The indications are, however, that after the middle of the next month there will be a considerable change for the better in the price. We would not advise our readers to hold, because the price of cotton, but unless all signs fail it is our opinion that the fleecy staple will bring more money a month from now than it does at present. We sincerely hope so at least.

JUST A MOMENT, PLEASE! I will only take you a minute to read this. I will not weary you to wade through two or three columns of dry stuff, making a lot of big promises, which amount to nothing more than bluster. This is an advertisement, but every word of it is meant at its full value. I shall only have a few words each week, concerning my goods. It doesn't take ten thousand dollars to do business. If it did I wouldn't be in it. But it does take energy and push, and a man must be satisfied now-a-days with small profits. I only ask small ones to begin with and the larger the bill I sell the smaller the profits I can afford to put up with. I am selling:

A good suiting at 5c. A yard wide brown homespun at 5c. A yard wide black at 5c. A beautiful flannel suiting at 5c. A fleeced goods, 10c last year, now 7 1/2c. Calicos, fast colors, 5c and upwards. Worsteds from 10c up. Jeans from 10c up. Apron check gingham at 5c and 6 1/4c. A ready made sheet, out of heavy S. I. homespun, full size, not a seam, and hemmed, 50c. A pretty dress gingham at 5c. Charleston or Graniteville C. homespun 5c, or by the bolt, 4 1/2c. Check homespun 4 1/2c in any quantity you want.

I shall keep a line of good shoes, and can, and will sell them as low as any one in Manning. I mean this straight. I propose also to keep the best groceries I can get.

But I promised not to do the you. Come in whether you buy or not. I won't feel bad if you don't. I am not exactly giving away things, but will promise to come as near to it as some who would make you think they are.

Very truly, J. H. LESSENE.
