

COLUMBIA, S. C. Jan. 14.—Governor Tillman and Secretary of State Tindal returned yesterday from the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of Clemson College.

The following executive committee was composed of: Col. R. E. Bowen, Chairman; Col. K. Norris, Col. R. W. Simpson, Hon. M. L. Donaldson and Col. D. F. Bradley.

The committee in charge of the fertilizing department of the farm school, reported to Governor Tillman, Secretary of State Tindal and J. E. Wannamaker.

The following committee on the Experimental Station was selected: Col. K. Norris, M. L. Donaldson and Col. R. E. Bowen.

It has been known for some time that there was little harmony between the Board of Trustees and President Newman.

Considerable time was given to the consideration of financial affairs. It is feared that there will be a falling off in the income this year owing to the expected small crop of farmers.

The daily is to be completed and an additional story to Mechanical Hall.

The engineer of the college was ordered to make a survey of the Seneca River with the purpose in view of building a dike for the protection of the buildings.

A track is to be built to the college from the Air Line Railroad, which is over a mile away.

The maximum number of students at this session was between four and five hundred.

The trustees find that every department is all right and will be working smoothly when the institution opens in February.

Table with 4 columns: Name, Old Stud's, App'ts., and a final column with numbers. Lists names like Abbeville, Anderson, Aiken, etc.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., January 9.—John Norton a student at Russellville, Ky., was shot last night.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 12.—This morning a gas cost six lives in Baltimore harbor.

LAST WEEK IN WAGNER.

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE)

In their faces and a discharge of grape and canister from the eleven-inch guns on the parapet of Grez. Not a man landed.

The bombardment was terrific and grand all night. The fleet withdrew at the approach of darkness.

The bombardment was terrific and grand all night. The fleet withdrew at the approach of darkness.

The bombardment was terrific and grand all night. The fleet withdrew at the approach of darkness.

SIXTH OF DECEMBER, SUNDAY. Dignity came at last, and with it the quickening of the spirit.

Joseph, Mo., Jan. 11.—A package of money, amounting to $10,000 lying under the stove in the express car.

Mysterious Disappearance. Asheville, N. C., Jan. 11.—On Saturday before New Year's Lawrence Pulliam, cashier of the National Bank of Asheville.

Terrible Tragedy. Marietta, Ohio, January 9.—Henry Saner, a respectable German, and his wife were murdered last night in their home near Pinchown.

As a Political Dodge. Washington, Jan. 12.—It leaked out today in the Senate that the executive committee of the National Republican Committee.

Six Were Driven. Baltimore, Md., Jan. 12.—This morning a gas cost six lives in Baltimore harbor.

Washington, Jan. 12.—It leaked out today in the Senate that the executive committee of the National Republican Committee.

Six Were Driven. Baltimore, Md., Jan. 12.—This morning a gas cost six lives in Baltimore harbor.

Washington, Jan. 12.—It leaked out today in the Senate that the executive committee of the National Republican Committee.

Six Were Driven. Baltimore, Md., Jan. 12.—This morning a gas cost six lives in Baltimore harbor.

Washington, Jan. 12.—It leaked out today in the Senate that the executive committee of the National Republican Committee.

Six Were Driven. Baltimore, Md., Jan. 12.—This morning a gas cost six lives in Baltimore harbor.

TWO NEW LAWS.

Restriicting the State and a State Board of Medical Examiners.

An Act to divide the State of South Carolina into seven Congressional districts.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of South Carolina, now met and sitting in General Assembly, and by the authority of the Senate and House of Representatives.

Section 1. The 1st Congressional district shall be composed of the counties of Charleston, Georgetown, Beaufort, and of the townships of Anderson, Hope, Indian, Kings, Laws, Minerva, and Turkey.

Section 2. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 3. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 4. That all Acts and parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 5. That this Act shall take effect from the first of September (1894) eighteen hundred and ninety-four.

Section 6. That this Act shall take effect from the first of September (1894) eighteen hundred and ninety-four.

Section 7. That this Act shall take effect from the first of September (1894) eighteen hundred and ninety-four.

Section 8. That this Act shall take effect from the first of September (1894) eighteen hundred and ninety-four.

Section 9. That this Act shall take effect from the first of September (1894) eighteen hundred and ninety-four.

Section 10. That this Act shall take effect from the first of September (1894) eighteen hundred and ninety-four.

Section 11. That this Act shall take effect from the first of September (1894) eighteen hundred and ninety-four.

Section 12. That this Act shall take effect from the first of September (1894) eighteen hundred and ninety-four.

Section 13. That this Act shall take effect from the first of September (1894) eighteen hundred and ninety-four.

Section 14. That this Act shall take effect from the first of September (1894) eighteen hundred and ninety-four.

DEFYING THE UNITED STATES.

The Insurrection of the Hawaiian Islands.

VICTORIA, B. C., January 9.—The steamer Waiariki, which arrived last night, brought advices from Honolulu under date of January 1.

Section 8. Nothing in this Act shall apply to commissioned medical officers of the United States Army or Navy.

Section 9. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 10. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 11. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 12. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 13. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 14. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 15. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 16. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 17. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 18. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 19. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 20. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 21. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 22. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

The Unlucky Year.

For a generation, perhaps longer, 1893 will stand in history as the unluckiest year.

Commercial failures unprecedented in modern times have been thickly sprinkled along its pathway.

The depression and hard times have not been confined to the United States alone, but singularly enough have been shared by all English speaking peoples.

The largest single bank failure recorded for the year was that of the National bank of Australia, which went under in April with liabilities amounting to $37,500,000.

The shakiest failure was perhaps that in which the American Erie railway, with a floating debt of $6,000,000, went into the hands of a receiver in July.

It was a terrible year financially for railroads, with 30 of them at present in the hands of receivers.

There were 29 serious accidents and collisions, most of them during the World's fair months.

An average of over three persons a day was either killed or badly injured on railway trains in 1893.

Fire, flood and storm kept pace with the other misfortunes. Certainly not less than $100,000,000 went up in flames and smoke in 1893, mostly in the United States.

The most destructive single fire, however, was that which occurred in London, July 17, with a loss of $7,500,000.

Large areas in Boston and Chicago were burned out again. In Boston two great fires occurred, one of them destroying $2,500,000 worth of property.

The identical ground ravaged by the fire of November, 1872. March 23 a tornado struck several of the southern States, causing in Mississippi alone a loss of 18 lives and over $2,000,000 worth of property.

An average of over three persons a day was either killed or badly injured on railway trains in 1893.

The identical ground ravaged by the fire of November, 1872. March 23 a tornado struck several of the southern States, causing in Mississippi alone a loss of 18 lives and over $2,000,000 worth of property.

An average of over three persons a day was either killed or badly injured on railway trains in 1893.

The identical ground ravaged by the fire of November, 1872. March 23 a tornado struck several of the southern States, causing in Mississippi alone a loss of 18 lives and over $2,000,000 worth of property.

An average of over three persons a day was either killed or badly injured on railway trains in 1893.