School Closing. The Moses Levi Memorial Institute had its closing exercises last Monday evening, preceded on Sunday a very able sermon by Rev. J. W. Oliver of Florence, and although efforts proved unavailing to procure a speaker from abroad to deliver the annual address, Rev. P. B. Wells proved himself to be an excellent "emergency man" for notwithstanding the short notice given him he delivered one of the finest addresses we have ever listened to on such occasions.

The Institute auditorium was filled with an appreciative audience, and the well selected program was magnificently carried out. The graduating class performed their parts in a most creditable manner, and it is not surprising that the trustees should have displayed the good judgment to re-elect the present teachers. Their work has been so satisfactory that not the slightest complaint has ever reached our ears, and the work done was an exhibition of duty well performed. The declaimers were far above the average in rendition and subjects selected, and the essays would have been a credit to college graduates. The display made by the children was indeed a picture of loveliness. The music and singing brought forth merited applause. Major Abe Levi for the trustees made a splendid report of the institution and in doing so gave the parents and friends an excellent talk. Professor Pugh presented the diplomas and certificates in an appropriate manner, and then for about an hour Rev. P. B. Wells entertained the audience with an address, bristling with humor, pathos, logic and common sense.

We were given our readers a brief synopsis of his eloquently delivered address: "I have been asked to deliver a 'literary address.' Let me call your attention to the fact that the foundation of our noblest and best literature, which is its source and inspiration, which is the foundation of all that is highest and best in our civilization today, is the book of books, to wit, the Bible. For several reasons it is worthy of your most earnest study.

"It is the oldest book in the world, part of it dating back for 2000 years before the dawn of what authenticated profane history. Yes, it reaches further back to the beginning, before the dawn of creation: 'In the beginning God.' It is the newest book in the world. The interest in it, instead of decreasing, is on the increase day by day. It is being read by more people than ever before. Thousands of books and pamphlets are issued from the press each year, the sole object of which is to throw light on this book. In each of the past ten years the B. and F. Bible Society has circulated more Bibles as many copies of the Bible as in any previous year of its history: The American Bible Society 22 times as many.

"The Bible is more provocative of thought than any other, than all other books. The great English Premier spent the last and maturest years of his life in preparing a volume on this book, 'The Impregnable Rock of Holy Scripture.' Voltaire and Ingersoll predicted that in a few years it would become obsolete. They are dead and gone, but millions each year are accepting it as their guide, and 3000 churches were built last year for its study.

"The Bible is literature. The poetry of the Psalms and the reaches of thought of Isaiah have not been equaled. It is the inspiration of the best in our literature. Dante's 'Divine Comedy' and 'Paradise Lost' of Milton. It has had a wonderful effect in molding our language, and the great masters of English style have been moulded by its study. 'It is at the foundation of our civil and religious liberty. It is the great agent in uplifting mankind. Our noblest institutions find their foundation here. It solves all the questions of the present and future.

"It must be the corner-stone of every institution of learning that shall stand the test of time and live to bless the world. I commend it to your earnest study. And you, who leave these walls tonight, take it for your guide, fashion your characters according to its teaching, and your lives will be grand successes in time and eternity."

Spring Fever. Spring fever is another name for biliousness. It is more serious than most people think. A torpid liver and inactive bowels mean a poisoned system. If neglected, serious illness may follow. Risers remove all danger by stimulating the liver, opening the bowels and cleansing the system of impurities. Safe pills. Never gripe. Have taken DeWitt's Little Early Risers for my liver every spring for years," writes R. M. Everly, Moundsville, W. Va. "They do me more good than anything I have ever tried." The R. B. Loryea Drug Store.

Impure Drinking Water is always a source of danger: dysentery and bowel troubles follow its use, every person should have handy a bottle of painkiller (Perry Davis'), which will quickly cure these distressing ailments. Be careful not to purchase some worthless substitute upon you as is sometimes done for the sake of a few cents extra profit. Large bottles 25 and 50 cents.

DOCTORS say "Consumption can be cured." Nature alone won't do it. It needs help. Doctors say "Scott's Emulsion is the best help." But you must continue its use even in hot weather. A Real Friend. "I suffered from dyspepsia and indigestion for fifteen years," says W. T. Sturdevant of Merry Oaks, N. C. "After I had tried many doctors and medicines, to no avail one of my friends persuaded me to try Kodol. It gave immediate relief. I can eat almost anything I want now and my digestion is good. I cheerfully recommend Kodol." Don't try to cure stomach trouble by dieting. That only further weakens the system. You need wholesome, strengthening food. Kodol enables you to assimilate what you eat by digesting it without the stomach's aid. The R. B. Loryea Drug Store.

First Railroad Charter. The first charter ever granted in this country or probably any other for the building of a railroad was granted in 1810 to Henry Drinker by the Pennsylvania legislature for a road that kind from the Delaware valley to the headwaters of the Lehigh river over the route now occupied by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad from the Water Gap to Scranton. That was before the days of steam, and the "wagons" that were to run on the road were to be moved by horse power. That old charter and the rights it conveyed were purchased by the original Delaware and Lackawanna company for $1,000.

Free That Turns to Stone. There is a tree that grows in Mexico called the "cajil," or stone tree. It is of enormous proportions, both in circumference and height. It has a number of branches spreading out widely and carrying leaves of a yellowish green color. The wood is extremely fine and easily worked in a green state. It is not given to either warping or splitting. The most remarkable thing about it is that after being cut the wood gets gradually harder, and in the course of a few years it is absolutely petrified, whether left in the open air or buried in the ground. From this timber houses can be built that would in a few years become completely fireproof and would last as though built of stone.

How to Avoid Trouble. Now is the time to provide yourself and family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over, and if procured now may save you a trip to town in the night or in your busiest season. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful medicine in use for bowel complaints, both for children and adults. No family can afford to be without it. For sale by The R. B. The Limit. "And the railway company agrees to settle by paying me $5,000, does it?" said the man who had been injured. "How much of it do I get?" "You get all of it," said the lawyer. "And you get me what you please. It didn't take me five minutes to get a settlement out of them." This, O reader, is no fancy sketch. There are limits to the imaginative faculty of the human mind.—Chicago Tribune.

Virulent Cancer Cured. Startling proof of a wonderful advance in the cure of cancer is given by G. J. Roberts of Elizabeth, W. Va. An old man there had long suffered with what good doctors pronounced incurable cancer. They believed his case hopeless. He used Electric Bitters and applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which treatment completely cured him. When Electric Bitters were used to expel bilious, kidney and microbe poisons at the same time this salve exerts its matchless healing power, blood cleanses, skin eruptions, ulcers and sores vanish. A Royal Tragedy. Frederick I. of Prussia was killed by fear. His wife was insane, and one day she escaped from her keepers and, dabbling her clothes in blood, rushed upon her husband while he was dozing in his chair. King Frederick imagined her to be the white lady whose ghost he believed to appear whenever the death of a member of the royal family was to occur, and he was thrown into a fever and died in six weeks.
