Good Roads.

Editor THE TIMES:

Yes, by all means lets push the public road question. Mr. Lanham in my opinion has broached the most important question that can occupy our attention now. We need them sadly. Not only from Summerton to

Manning but in other directions. People laughed at and ridiculed Coxey, but when he fought for better roads he fought more wisely, and with greater appreciation of a crying need than those who opposed him. It was too big an idea for his enemies to embrace. I have yet to hear a candidate for county office or any other come out on a public road platform. There are always those who have a scheme for reducing taxes, a plan for running the public schools thirteen months in the year. Latterly they discuss Pro-

We always originate, while others only imitate, and we have each year sold more Holiday Goods than any other house in the country. In fact in our long business career we have made a reputation in all lines of goods, selling dependable goods at let live prices that we can boast over and which we must maintain in the future as in the past.

So, with that high mission in view, we will begin Monday our annual showing of Xmas Presents, such as will delight the child, the parent, the grand-parent, and, best of all, to suit and please the pocketbook, which some consider the most tender spot of mankind.

Commencing Monday morning, Dec. 4, our mammoth store room will put on her Xmas clothing, and if attractive STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, goods at popular prices with polite service is not the place to make shopping a pleasure for December buyers, then we will play silent for a long time.

We have decided to give away a handsome Christmas present, a fine, lovely Doll, to some of our holiday customers. The plan by which you become the winner of this Doll Baby we will make known later through the columns of The Times.

While Xmas goods and presents will receive our best attention for the next three weeks, still we have a big line of Judgment Order of the Court of Com- Ladies' Dress Goods, Silks, Notions, Ladies' and Gentlemen's Shoes and lots of other things not mentioned that we will sell at prices to move them, owing to the fact that on Dec. 26 we will begin our annual stock-taking and certainly want just as few goods as possible to list, so now is your opportunity.

With such a condition of affairs, the business man is put to his trumps to study out the most effectual way of meeting the people and sharing their burdens, to remedy the bad effects caused by any turn in affairs which operate adversely to the people. It is unnecessary to in troduce myself to the readers of The Times, they know me, and they know full well that my many years of experience, both as a farmer and a merchant, give me a decided advantage over many others. I have used my experience that it may count for the best interests of my business. In doing this I had to study the needs and and warts of my patrons, studying their condition as well as their welfare, because upon their welfare depends my success. Every business man, to keep up with the progressive spirit now pervading this country must study the markets just as a lawyer or doctor must study his books. This must be done or he cannot buy his goods to meet competition.

I have made deals by which I can sell goods at prices that cannot be duplicated anywhere, and I am going to do it. A visit to my store will convince any buyer that my immense stock has been selected with the greatest care, and contains everything that can be used in the family, or on the plantation.
