PRIVILEGED CHARACTERS.
 The Prohibitionists are assuming "special privileges." They violate the constitution of the Democratic party by making factional nominations; their nominees are permitted to participate in the party primary, because they sign an oath that they are not the nominees of a faction, notwithstanding the notorious fact glaringly exists that these nominees are the creatures of a public convention, and an organization endowed with all of the paraphernalia of a political party, separate and distinct from the Democratic organization. The head of the Democratic executive committee declared its interpretation of the constitution to be that nominees are pledged to the constitution. The committee, however, brush the requirements aside, and give a shoddy over the constitution because, the State Democratic executive committee did not have the moral courage to make a positive declaration. This committee is composed of gentlemen, a number of whom are candidates for office, and they were afraid that if they had placed a positive construction on the constitution as they should have, some votes would have been lost to them personally; such weak-kneed candidates will not even get the vote of the element they catered to favor now and they should not, because a man who has not the moral courage to stand by his honest convictions does not deserve votes.

The Prohibitionists are not content with presuming upon the weakness of the State Democratic committee with regard to factional nominations, "publicly or privately suggested," but they also hold independent meetings, and they are also holding independent meetings. We understand that it is the purpose of the Prohibition party, to get up picnics and at these picnics the people are to furnish the expense of the eatables, while imported speakers are to furnish the chin music.

There is nothing in the constitution of the party prohibiting these independent meetings, but the fact of meetings being arranged by the county and State executive committees, carries with it the presumption, that any other political meetings are irregular, and calculated to create confusion. The disregard for the party constitution in one particular brings about a disregard in other particulars, until eventually the constitution will not be worth the paper it is written upon and, our primary system will become a farce. Why have a primary within the party, and permit nominating conventions too? Why have a schedule of meetings and permit independent meetings?

The importation of speakers is a new feature to be considered by our people—they are not accustomed to such, and it smacks considerably of the missionary idea. In our opinion, the free and intelligent white men will not take kindly to the idea of having a strangers coming among them to teach them how they shall vote upon political issues, that was all right in radical days, when we were after the penalties are to continue—the prohibition platform upon which Colonel Hoyt has been nominated as a candidate, demands "THAT AUTHORITY BE GIVEN BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY FOR THE STATE TO SELL ALCOHOLIC LIQUORS FOR ONLY MEDICAL, MECHANICAL AND SACRAMENTAL PURPOSES."

We quote the exact language of the prohibition platform, so that those who are opposed to the State selling liquor, can see that the so-called Prohibitionists are not asking in their platform that the State shall stop selling liquor, but on the contrary, they ask in that platform that the State SHALL SELL LIQUOR. Where is the prohibition? Where is the religious principle? Can a religious principle be compromised? Men have suffered martyrdom for a religious principle. No, the Prohibition platform is not prohibition at all.

The religious principle which is being prated about, finds no place upon the platform adopted by the prohibition party. An issue which is holy, and involves a religious principle, cannot be compromised. In our opinion this prohibition (?) platform is draped with sanctity in order to deceive the piously inclined, and to give the politicians an entre into the churches to work their political bunco game; that by assuming an air of holiness, it will bring to their aid many preachers who only want an excuse to dabble into politics, and when they do entrap one of these kind of preachers, it will take but little observation to find that this preacher becomes a very slick politician, and will resort to means that an ordinary politician would scorn. If there is a dark lantern meeting anywhere to work up a political conspiracy, an investigation will prove that this preacher-politician is there, aiding and abetting, and in the thick of the plot. He is used by the office-seeking politician, because he is a vote-getter, and because he can enter places where the ordinary politician cannot.

The white men of South Carolina are free and independent thinkers, and we believe they are as well informed on the issues of the day as any politician, whether he be a preacher or a layman; therefore, the platform adopted by the Prohibition party stands for itself, and all the speeches of imported speakers, or local politicians cannot obscure the meaning. The white voter has made up his mind on the "liquor question," and when the time comes to cast his vote, he will vote as his best judgment dictates. The white voter has intelligence enough to distinguish between genuine prohibition and sham prohibition. He is able to decide whether or not a system is ready to revolutionize a system which is now beginning to work satisfactory, for an experiment which has failed wherever tried. He knows that to restrict the sale of liquor as demanded in the Prohibition platform, is an impossibility, and is calculated to make hypocrites and liars of men who use liquor. He knows that if the Prohibition party succeed, it will strike down a large portion of the government's income, and will cause an increase in our taxes.

The exposure of Col. Hoyt's position on the liquor question by Rev. G. W. Gardner, one of the editors of the South Carolina Baptist, and which was reproduced in these columns, has stirred up a small-sized row among the Baptist brethren. Rev. W. W. Keys, in the defense of Col. Hoyt, assumes responsibility for a high license editorial which appeared in the Baptist Courier, but Brother Gardner comes back at Brother Keys and asserts that he was not alluding to one editorial, but a series of editorials, and he does not retract in the slightest, but on the contrary, he reiterates Col. Hoyt's position on the liquor question. In our editorial comment we alluded to Rev. J. W. Perry because his name appears as one of the editors of the South Carolina Baptist, and because he is known to our readers. And now comes Brother Perry with his voice raised in behalf of Col. Hoyt in the following card:

A WORD OF EXPLANATION.
 Some days ago a friend sent me a clipping from THE MANNING TIMES containing an editorial, in which the editor was sparring with the Columbia State about Col. Hoyt and his candidacy for Governor. The gist of the article was that the State, to quote its own words, was "advocating Col. Hoyt's candidacy for Governor because it thinks, and it may have the colonel's word for it, that Col. Hoyt is willing to have a license system if he cannot get prohibition." And the article goes on to say that Col. Hoyt has been an advocate of high license in the past, and quotes this paper to prove the statement, and mentions the fact that this scribble, which is well known to the people of Clarendon, is one of the editors of

A WORD OF CAUTION.
 It is a known rule of this newspaper to let every candidate for a county office take care of himself, but when it comes to candidates for the Legislature, Congress or State officers, we are under no promise to be neutral. We therefore desire to direct attention to one matter which we regard of vital importance to every voter in Clarendon county. In the selection of representatives, the fact should not be lost sight of, that there is no Senator to be voted for at this election, that officer holds over for two years more, and the voters should be careful in their selection of members of the Lower House, lest they send to Columbia, representatives who will not work in harmony. To make it plain: Suppose at this election the people should elect one representative who will work at cross purposes with the Senator; the work of the delegation would be blocked, and as far as the county is concerned, it would be better off without any representation at all. We hope the people in selecting their representatives will think of this seriously. It will be throwing away time to send to Columbia to make your laws, men who are at variance with each other. If a measure for the benefit of Clarendon's taxpayers starts in the lower House, and the Senator does not wish it to pass, all that he has to do, is to shelve it, or kill it outright, for when a matter affecting a county is opposed by the Senator of that county, the measure will not be pressed by the other Senators. If a measure starts in the Senate, and gets over to the House, any one member of the delegation can ask that the measure be "passed over" in order that he might look into it, and if the other members of the delegation insist on its being acted upon, all the obstructing member has to do, is to claim that it is purely a "local measure," and he has not satisfied himself that it is a proper measure; the result is, the measure is pigeon-holed.

Our readers will therefore understand the importance of electing men who will work in harmony, a delegation in the legislature that does not work together cannot accomplish anything for their people. The Senator of this county, has started on a policy to reduce taxation, and at the last session there was a reduction of one mill, now his object is not yet fully accomplished; because, it is his purpose to reduce the tax levy two mills more by the time his term of office expires; to accomplish this result his colleagues must be men who will help him, and if the voters will select such, they will reap the benefit of a reduction of their taxes.

After the present Senator's term has expired the people can then afford to make a brand new deal if they see fit, but as long as conditions are as now, they would simply be committing stupid folly, to send any man to Columbia who is not friendly with, and is out of sympathy with, the Senator. This is not intended as dictation, but an appeal to common, practical, business sense.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA BAPTIST. The use of my name demands a word of explanation, inasmuch as it is an indirect appeal to my friends in Clarendon to ignore Col. Hoyt at the coming primary election.

The article in this paper was written by Dr. Gardner, not by me. I have never had any controversy with Col. Hoyt on the question of high license, or on any other phase of the liquor problem. Dr. Gardner has explained his reasons for so writing, as can be seen in the paper of June 20th. But whatever views Col. Hoyt may have held in the past, he now declares himself to be a good Prohibitionist, and as such I shall give him my support and hope my friends in Clarendon will do the same.

(Signed) J. W. PERRY.

Bro. Perry does not dispute the fact that Col. Hoyt at one time advocated "high license," as alleged by Brother Gardner, he only says he did not write the article charging Brother Hoyt, and then goes on to say, "But whatever views Col. Hoyt may have held in the past, he now declares himself to be a good Prohibitionist, and as such I shall give him my support." But Col. Hoyt, in his speech in Manning, disputed Brother Gardner, editor of The South Carolina Baptist, and declared that he never had advocated license.

Now which of these gentlemen is correct, Rev. G. W. Gardner, who asserts that Col. Hoyt did advocate license, or Rev. W. W. Keys, who assumes responsibility for one certain "license" editorial, or Col. Hoyt, who is running for a candidate for an office? Somebody is wrong, sure. If Col. Hoyt is wrong, is he the "good Prohibitionist" he professes to be?

Woman's Board of Foreign Missions.
 Editor The Manning Times:
 The annual State meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions was held at Greenville, S. C., in Buncombe Street Methodist church, June 27 to July 1.

The devotional exercises of the first evening's services were conducted by Rev. Harman, pastor in charge. Then most kindly were the members and visitors welcomed within the beautiful Mountain City and picturesque homes of cultured people.

One hundred and twenty-five delegates were in attendance. We missed very much our recording secretary, Miss Belle Martin, who has gone to Europe and was prevented from attending. Mrs. Peter Stokes acted in her stead in a most graceful and acceptable manner. The Twentieth Century Fund was thoroughly discussed and a definite understanding gained by all.

It was gratifying to have two missionaries with us, Miss Gary from China and Miss Glenn from Brazil, former homes in Georgia. They furnished us with most valuable information concerning customs, manners, etc., of the countries named. It was a pleasure to have Rev. Harman present at almost every meeting.

The ladies of the board and visitors are surely much indebted to the ladies of Buncombe Street church for many kindnesses shown them and for the extended hospitality.

Greenview can boast of four handsome colleges which is an indication of intelligence.

Does it Pay to Buy Cheap?
 A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Doan's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but always inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try ONE bottle. Motherhood

THIS event in the life of a woman is looked forward to with a feeling akin to horror—not because the little one is not welcome, but because the mother dreads the direful consequences to herself. Those long hours of agonizing labor stand out before her like a hideous nightmare. An improper delivery, followed by child-bed fever, may end the scene in a few short days, leaving the little one motherless. But there is another side to the picture. If women who are expecting to become mothers will commence the use of the great female tonic, regularly as directed a few weeks before confinement, and continue its use until the organs are restored to their normal condition, the hours of labor will be shortened, the pain lessened, and recovery complete.
