A BIG BARGAIN IN JEANS.

Only 25 Cents Per Yard for an All-Wool Filler, Worth 35 Cents On Any Market. We are selling homespun, gingham, outtings, and dress goods at prices which should certainly demand your attention.

We are offering a nice line of coats, and boys' hats and caps very cheap. Our one-dollar coats' hat is certainly a bargain.

Remember we keep a nice line of gents', ladies', and children's shoes and would like to make you prices before you buy. Our ladies' $7.50 shoes is equal to a $12.00 shoe in the market. Call and give them a look.

Remember we pay special attention to our grocery department and handle nothing but the purest goods at the lowest cash prices possible.

We have a large lot of dried apples on hand at only 10c per pound.

Yours for the cash. W. E. JENKINSON.

There are now three ex-convicts generally on the bench of South Carolina.

There will be a prize drill at the College Institute on Christmas night.

The Hackett Store is receiving a nice lot of Christmas goods for the little ones.

The dispensary at this place is one of the quietest and busiest places in the town.

A marriage is to take place next Sunday night at Shiloh. The contracting parties will be Mr. William H. Cole, of the Fork, and Miss Mattie Anderson, of Shiloh.

Yesterday afternoon Etzell L. Adams, a highly respectable citizen of Florence county, in a fit of insanity killed his wife and daughter and then took his own life.

When you come to town to buy your Christmas supplies be sure to call on the advertisers in the Times. They are wise merchants and are sure to have in stock what you want.

Buy your seedless raisins, currants, citron, etc., from B. A. Johnson.

We want a good five correspondent in every county in the country. The news from all over the county is what builds up a county paper and at the same time it helps the community.

For spectacles and eye-glasses of any kind call at Brockington's and get the best at the lowest cash prices possible.

A citizen of the Fork puts the query to us. Will the constitutional convention that is to be, tackle the school law? He desires to hear the views of the correspondents in the Times on this subject.

When you want a good smoke go to Brockington's and get a 10c package of Pick Leaf smoking tobacco.

There are six hundred applications on file in the governor's office, asking that divers persons be appointed Dispensary constables. One hundred have been received since Governor Evans' inauguration.

Married last Wednesday at the Gervin street Baptist church in Columbia, Miss Mary Collette, of Panola, and Mr. Arthur Williams, of Columbia. A large number of the friends of the happy pair witnessed the ceremony.

The highest cash price given for cotton seed. W. M. Brockington.

The first pardon granted by Governor Evans was last Saturday to William Bryant of this county, who was convicted on the charge of larceny and his time would have expired yesterday. His pardon restores to him the right of citizenship.

The Garviosa is the best 5c. smoke to be had in the market, at Brockington's.

Our merchants are determined not to carry over any more stock than they can help in the spirit of the season's money. One of our advertisers told us that he proposes to force the people to buy it selling goods cheap can accomplish the result.

Fresh garden seed this week at Brockington's.

We have been requested by a number of our subscribers to publish the county government law passed by the legislature and which goes into effect on the 1st of January, but lack of space forbids us from doing so this week. We may publish it later.

Just received a superb stock of handkerchiefs, extracts, floral essences, Colognes, Florida water, etc., lowest prices. R. B. Loryea, the druggist.

Mr. H. L. B. Hodge, of the Fork, tells us that he made this year on less than a half acre of land 120 gallons of molasses and about 300 pounds of sugar. He has no trouble in disposing of the molasses at fifty cents a gallon, and his sugar at five cents per pound.

Buy your evaporated peaches and apricots from B. A. Johnson.

There is a bill before the legislature requiring ministers and students to do road duty or pay the road tax the same as other people. Representative C. M. Davis has a bill to reduce the seed cotton license in this county and another bill has one to change the voting precinct in the Fork.

Handsome line of Christmas cards ever brought to Manning, R. B. Loryea, the druggist.

It is stated in yesterday's News and Courier that Judge O. W. Buchanan will make his home in Sumter. We hope this is a mistake as we have knowledge of the fact that Mr. Buchanan was desirous of bringing his family to Manning and we sincerely hope that he has not changed his mind.

Remember, I am headquarter for Johnson's Chill and Fever Tonic, sold under a positive guarantee. W. M. Brockington.

Christmas goblins are now frequently heard on our streets, and this is about as near as we pencil pushers can get to the jingle turkey. This sound at last is consoling.

A telegraphic dispatch flashed over the wires last night announcing the death of Mr. N. W. Wells, in the city of Greenville. Mr. Wells was a native of this county, and one of the most eloquent preachers in the South Carolina Conference. He was forty-two years of age.

There was a meeting of citizens of the Fork and the Salem section held last Friday at Midway at which the stock law was discussed and that body resolved to petition the representatives elected to the constitutional convention to devise some means by which the poorer class of farmers could get relief from the oppressions of the present stock law.

Important line of imported decorated cigars and cigars, R. B. Loryea, the druggist.

These show printers were brought to the Manning jail last Monday from Justice Robinson's court. Two of these, James Canty and Charles Singleton, entered the grand merchandise store of J. P. Brockington about Friday last Sunday and were captured before they made way with much of their booty. The third is Fred Green, he is charged with having broken into the store of C. P. Rabin on the night of the 11th and got relief from it a considerable quantity of goods.

We call attention to the advertisement of V. C. Buchanan, of Columbia, in another column. Mr. Buchanan's establishment is headquarters for all kinds of machinery and those that have had dealings with him are well pleased with their transactions. He is a competent and reliable repairer for all kinds of machinery. He has a large stock of goods for sale.

Our efforts to give the people of this county a good road law, we have had some success, but we realize that the hard times has kept many a name from our subscription list that desired to be on there. Many of our old subscribers have allowed their subscriptions to expire, and we are glad to see them, we induced them for a time. Now we desire to give this notice that after the first day of January every name on our subscription books that is not paid up will positively be stricken off, as we cannot pay the cash out of our pockets and not receive anything in return for it. We do not want to lose a single subscriber, nor do we propose to furnish our paper free. So we hope that the friends of the Times will give us some help toward getting the help we so much need. A man may be ever so rich and responsible for his debts and if he does not pay us promptly he does us the same injury as the man who is poor and same. Remember that we are not asking for our books of those who have not paid us up, and if after the first day of January your paper fails to reach you, the cause will be that you have not paid us, as usual.

For Rent or Sale—The Manning hotel is offered for rent, lease, or sale. It is suitable for an approved tenant or purchaser. Possession given January 1st 1895. Apply to MRS. M. O. BURGESS, Manning, S. C.

MR. GOUGH REPIES. Brother Moad.

Brother Moad is very much of the belief the old lawyer gave to the young. The young man was going out from under his care and teaching, and the old man gave him this parting injunction: "My son, in your course through life, as you go, always look back to the man who has been your father, and if you find him in any way, appeal to that. If you have not the law, but following, appeal to that. But if you have neither law nor testimony, give your opponent the benefit of the doubt. In any matter, do not forget the history and the sought refuge under the wing of the public by giving me the love Brother Moad and have the profoundest respect for him, and I do not believe that he intended to write as he did in last week's paper. I can but believe that he wrote from some messages that had been carried to his ears, and not upon facts. There is only one motive that prompts me to write this week, and that is to correct the error which appeared before the minds of the public by Brother Moad.

Error No. 1 says "that I was pleased to make an assault upon Mr. Wesley." I said at the outset that I made no such assault upon Mr. Wesley nor the Methodist denomination. I only quoted the words of Mr. Wesley, which I had a perfect right to do.

Error No. 2 says my references were taken from a book published by Mr. Graves, namely, "The Great Iron Wheel." I am surprised that Brother Moad would make this assertion unless he was certain it was true. The references were from Mr. Wesley's own Journal and not from Mr. Graves. I have never read the words in "The Great Iron Wheel" which he refers, and I am sure that though a "holding" I could never clip anything from a book I have never read.

Error No. 3. Brother Moad says that my last article was an attempt to divert from the true issue. I made no such attempt. I made the statement from my pulpit that "John Wesley believed in immersion as a necessary part of baptism." I was asked for my authority. I gave it from Wesley's own pen. I had no occasion to attempt to divert the true issue. And Brother Moad does not deny my statements but admits their truthfulness, and suggests that I replace a little higher estimation on preaching the gospel and not so much on baptism. I do not know how he feels on the subject of the solemn ordinance of baptism. But I firmly believe that while I am preaching on baptism I am truly preaching the gospel. If Christ sent Brother Moad "not to baptize but to preach the gospel" I would ask him why his life from his pastorate in Edgefield, Aiken, etc., down to the present, has been spent in baptizing as he believes unseasonable intents?

Error No. 4. And this is one that hurts. "He says that two young members of the Methodist church have been expelled from the church and proscribed to the Baptist church." I do not know what my proscribing assistants (if I have any such) have done by the assistance of books in "public and private by night and by day" and by conversation. I can only speak positively for myself and say that no such errors were made. "The Great Iron Wheel" was never placed in the hands of either. I have never given a book nor spoken a word in preparation to any one with reference to uniting with the Baptist church. Neither have I tried to suggest any one in their belief on baptism. What I said from my pulpit I do not retract. And believing it to be the gospel I will preach long and as long as I live. I am "baptized with him in baptism." When anyone comes to me and asks me for my views on baptism or my reasons for being a Baptist I shall not be afraid to give them. I do not care to see any proscribing assistants who are worthy the accusation.

I have no inclination to compare my brother in the ministry to a "dog baying the moon," but over his rough, harsh personalities and unkind spirit, and deviations from the truth, I would cheerfully wrap the mantle of charity. He is fit for nothing but the angel's harp. He will see long before the "morning" and "evening" of his life. I am a young man and I love him too well to exchange personalities through the public press. If he desires to discuss doctrine with me, I will meet him in a fair and open way, but I will not go into facts and the subject under discussion, and not be indulged in personalities.

With this before the public I discontinue the subject. Very truly, JOHN O. GAGAN.

Compliment to Rev. S. A. Nettles.

At a recent meeting of Damon Lodge No. 13 K. of P., on 6th inst., Brother S. A. Nettles offered the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted by the members present:

Whereas, one G. C., Brother S. A. Nettles, has been called to a new field of labor, which will necessitate his leaving our town, and we are all unitedly united with him as a comrade, therefore be it resolved, 1st, That in his removal we lose the presence and influence of one of our most active and zealous members.

2nd, That his services to G. C. have been characterized by the utmost fairness and impartiality.

3rd, That we regret the necessity that takes our brother from his close connection with us, and we assure that he carries with him the full confidence and best wishes of our members of Damon Lodge No. 13.

Attention, Knights of Physicians!

The next regular meeting of Damon Lodge No. 13 will be held Thursday evening, December 20th at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to be present as the business of officers for the coming year will be held at that time and other business of importance transacted.
