ROESTER CLAIMS OF "NOBLER" BREED, BUT HIS ACTS INDICATE THE YELLER KIND.

The Columbia Record of last Saturday, in about a column editorial, gives vent to some groans and grunts...

The Record says, "My Dear Appelt" rushes to the defense of Governor Ellerbe. The record has no objection, for it would be pleased if a clean bill of health could be issued for the Chief Executive.

Mr. Ryan made a great success as a business man in Atlanta, and up to his retirement his name was as well known in the great commercial centers of the country...

A SHOOTING IN ATLANTA.

Two Men Probably Fatally Wounded by an Outraged Husband. ATLANTA, Nov. 22.—W. A. Sharpton, a switchman for the Southern railroad...

Somehow Sharpton was a patient at the Grady hospital, but he wanted to get home, and he had a doctor sent to him to have him dressed after being hit by a negro with a rock.

OUR COMPLAINT AGAINST THE NEWSPAPERS WHO ARE CRITICISING GOVERNOR ELLERBE IS THAT THEY ARE DOING THIS TO MANUFACTURE CAPITAL AGAINST THE DISPENSARY LAW.

We would not presume to intimate that the Record intends to "create prejudice against the Dispensary law." How could we, when we see its advertising columns? No, the Record would not create prejudice against the Dispensary at present, but it does not hesitate to misrepresent the Governor of South Carolina and make use of every flimsy excuse to sneer at him.

RICH MAN FOR REAPER.

Merchant Prince John Ryan of Atlanta Is No More.

AT ONE TIME LIVED IN AUGUSTA.

Went to the Gate City Nearly Fifty Years Ago and Accumulated Great Wealth. Succumbed to a Nervous Stroke Sustained Over Three Months' Time From Ireland to This Country.

ATLANTA, Nov. 22.—Mr. John Ryan, Sr., a pioneer citizen of Atlanta, and one of the richest and most widely known men in the south, died at his home in this city after a protracted illness caused by paralysis.

Mr. Ryan made a great success as a business man in Atlanta, and up to his retirement his name was as well known in the great commercial centers of the country as that of any man in the south.

GOOD SHOWING BY SOUTH.

A Healthy Increase in Business All Over Dixie—New Industries. CHATTANOOGA, Nov. 22.—The movement in manufactured products is active for the season and business generally, as reported for The Tradesman's correspondent among prominent southern manufacturers and dealers, shows a healthy increase.

OLD PEOPLE.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the stomach and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and aperient.

HOPE SPRINGS, Ark., Nov. 22.—Deputy United States Marshal E. J. Carpenter, with a posse of 12 men, has arrived in the city with 15 illicit distillers, who were captured in Scott county.

BIG WEEK IN CHARLESTON.

The City by the Sea to Don Her Gala Dress on Monday, Dec. 13. CHARLESTON, Nov. 20.—All eyes were turned towards Charleston's gala week, which begins on Monday, Dec. 13. It was intended to hold the festive week during the month of October, but the prevalence of yellow fever in the south and the requirements of the board of health that all persons entering the city should be vaccinated, with certificates forced the committee to defer the festivities.

CONVICTS TO RAISE RICE.
