The race for Governor has come down between Ellerbe and Featherstone as we predicted weeks ago it would. The people are acquainted with the issues. Ellerbe represents the dispensary issue with all such amendments as will make the law a good; sound and practicable temperance measure, while Featherstone represents what his followers call prohibition by eliminating the beverage feature from the dispensary law. It would be useless for as to argue this question at this time because the people already know our views. The question for the people to determine is, can Mr. Featherstone, if elected, carry out his views with a General the dispensary?
