We keep a large supply of all kinds of school books on hand all the time, and are selling them cheaper than was ever before known in Clarendon county.

Hungry for trade, W. E. JENKINSON.

Your Name in Print.

—Mr. A. C. Davis continues to be quite ill.

Dr. W. S. Pack and Capt. J. A. Mills, of Greenville, are in Manning for a few days.

The Legislature meets next week.

Dr. Pope is still harping on the election frauds.

Rev. S. A. Nettles is in Laurens attending conference.

Treasurer Bowman says that the taxes are coming in very slow.

The South Carolina Methodist Conference opens to-day at Laurens.

Governor Tillman has issued a proclamation making the 29th inst. Thanksgiving Day.

Everybody should go to the concert on the 30th inst. It will be an intellectual treat.

The State fair last week was a financial failure owing to the scarceness of money matters.

That Winburn is a tip-top photographer no one in this section doubts. The work speaks for itself.

Nobody should miss the grand concert which will be given in the Institute hall, Friday evening, 30th inst.

Mr. W. J. Shelton, the hustling representative of the Columbia Register, spent last night in Manning.

Mr. W. C. Chandler is having a neat cottage erected on the lot opposite the residence of Capt. I. I. Segnal.

Managers of the federal election that have not yet received their pay can get it by calling at the Times office any day.

Get ready to have your photograph taken. Winburn, one of South Carolina's best photographers, is coming to Manning for a few days.

Mr. D. R. Reeves gave us two stalks of ribbon cane which are about eight feet high, and we challenge any of our farmers to show finer cane.

Died last Monday morning at her home in the Fork, Mrs. Eliza M. Plowden, relict of the late Gabriel Plowden, aged about eighty-nine years.

Jake Plowden was bound over yesterday, and the hearing of Dan Washington was held this morning. Commissioner Norris reserving his decision.

The cold wave scheduled for Manning last Sunday did not strike us until yesterday. There must have been a misconception somewhere on the route.

Miss Dora McLean, of Cheraw, a student at the Winthrop Training School, was run over and killed by the electric street railway in Columbia last Saturday.

Onion Sets at Loryea's.

We understand that an effort will be made to have Packer's incorporated by the coming Legislature so that a dispensary can be established at that place.

Mr. Winburn has in the town a fine display of photographs which you would care to look at. Just such work he proposes to do in Manning during his stay here.

Very few of our citizens will attend the gala festivities in Charleston this week on account of the inclement weather, but Manning will be well represented at the Phytian fair.

The Garcoisa is the best 5c. smoke to be had in the market, at Brockington's drug store.

We received from Mr. R. H. Davis yesterday a yellow yam potato which tipped the scales at ten pounds and ten ounces. Can anybody in the county beat it? If so, bring in your "taters."

The highest cash price given for cotton seed. W. M. Brockington.

Some time ago the premises of M. C. Galluchat, Esq., was entered and robbed by a negro named Russell, and last Saturday night he fell into the clutches of Mr. C. L. Emanuel and was landed in jail.

The best 5c. cigars in town at Brockington's drug store.

Moses Levi has made another big contract for the celebrated James Means' shoes. When a man buys a pair of these shoes he not only has comfort, but a shoe that will give him his money's worth in good solid wear.

When you want pure drugs, you go to Loryea, the druggist; why not go to Loryea when you want pure spices, teas, vinegars, and condiments?

There will be a hot supper and festival at Packer's tomorrow night, and another at Packer's Friday night. Both entertainments are given for the benefit of the Packer's military company to aid them in purchasing uniforms.

For pure, fresh candies, go to Loryea, the druggist.

Died suddenly last Monday night, Frank McCall, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McCall. The deceased was suddenly taken ill with a congestive chill in the afternoon, and had another that night, from which he died.

When you want a good smoke go to Brockington's and get a 10c. package of Pick Leaf smoking tobacco.

A prominent clergyman of this county had the experience of reading his own obituary, which was sent out by an enterprising man who gets up obituary albums.

Of course the gentleman not being dead was not ready to invest.

It is a pleasure to dye when you use Dinmond Dyes. We have a full supply, all colors. R. B. Loryea, the druggist.

The United States Court meets in Columbia next week, and Clarendon will have a number of cases to be tried. Among the number will be the case against the postmaster at this place, charged with breaking open a letter and abstracting therefrom a $1.25 check and sending it back to the man that issued it.

For chapped hands and lips try a 5c. bottle of Petresine, at Brockington's.

Mr. J. H. Winburn, Sumter's local photographer, will be in Manning for one week commencing on or about the 26th of this month. He is too well known in this section to need any special advertising. He has a lot of very fine photographs. Samples of his work now in the town, and all are invited to examine the same.

AN OPTICAL ILLUSION.

Curious Double Reflections Seen Through a Railway Car Window.

Curious things are sometimes developed by double reflections in the presence of plenty of glass to keep up the reflection. This is what a woman saw a few days ago as she sat in her car in the Grand Central station waiting for the train to pull out.

On the left of her train, and very close to it, was a second train. The seats of her own car had the usual red plush cushions, and those in the other were bright blue. At the right of the observer, and in the same car, sat a young woman lounging carelessly back and reading a magazine. The observer looked out through the window on her left into the corresponding car of the other train. There was also a young woman lying back on the blue plush cushions and reading a magazine. A moment before the seat had been empty.

The observer was struck by the resemblance between this young woman and the one at her right. She looked across her own car. It was the same young person, but the one in her car was actual, the other was the reflection. Yet the reflected figure sat not in a red plush seat as the former did, but on the actual blue plush seat with which that car was furnished. Yet the figure seemed perfectly solid, and no glimpse of the blue plush was seen where the shadow body touched the seat.

As the curious observer looked two men came into the empty car and seated themselves in the very seat occupied by the half reflecting figure. The first man slid over toward the window without disturbing the reflection. The second one sat down squarely where the girl was sitting, and here was the strange part of it. The figure showed no signs of disappearing, and there was then presented the figure of the young girl leaning back and calmly reading, with a man sitting solidly on her lap and leaning forward.

And the reflected figure of the girl was just as clear and distinct as the real figure of the man. Below the seat both the real and unreal were seated. It was a confused mingling of trouser cloth and skirt cloth. The two bodies seemed actually occupying the same space.

It was thoroughly perplexing, and the woman was glad when the train slid away and the picture dissolved.

$100 REWARD. $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. He Wrote "Maryland, My Maryland." James R. Randall, the author of "Maryland, My Maryland," is an employee in the office of the senate's sergeant-at-arms in Washington. He is said to receive requests from all over the English speaking world for copies of his song. He is a frequent visitor to the press galleries and occasionally writes a clever letter to his home newspaper, but he is not the man one would pick out as the author of a famous battle song.—New York Tribune.

Funeral Garlands.

A custom prevailed and continued even down to recent years of making funeral garlands on the death of young unmarried women of unblemished character. These garlands were made sometimes of metal and sometimes of natural flowers or evergreens and commonly having a white glove in the center on which was inscribed the name and initials and age of the deceased. This garland was laid on or carried before the coffin during its passage to the grave and afterward frequently hung up in the church, generally being suspended from the roof. It was usual in the primitive church to place crowns of flowers on the heads of deceased virgins.—Westminster Gazette.
