nevertheless, in the "big head," a true human misfortune.

Mrs. Bryant, of Columbia, is teaching at the A. M. E. school house. Manning has a very copious blessing of schools this year. "You pays your money and takes your choice."

Miss Halle Q. Brown did not come to favor us with an eulogistic entertainment; she hoped to attend, in consequence of an urgent call elsewhere.

Rev. G. J. Hamilton, of Liberty Hill church, paid Manning a flying visit. Mr. Robert A. White, the blacksmith, is the most extensive keeper of dog flesh that we know of in the county, which he has the company of eleven of the canine tribe.

One dollar a head for educational purposes would increase the public school coffers quite handsomely.

Rev. J. B. Smith, of Sumter, is expected to be down this week to officiate as usual Sunday coming.

Miss Viola Redick, of Columbia, teaching at Laurel Hill school, visited us this week. She reports her school as working finely.

Mr. Syrax Milton, the veteran County Chairman of the Republican party, was in town. He looks well and vigorous for one of his years--full of life and vitality and adorned with a fine physique. The cause of this rash act is said to be business troubles.

Last Friday Rev. W. C. Lindsay, of Columbia, went to a drug store of that city to buy some quinine for his little five-year-old daughter, who was feeling unwell. He ordered three powders of three grains each. The drug clerk gave him morphine instead of quinine, and a few hours after the powder was administered the little girl was dead. It is said the clerk is overwhelmed with grief. Sinking, crying, and in the proper place for him in the penitentiary for life. There is no excuse for such a deadly mistake.

The public State printing has been awarded to the Columbia Register. The State was an applicant for this printing, but failed to secure the prize, whereupon it editorially made a savage attack upon Dr. Sampson Gray, clerk of the Senate, and Gen. Gray, clerk of the House, charging both of these gentlemen with having secured the contract. The cause of this rash act is said to be business troubles.

THE MANNING TIMES.

Manning, S. C.

S. A. NETTLES, Editor.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1891.

The Senate has confirmed the Governor's removal of Supervisor Cantwell, and now that gentleman will have to vacate.

What about the railroad to the C. S. & N. railroad? Everybody says we must have it, but nobody is moving in the matter.

There was a big storm in Washington, Stamford, and some other cities in that vicinity last Monday. The damage done in Washington alone is estimated at $250,000. A part of the White House was blown down, and the President's family greatly frightened.

Everyone has much to be thankful for, and to-morrow, with heartfelt devotion, every person should offer thanks to Almighty God for his kind and loving fatherly watchfulness the past year. As a people we have had a prosperous year, and have been free from famine, distress, and epidemics. Let us all truly thank God.

Columbia has just got her canal, and last Saturday with great pomp and ceremony the waters of the Broad were turned into the canal, which is three miles long, 150 feet wide at the top, 110 feet wide at the bottom, and ten feet deep. It will furnish enough water for all the factories and manufacturing concerns which will ever have.

The commission appointed by the State to select a site for the Girl's Industrial School report that they have received eight proposals, as follows: Mrs. W. J. Kennedy, $25,000; Mrs. J. B. Smith, $25,000; and 20 to 100 acres; Chester $40,000 and 20 to 50 acres; Laurens $45,000 and 20 to 75 acres; Camden $50,000; Spartanburg $51,000 and 30 acres; Anderson $125,000; and $125,000. It is probable that Anderson will get it.

Last Monday Mr. George Ducker, formerly of the firm of Ducker & Bultman, of Sumter, attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself in the head while in a motor car in Columbia. He was hit in the forehead, and his physician has hopes that the unfortunate man will recover, but in the event of his recovery he will be stone blind, as the ball passed through the front part of the head, and severed the optic nerves. The cause of this rash act is said to be business troubles.
