

Keep-off-the-grass-Coxey received 53,000 votes for governor in the recent election in Ohio.

It is predicted that there will not be another Democratic National Administration in the next twenty years.

Congressman John L. McLaurin delivered an address to the Confederate Survivors in Horry county today. The attendance was immense and the brilliant young representative was greeted with great enthusiasm.

United States Senator Irby was thrown from his carriage last Friday and very painfully injured. He was going to his farm and in some way the horses became unmanageable to the colored driver.

There will be another effort made in the Convention to increase the pay of its members, but we hope it will fail as it should. Every member of that body was elected with his eyes wide open; the work was accepted at two dollars per day and it should remain so.

Now that the convention is through with the suffrage ordinance, the educational ordinance will be the next problem for the members to solve. The people are anxiously looking to the Convention for an improvement in the present school system; they want to get value for their money.

The Constitutional Convention has finished its work on the suffrage matter and in our judgment they could not have done better under existing conditions. We see no reason why any white man should be disfranchised by it, and we think Senator Irby was either unnecessarily alarmed in his zeal to be "the poor man's friend," or that he was making his fight against the suffrage plan for political buncombe.

IT MAY DO AS MUCH FOR YOU. Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so-called kidney cures but without any good result.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS. Summerton, S. C., Nov. 9, 1895. Editor The Manning Times:—Will you give me permission through your columns to ask for a few estimates on the yield this year of sweet potatoes and sorghum and its seed?

WORK OF THE CONVENTION.

Summary of Its Proceedings at the Close of Last Week.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 9th, 1895. The Convention finished up the suffrage article last night. When it came up on its third reading Senator Tillman moved to amend section 1 by adding the following:

"Each of the two political parties casting the highest number of votes at the preceding election shall have representation on the board of managers of election at each polling precinct and on the board of county canvassers in each county."

Senator Tillman supported the amendment in a strong speech. Several other speeches were made for and against the amendment. Mr. Bradham of the suffrage committee, wanted the amendment adopted because it was right, that is all.

After further debate the amendment was rejected—yeas 51, nays 76. Those who voted for the amendment were: Anderson, Barker, Bates, Bellinger, Berry, Bradham, T. W. Brice, Bryan, Cantey, Dudley, Farrow, Fraser, Gage, Garris, J. L. Glenn, Harris, Haynesworth, B. S. Hutson, Johnson, Johnstone, J. W. Kennedy, Klugh, Lee, McGowan, Miller, Mitchell, Mower, Oliver, Ols, Patterson, Patton, Peake, Prince, Ragsdale, Read, Reed, Rowland, Sheppard, Sloan, R. F. Smith, Strubbing, Sulman, B. E. Tillman, G. D. Tillman, Zimmerman, Von Kolnitz, Wells, A. H. White, S. E. White, Wigg.

This morning's session was taken up in discussing two matters—the section providing for codification of the laws, and the one providing special punishment for sheriffs from whom prisoners shall be taken out and lynched.

Mr. Bellinger, the author of the section, made a strong speech in its favor. There were several other speeches on each side. Capt. Bradham said that he felt that he ought to express himself as a sheriff. He did not think this ought to be struck out. A sheriff who would not defend a prisoner at the risk of his life ought not to be sheriff. The people would uphold him. In his county there has been no lynching. One night last winter a man came to me and said there were fifty men coming to lynch a man who was in jail for attempting a certain crime. I went out and met them and told them that if they came on I would do my sworn duty, and I reason with them.

Indigestion

Tortured me; I was run down, had no appetite and could not sleep. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken a fourth of a bottle I was very much better. I also used Hood's Pills and found them so splendid, very mild, yet effective. Since using two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills occasionally, I eat and sleep well and can work with ease.

"Turn the rascals out"—the familiar party-cry—may be applied to microbes as well as to men. The germs of disease that lurk in the blood are "turned out" by Ayer's Sarsaparilla as effectively as the old postmasters are displaced by a new administration. As we passed Foreston on our return from Charleston last Saturday morning we saw a man standing in a store door with one of the most wo-begone countenances we have ever beheld, and it was some little time before we could recognize the face; its downcast appearance had almost entirely wiped out the familiar lines. Had that man just received a telegram from New York to "please deposit two hundred dollars, January 24" after he had invested the day before at 3.75, we might have understood the cause of his apparent melancholy. This man is a personal friend and naturally we were worried about him; at the first opportunity to see some one from Foreston we inquired for news from that quarter. It came; it was that Mr. W. T. P. Spott became the "daddy of another bouncing boy" on last Friday, which explained the cause of the mysterious wo-begone countenance.
