WHAT IS SUCCESS!

Is it to worship earthly, groveling gold And, dollar blinded, to look only down To rake the muck heap and forget the crown Until youth's bounding blood creeps strangely

To dwell with envy, arrogance and dread, To barter all benevolence for dross, To lose companionship nor feel its loss Because the flower of sympathy is dead,

To labor for the rainbow bubble, famet Affort so fairly in the morning air.

A perfect jewel for a prince to wear, Is it a recompense for all its claim? Through careful night and crowded,

Through iron rebuff or flattery, like snow That leaves one thirsty, it is grasped, and, lo, t vanishes in nothingness away! Is that success With comrade duty in the dark or day To follow truth wherever it may lead. To hate all meanness, cowardice or greed

To look for beauty under common clay. Our brothers' burden sharing when they weep, But, if we fall, to bear defeat alone: To live in hearts that loved us when we're gone Beyond the twilight (till the morning break) to

THE HOTEL CHECK PROBLEM

A Question of Whether to Offend Guests or Risk Losing Money. The hotel clerk was standing behind the desk, with a disconsolate look on

"What's the matter?" asked a friend. "Matter?" said the clerk. "Why. it's the same old story. I've been stuck for another check. This check business causes us hotel clerks more trouble than anything else in the world. There is a general rule in hotels that no checks shall be cashed, but very often travelers run short of money. It is good business policy to cash these checks when you can be sure that they're all right. No hotel can afford to be continually offending guests. At the same time, if a clerk cashes a bad check he has to stand the loss.

"The average hotel clerk has learned by bitter experience to be a pretty good judge of human nature, but every now and then he slips up. Only a week ago a big, splendid looking fellow came to me and got me to cash a check for $20. I sized him up and decided that he was all right and that he was a good man to keep among the steady patrons of the hotel. A few days later back came the check, with 'No funds' marked across it. The result was that I was out $20."

While the clerk was talking a swagger looking woman came up to the desk and, smiling sweetly at the clerk, "Will you please cash this little check?" The clerk was all graciousness. He took the check and examined it carefully without saying anything. "Oh, it's all right," said the woman, "Of course, if you don't want to cash it you needn't. Mr. So-and-so knows me quite well, and you can telephone him about it if you want to, but it would save me a great deal of trouble if you could cash it for me now."

"Certainly, madam," said the clerk. and then he went over and held a consultation with the cashier.

They decided that the woman was,a good investment and gave her the money. She went away smiling, and then the clerk said:

"Now, there is just about an even sulted and would have talked about office. this hotel as long as she could rememanother $25."-New York Sun.

Life Saving Politeness. Patriotism and politeness are great virtues, and a Japanese physician. Dr. Aoyama, owes his life to the fact that he possessed them both in high degree. He had caught the plague and was dying for the need of the food which, in his delirium, he refused to take. His nurse was in despair, but finally conceived the idea of playing upon his patriotism by filling a glass with liquid nourishment and then offering to drink to the health of the mikado. This was repeated until, ardent patriot as he was, the doctor felt that he had honored his sovereign enough. Then his politeness was appealed to, the nurse proposing a toast and reproaching the sick man for not joining in it. In this way the patient's strength was maintained until the delirium subsided and he became convalescent .-Youth's Companion.

The Ostrich's Legs.

Although the ostrich has powerful legs and can kick like a mule, his limbs are very brittle and are easily broken. He has two toes on each foot, one being armed with a horny nail which he uses as his principal weapon of warfare. When an unarmed man is attacked by one of these birds, the chances are very much against the man unless he can climb a tree or jump over a five

An Alternative Conclusion. A Jersey farmer visiting New York stood looking at a sign in a bookstore window, "Dickens' Works All This Week For Two Dollars." "Waal." he remarked, "my 'pinion is that that Dickens feller is either a mighty poor workman or else he's confounded hard up for a job."-Boston Courier.

Acted Out the Character. "It was understood that the cashier had been a lamb in Wall street." "Therefore," said I, with a happy "he skipped." - Indianapolis Press.

Simple Country Living.

Joe Manton's Pistols. Joe Manton, the famous gunmaker, was crossing Hounslow heath when he was stopped by a highwayman. On hearing the summons to "stand and deliver" Manton recognized a pistol of his own make leveled at his head. "Why, confound it, you rascal," cried the indignant gunmaker, "I'm Joe Manton. and that's one of my pistols you've got. How dare you try to rob me!" "Oh, you're Joe Manton, are you?" said the highwayman coolly. "Well, you charged me 10 guineas for this brace of pistols, which I call a confounded swindle, though I admit they're a good pair of barkers. Now I mean to be quits with you. Hand me over 10 guineas, and I'll let you go because you're Joe Manton, though I know you have got £50 at least about you." Joseph swallowed his wrath and promptly paid the 10 guineas. But he never forgave the highwayman for getting a brace of his best pistols for nix, and he made himself a special double gun with barrels barely two feet long, which he always carried about with him afterward when traveling and christened "The Highwayman's Master." With this weapon I have heard that he subsequently shot a highwayman who stopped his chaise and mortally wounded him .- "Kings of the Rod, Rifle and Guns."
