Last Saturday morning Policeman H. Higgins received a telegram from C. L. Williams, of Gallatin Co. Wyo. he was county giving description of a mule that was stolen. Later in the day Messrs J. W. Higgins and J. A. Alsbrook brought to town a mule that answered the description, and which they had found in the road they found a buggy with harness. Evidently when the thieves reached that point they stripped the mule and turned him loose. It is supposed that Bill Dixon and his confederates brought the mule and buggy, as the buggy was found not far from where these "escapes" were seen. A party came from Sumter, identified the property and took it home. The mule belonged to Capt. Elsie Williamson, the buggy to one neighbor and the harness to another.

A diseased stomach sorely undermines health. It kills the brain, kills energy, destroys the nervous system and predisposes to insanity and fatal diseases. All dyspeptic troubles are quickly cured by Kodol Dyspeptic Cure. It is curing them every day. Its ingredients are such that it can't help curing. D. O. Khamme, Summerton; Dr. W. M. Brockinton, Manning.

THE PEOPLE OF SALEM WERE SURPRISED last Saturday by the finding of the body of a man on the swamp lands of Mr. Mitchell Eggs. The find was made by Mr. Mitchell Eggs while hunting in the swamp, and his son Daniel came to town and notified the Coroner, who held an inquest last Monday morning without being able to either identify the body or determine the cause of death. The body had evidently been dead a long time for there was no flesh on the bones and nearly all of the joints were uninjured. A coat was found about 15 feet away, as if it had been taken there, and other clothing were near the body, but such a condition as to prevent finding any marks. A little portion of clothing was found under the skeleton, this was discolored and from the shape of the coat and buttons and torn pocket book was found beside the skeleton, and near it were two common trunk or valise keys. The Coroner brought with him the keys and a front upper tooth filled with gold. There is no other mark that section missing and the finding of this body has created quite a sensation. It is not known whether he was a white or a colored man.

ABOUT THE TIME we had our friends locked up last week to go to press, the shocking news of the tragic death of Dr. J. W. Loring and particulars were not obtainable, not even the grief-stricken family knew, we therefore were unable to give our readers any more than the substance of the telegram.

ABOUT THE TIME we had our friends locked up last week to go to press, the shocking news of the tragic death of Dr. J. W. Loring and particulars were not obtainable, not even the grief-stricken family knew, we therefore were unable to give our readers any more than the substance of the telegram.

ON TUESDAY MORNING, August 22, about 10 o'clock Dr. Loryea left his friends at the Skyline hotel, a hospitable situated in the mountains about eight miles from Tryon, N. C., to go out sight-seeing and was to be back for dinner. The heat was intense and when the deceased failed to return at the expected time, the matter was reported to the hotel office and some one was sent in search of him without result.

THIS MORNING, August 22, about 10 o'clock Dr. Loryea left his friends at the Skyline hotel, a hospitable situated in the mountains about eight miles from Tryon, N. C., to go out sight-seeing and was to be back for dinner.

IT WAS BETWEEN 8 and 9 o'clock when the body was found and gotten back to the hotel and the proprietor accompanied the remains to Sumter. The supposition is, that he, being nearsighted, lost his way, and the manning about over the hills in the heat and dust, when he came to the spring and drank freely of the cold water which brought on something like congestion. It will never be known just how this young man lost his life.

DR. J. W. LORYEA, was born in Charleston in 1855, attended the public schools of that city, and after moving to Manning with his parents, entered the drug store of Dinwiddie & Co., as an apprentice. He was a diligent student and was well known for his confidence and esteem of his employers that when one of the firm withdrew to engage in other business, Loryea was taken in as a partner. He finished his studies at the Charleston Medical College and became one of the most expert pharmacists in the State.

AS A DRUGGIST the people had the utmost confidence in his ability. He was painstaking and very jealous of his reputation and his close attention he built up a very pretty business which stands among the best in the financial world. As a citizen Manning met with a loss in his death, intelligent and social, public spirited, in fact his qualities were worthy of imitation.

THE DECEASED was a Past Chancellor of Damon Lodge No. 13 Knights of Pythias, and from that lodge a delegation attended the funeral. The delegation consisted of: Chancellor Commander P. B. Thames, Past Chancellor Joseph Sprout, J. H. Lessem, J. H. Rigby, J. S. Wilson, A. H. Gering, W. H. Gering, B. M. Monzen, E. J. Ironwe, W. E. Jenkinson, F. P. Ervin, Drs. C. B. and J. F. Geiger, S. R. Venning and R. M. Strange. Messrs F. N. Wilson and Louis Appel accompanied them.

THE FUNERAL services were held at the Jewish cemetery, and the burial service was read by Hon. A. G. Moses, after which the Pythian burial service was held, conducted by Past Chancellor Joseph Sprout. The pall-bearers were Messrs. F. N. Wilson of Manning; Julian A. Barbot, of Charleston; W. R. DeGlar, Louis Lyons, Mitchell Levi, Raphael Moses, I. Hardy Moses, and V. H. Phelps of Sumter.

---Fall Announcement--- COTTON IS LOW, AND MONEY IS SCARCE, But People Must Have Goods.

With such a condition of affairs, the business man is put to his trumps to study out the most effectual way of meeting the people and sharing their burdens, to remedy the bad effects caused by any turn in affairs which operate adversely to the people. It is unnecessary to introduce myself to the readers of The Times, they know me, and they know full well that my many years of experience, both as a farmer and a merchant, give me a decided advantage over many others. I have used my experience that it may count for the best interests of my business. In doing this I had to study the needs and wants of my patrons, studying their condition as well as their welfare, because upon their welfare depends my success. Every business man, to keep up with the progressive spirit now pervading this country must study the markets just as a lawyer or doctor must study his books. This must be done or he cannot buy his goods to meet competition.

I have made deals by which I can sell goods at prices that cannot be duplicated anywhere, and I am going to do it. A visit to my store will convince any buyer that my immense stock has been selected with the greatest care, and contains everything that can be used in the family, or on the plantation.
