

BATTLE OF MANILA.

Twelve months ago the great naval battle took place in Manila bay. It was on the first day of May that Dewey astounded the world by his wonderful success in destroying Montojo's fleet, without losing an American sailor or an American ship. It was Dewey's guns that planted the Stars and Stripes on Asiatic soil, and by doing so placed the United States on the list of world powers. It was a magnificent feat of arms, and in the language of the Charleston Post:

"There are some who say the Manila triumph was a small affair, and that Dewey's victory was a foregone conclusion of the engagement. Such is the view expressed by some Germans now. But when Dewey's squadron sailed from Hong Kong for the Philippines, the German officers at that port, with nearly all others, regarded the ally as a rather desperate affair, for the Americans. And we must begin our consideration of the exploit at the point of sailing from Hong Kong, not from the time when the McCullough returned to the English port with news of the victory. It is clear enough now that Dewey was sure to win, but who would have said as much when the commodore sailed from Manila?"

"The American fleet entered the harbor of Manila with the prospect that complete victory only would save it from annihilation. A partial success would not have served. The ships were thousands of miles from their home ports, other stations were closed to them, most of the nations were unfriendly disposed to their colors. If they failed to destroy the enemy's fleet and make a station at Manila, they could get no supplies and would be practically helpless. The harbor of Manila was presumably fortified and guarded against hostile approach. It should have been. It was a place readily defended. With expectation that the Spaniards had taken all precautions that reason would dictate, Commodore Dewey headed his fleet into the harbor's mouth, past the frowning Corregidor and into the broad bay. Safely through the narrow channel, he formed his ships in battle line, swept forth and back along the enemy's position, and shot the ships of Spain to pieces. All the time his vessels were engaged by the shore batteries, by no means to be despised. These were silenced and taken in possession. And all of this without loss of a man and with practically no damage to the ships of the American squadron."

Jacob Pulitzer, the owner of the New York World, regards the free silver issue a shadow across William J. Bryan's path to the Presidency. Perhaps Bryan would rather be right than President.

The government is taking steps to stop literature from going through the mails which has a tendency to cause the soldiers in the Philippines to become dissatisfied. The ground is taken that literature criticizing the administration's war policy adversely, is not proper to fall into the hands of men in the service.

The Charleston News and Courier was an important factor in the deal which brought the Southern to Charleston, and the business community and property owners of that city should appreciate it. There is no gain saying it, the News and Courier may not always think like us in politics, but when it comes to business, and the commercial interests of Charleston, there is no harder worker to be found anywhere. We congratulate the News and Courier and Charleston for the recent windfall to lower Carolina.

The great Southern Rail Road Company has leased the South Carolina and Georgia, and by the transaction Charleston is given the very desirable position of having the gates of competition thrown open for her, and with this advantage we see no reason why Charleston shall longer remain the tail end of the progressive commercial procession. The Atlantic Coast Line, and the Southern competing with each other, together with a magnificent harbor where the ships of the world may enter, is bound to wake up Charleston and help the entire lower portion of South Carolina. With her additional facilities the moneyed people of the city should go to work right away to recover her lost patronage, and turn the flow of cotton from Wilmington back to Charleston where it naturally belongs. We congratulate Charleston upon her prospect for a renewed commercial life.

The war despatches for the past few days indicate a cessation of hostilities in the Philippines. Overtures for peace have been made to General Otis, by representatives of Aguinaldo, and rejected because Otis declined to recognize the Filipino government. He demanded an unconditional surrender which was taken under advisement. The Filipinos are willing to lay down their arms if our government will give them their independence with an American protectorate, a government and a relationship similar to that which exists in Canada. It is clear that General Otis does not intend to agree to any thing short of an absolute surrender, regardless of what the claims have heretofore been. The Filipinos fired upon American soldiers, and they must give up their all, and take what we are disposed to give them. By the time Uncle Sam's Krag-Jorgensen missionaries finish pleading with the Filipino savages to become civilized, the islands will be in excellent condition to receive Chinese emigration. The war in the Philippines is not ended yet, nor will it be for years to come; there may be a temporary hold-up, but it will break out again.

Uncle Sam celebrated "Dewey Day" last Monday, by paying Alphonso $20,000,000 in accordance with the promise made for the cession of the Philippine Islands in the Paris treaty. Uncle Sam handed the change over to M. Cambon the French Ambassador, who is representing Spain at present. Now that our philanthropic ruler, has bought and paid for the Philippine Islands, Alphonso ought to be required to put him in possession. However we must not only pay, but we must give up a lot of lives and more money before we can get into the promise land.

The Filipinos have expressed a desire to stop fighting, and we have no doubt that they are about run out of ammunition and supplies, but they want to govern themselves, even with the United States overseeing the work; as we understand it, their proposition was rejected, and in place of it, this government is willing to give the Filipinos a chance to see if they know how to govern themselves, of course reserving the right to judge. It seems to us that there is very little difference, and before many weeks an adjustment will be had. Will this stop war in the Philippines? We doubt it exceedingly. Spain tried various ways to pacify her Colonial possessions, and all of her efforts failed, as fast as one method was introduced, a new outbreak occurred, and thousands of lives and millions of treasure was fruitlessly spent. The United States may be able to prevent a repetition of Spain's experience. We hope so.

Washington Letter. (From our Regular Correspondent.) Washington, April 21.—"Like master like man." Secretary Alger's fight upon Gen. Miles has mostly been of an underhanded nature, so it is not very surprising that the report of the Military Court of Inquiry, now in Mr. McKimley's hands, should seek to make its attack upon Gen. Miles seem fair by jumping on a few minor commissary officers and recommending that they be court-martialed for neglecting their duty in connection with the beef supplied to the army a neglect that the report says was extremely profitable to the beef contractors. This thing isn't done with. Gen. Miles was completely vindicated by the evidence taken and he intends to keep on fighting until his vindication is officially recognized, and he has been assured of support by prominent men in Congress, some of them republicans. He has known from the first that the personal enmity of two men connected with the Court of Inquiry would have prevented his getting fair treatment, even with Secretary Alger's influence against him left out of consideration.

Political pull was stronger with Mr. McKimley than his friendship for General Joe Wheeler; consequently "Fighting Joe's" application for active service in the Philippines was turned down, and that eminent political warrior Fred. Grant, chosen as one of the three Brigadier Generals that are to be sent to the Philippines at once; the other two being Bates, who has just been detached from the command of the Santa Clara province Cuba, and Young, who has been supervising the mustering out of volunteers in the South. General Wheeler has repeatedly said that he would resign his commission if he could not get active service, but it is stated that he is to be offered command of the Department of Texas, which is to be revived. If General Wheeler accepts this command, it will be an indication that there is something in the story of his expecting to be appointed Brigadier General in the regular army.

Things are far from being satisfactory in Porto Rico. Thirty-nine deaths from starvation have been officially reported from a single province since the free government rations were suspended, and 100,000 are reported to be continuously hungry. It is proposed by the Red Cross to establish depots in the large cities for the sale of Porto Rican products for the benefit of the poor on the island. The stuff will be given by Porto Rican planters and merchants and brought to the U. S. free by the Porto Rican Steamship Co., if this government will allow them to be brought in without payment of duty.

In deciding to reprimand Captain Coghlan, of the cruiser Raleigh, because he told a story that was published all over the world nearly a year ago, in what he supposed to be the privacy of a club room, in New York, Secretary Long and the administration added nothing to their popularity. It looks to much like truckling to the German Government to please the average American. It was unnecessary for Secretary Hay to have taken the proper stand in telling the German Ambassador, when he called at the State Department to make a protest, in the name of his government, that Captain Coghlan had spoken as an individual at a private gathering of friends, and with no expectation that what he said was to be published, and that this government would take no official cognizance of the matter, if the Navy Department was to punish Captain Coghlan. It looked to much like Secretary Hay made a bluff for public consumption, and then privately assured the German Ambassador that Captain Coghlan would be punished. That doesn't square with the American idea of straight forwardness. If that sort of thing is kept up our army and navy officers will be afraid to talk among their friends, until each of them has been sworn not to give his remarks to a newspaper.

Representative Grosvenor has been given a straight tip from headquarters not to become a candidate for the Speakership of the House because Boss Hanna had decided that the administration could not afford to put an Ohio man in that position. The talk about Grosvenor having decided not to become a candidate because he thought Ohio was already sufficiently provided with big political honors is all boss. It was a case of Hanna, not diffidence.

Surely Alger is surely to be pitied now! Jay Hubbell, of Mich., whose political methods were too bad even for the republican party, whose notorious connection with the forced assessing of government employees in the Garfield campaign, when Hubbell was at the head of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, has not been forgotten, floated into Washington this week and gave Alger a public endorsement, through a newspaper interview. Of course, Hubbell endorses Alger; they are birds of a feather, but among decent people his endorsement does more harm than would his condemnation. By the way, it has been much commented upon that Alger was the only member of the Cabinet in Washington who did not accompany the Presidential party that went to Philadelphia, to see the Grant Monument unveiled. It is said that Mr. McKinley did not ask him.

Remarkable Rescue. Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of Consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from the first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this great Discovery at R. B. Loryea's Drug Store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

Summerton News. Editor THE TIMES: On the 15th, instant an election is to be held at the Summerton academy to determine whether a graded school shall be established at this place. There is but little doubt about the outcome. Almost every person interested, is heartily in favor of the scheme. This fact is a very pretty compliment to the refinement and intelligence which pervades the proposed school district.

The purpose of the promoters is to furnish school facilities which will be second to none in the State. They feel that this is a duty that every man owes to posterity. Messrs. J. S. Canter, C. H. Nelson, J. C. Lanham, Frank F. Whildner, W. S. Richbourg and others deserve especial thanks, as they have been most active and tireless in their exertions to bring about the desired result. Mr. Frank Whildner is a new comer here, but (quoting what others say) he is a Jewel. Summerton, S. C., May 1.

A Remarkable Case. Antioch, Miss., July 1, 1898. I want to thank you for the great benefit I have received from your wonderful remedy, Benedicts. I was induced to try a bottle, and it benefited me so much I used another and I am now entirely well. There is certainly no medicine like it and I can recommend it to all women. Mrs. BETTIE LAXOSTON. Sold by R. B. Loryea.

Deaths At Days Station. Wiley Cooper, colored, killed his eighteen-year old son a few days ago, with his fist. Cooper had the boy doing some ploughing in a field near his home and reprimanded him because he did not do the work properly. The boy gave him some impudent reply, whereupon Cooper struck him with his fist, from the effects of which the boy died in twenty minutes. It is reported that Cooper has been lodged in the county jail at Manning.

Noise Colocough, colored, an employee at C. M. Davis Lumber Company's Mills, at this place, was caught in the machinery, and received several painful wounds on the hand. Colocough is all right again, and the machinery is being repaired. There are a number of cases of smallpox near here, and the alarm causes many to be vaccinated. Davis Station, April 29.

Pinewood Points. Editor THE TIMES: Our farmers are busy planting cotton and have very pretty out and corn crops, and we are in hopes of having some fruit in spite of the severe weather of the past winter.

A beautiful marriage was solemnized at the Methodist church at this place last Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The contracting parties were Miss L. Maud Griffin, one of the most beautiful young ladies of Pinewood, to Mr. A. G. Stack, one of our leading merchants. Rev. A. T. Dunlap, the officiating minister, was at his place at the hour appointed, and as the clock pealed forth the hour of eight the bridal party entered the vestibule and as the sweet strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March was gracefully rendered by Mrs. P. M. Sally, the two sweet little flower girls, Misses Mammie and May Griffin, cousins of the bride, led the procession, and marching up under the beautiful wedding bell that hung near the center of the pulpit for the couple, each took hold of the hands that encircled the bell and held them in great taste, while the ushers, Messrs. N. L. Broughton and R. S. DesChamps, cleared the aisles for the bridal party, and under the sweet strains of music the first couple, Miss L. Maud Griffin and Mr. A. G. Stack, entered followed by the bride and maid of honor, Miss Minnie Griffin, and the groom and best man, Mr. D. R. Lide, and entering under the pretty arch they were happily made man and wife.

The bride wore a handsome attire of white Persian lawn trimmed in white satin ribbon, pearl beading, made on train, carrying a bouquet of white carnation roses in her hand. The bridesmaids wore pretty dresses of white organdie over pink, trimmed in pink satin ribbon, with white roses in their hair. The little flower girls were attired in pretty white dresses trimmed with pink ribbon and flowers in their hair. The groom and groomsmen wore full evening suits, and the whole outfit made a beautiful spectacle within the eyes of the assembled spectators. The groom was the recipient of some pretty presents.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Stack will make Pinewood their future home, and have many friends who will wish them all the blessings of a happy married life. Several from here attended a picnic, at Flud's mill on the 26th inst. given in honor of Miss Sarah DuRant who has had the tetelage of the Felsch school in charge for the past year. Miss DuRant left for her home in Bishopville, on Thursday, much to the regret of her many friends, and ardent admirers.

Mr. Walter D. Epperson, who has been attending court in Charleston in the DuRant affair as witness for one of the defendants, E. M. Rogers, returned to Lake City, where he spent a few days with relatives, is now at home. Mr. H. F. Stack has returned home after extending court in Charleston. Miss Anna Rogers of Lake City is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. F. Stack. There is to be a picnic soon and won't our children (?) have a time? Children's day will come off the third Sunday in this month, and they have a fine program for the occasion. W. J. E. Pinewood, S. C., May 1.

Oakland Happenings. Special to THE TIMES: A very pleasant meeting of the Southern Baptist Association commenced last Friday night and closed Sunday morning at Graham's church. The Rev. Dr. Brown of the Sumter Baptist church preached a very able sermon on "Brotherly Love" on Friday night. Messrs. E. E. Hodge, W. M. Reams and Walter Speigner of Company "D," Second South Carolina Regiment, have returned to their homes since the muster out at Augusta. These young men express themselves pleased with their army life. They brought home many souvenirs of "tropical United States."

Cotton planting is completed, and corn is being cultivated on some farms. Tobacco is being planted or set out rapidly though there is some complaint from scarcity of large plants. Oats are looking well, and a much larger yield than last year is expected. There will be scarcely any peaches this year, and all fruit prospects are gloomy, except grapes. Pastures are in excellent condition, and consequently, cattle and hogs.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Surely None in Clarendon? THE MANNING TIMES says: "The Florence Times intimates that money was used to influence many trustees into signing the pay warrants of the now notorious maps and charts. We do not believe there is any just cause for such a suspicion, but we do believe that it took more than the merits of the maps and charts to obtain the recommendation of the officials who supplied the canvassers with the deceiving credentials."

The evidence which we and other papers in the State have produced render intimations in this matter unnecessary. We have heard from a number of men to whom money was offered, but these refused it. We want to find out if money was offered to anybody who took it.—Florence Times. Volcanic Eruptions. Are gradual, but skin eruptions rob life of joy. Tobacco Culture Has come to stay. This is being demonstrated on every hand by the great preparations that are being made to grow and cure a crop of it by our enterprising farmers. Anticipating the demand for BARN FLUES we bought special machinery this year for making them and in February we contracted for a large stock of the best SHEET STEEL. Since buying, sheet steel has advanced on the market more than 50 per cent. This enables us to sell flues to our patrons and customers at prices simply out of the question with dealers who neglected to buy. The consequence is that the demand on us for flues has been and is still immense, but we have plenty of material and can supply all who want flues without advancing prices for some time. We have on hand the best devices for applying Paris Green to Tobacco Plants; also the very best Paris Green in any quantities to suit purchasers.
