Publishes All County and Town Official Advertisements.

MANNING, S. C., OCT. 14, 1903.

Manning Street Car Schedule.
Leave Central Hotel corner 9:00 a. m. and 6:45 p. m. for the passenger trains, and the car will also meet the freight trains. The management has been made with the agent at depot to telephone when freight trains are approaching Manning.
Fare, 10 cents each way.

The Tillman trial will close today.

The stump factory has begun operations.

Mrs. Mary C. Clark of Sumter spent last Monday in Manning.

E. C. Haynsworth of the Sumter Bar was in Manning yesterday.

Miss Louie Smith of Mullins is visiting her sister Mrs. J. G. Slaughter.

The organization of the farmers will do great good, in spite of the few croakers.

Keep a close tab on our advertising columns, as they mean something to your pocket.

Nimmer's store has an attraction in the shape of a parrot. He also has a pretty lot of canary birds.

Mrs. A. C. Davis, who has been desperately ill is so far improved as to give strong hopes for her recovery.

Mr. W. A. Fass of Dillon, and Mr. E. S. Hirschman of New York are visiting the family of Mr. D. Hirschman.

Mr. R. L. Felder, a pushing merchant of Pinewood was in Manning Monday. He says Pinewood is moving on nicely.

Married in New York on the 5th inst., Miss Nellie Stephens and Mr. E. A. Fuller. The groom writes he is a student at Harvard law school.

Mr. B. H. Harris, private secretary to Congressman G. S. Legare, was in Manning yesterday. He goes to Washington the early part of next month.

The latest report from Dr. Mood's Infirmary at Sumter, from the bedside of Mrs. W. E. Jenkinson, is that the patient is a shade better and cheerful.

Married last Sunday afternoon by J. P. Turbeville, Esq., Notary Public, Mr. Edward Turbeville and Miss Nettie Green, youngest daughter of the late T. E. Green.

We desire to call special attention to the advertisement of Coffey & Rigby. They have a beautiful line of buggies and wagons, and they are offering them at competitive prices.

Married last Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents at Inman, S. C., Mr. Julius Zimmerman and Miss Helen Louise Gantt, a daughter of Col. T. Larry Gantt.

The victory of Mr. N. C. Stack at Pinewood caught on fire last Friday from a match in seed cotton going through the gin, but before any very serious damage was done the fire was put out.

The farmers of Abbeville county are organizing themselves into farmers clubs. They propose to extend their organization all over the State for the purpose of protecting the marketing of their crops.

There will be a festival at the old parsonage near New Zion church for the benefit of that church Friday evening, November 4th. The public is cordially invited, and the editor returns thanks for a special invitation to attend.

We regret that space forbids the publishing of a communication signed "Anon" from Pinewood this week. It reached us this morning too late to have it set up, it will appear next week with the advertising part eliminated.

Died last Wednesday at Timmons-ville Miss Birdie Conyers, a daughter of the late Capt. John J. Conyers. The body accompanied by a number of friends was brought to Manning on Thursday and interred in the Manning cemetery.

Rural Route Carrier Varnos E. Scarborough from Sumterton had a horse to fall in a bridge on the public road, and the animal is now disabled for use. The county authorities should look carefully after the public bridges, and thus avoid lawsuits.

We have been making a special inquiry with regard to the character and ability of Prof. Slater, the music teacher, and we can state he is recommended to us as a thorough teacher, and a man of high character, and his system of teaching is of the very best.

The farmers township clubs meet next Friday afternoon, to elect delegates to a county convention to be held in Manning, Nov. 7th. There should be a good attendance at the club meetings. The movement is growing, other counties have commenced organizing on similar lines.

The town council has our thanks for putting a stop to the intolerable nuisance of little boys gathering in the streets to play and talk. Last Sunday night Policemen Thames jerked two of the chaps out, and locked them up in the guardhouse.

The patrons of Pine Grove school had decided to build a modern school building at a cost of about $2000. This is one of the most progressive educational communities in the county. They already have a magnificent church, and now a modern school building is an additional credit to their enterprise.

Last Saturday was the finest trade day of the season. The great crowd was drawn here by the "book agents" appointment to collect for books sold on credit in the summer. They collected $3,364 in cold cash and gave away a machine Mr. Tom Anderson drew the prize. Many a negro paid for a book last Saturday that wore a shredded shirt, and his toes were sticking out of his shoes; but he had the book!

Died in Chinkiang, China, Sept. 10th after a few hours illness, of cholera, Mrs. J. W. Bradley, nee Miss Mamie McCollum of Sumterton. The deceased went to China as a missionary in 1901 in August of the same year was married to Dr. J. W. Bradley, a native of Bishopville who was sent out as a medical missionary by the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Bradley was a daughter of Mr. J. W. McCollum of New Zion.

We have a communication from Pinewood, which we decline to publish because it is nothing more nor less than an advertisement for certain merchants of that town. It is a pleasure to publish communications of news value, but when it comes to advertising, we have a rate we charge. We should like very much to do some advertising for the Pinewood merchants, but there must be a price attached to our desire. In our columns will be found one of Pinewood's live merchants, who like a business man, has come to us in a business way and bought advertising space, and if his competitors will do likewise they will display more business tact than in trying to get a free ride through "Anon" or any other anonymous writer. We publish death notices free, but it is not that way with supposed-to-be live matter.

The Opening.
One of the events of the season was the "Opening" at Jenkinson's department store last Wednesday evening. The store was artistically arranged, and the decorations were superb. The display of dress goods and trimmings was a credit to the management and the clerks. There was a tremendous crowd drawn thither by the Charleston band, an aggregation of "Cha'ston niggers" who had represented themselves as accomplished musicians, and had secured recommendations from some friends of Mr. Jenkinson, but who turned out to be worse than a nest of eggs deserted by a hen that had set on them a whole summer. The music was disappointing and the singing of these "Cha'ston" fakes was execratable, not only to those who visited the store, but to Mr. Jenkinson himself, so much so that he gave them their time and ducats before the contract was completed; no more "Cha'ston nigger" for Jenkinson.

Every department in this immense establishment was dressed in its best attire, not excepting the ladies and gentlemen who serve the trade. It is difficult to describe the scene on that evening, but when we say the store presented a scene of loveliness we mean that the opening was a great success, it accomplished what Mr. Jenkinson desired—bringing out the multitude to see what he had accomplished as a merchant.

The main attraction was in the millinery, presided over by ladies whose experience make them adapted to know just whether the "hat is on straight" or if the colors suit "my complexion" and if the shape makes me look bewitching. These ladies are artists in shaping hats to make a beautiful look more beautiful, and in taking out the sourness of an ugly woman's face, and actually when they get through with an ugly woman, she can look square into a pan of red-hot fresh-laid milk without danger of curdling it. This department was filled all the evening with well-dressed ladies, with merry voices, and the solemnest looking men we have ever seen; the men enjoying the beauty of the hats, and the joyful promises to buy about as much as a nervous creature enjoys having a tooth drawn by a "painless" toothsmith. One man came out of the millinery department with a suicide in his eye, a cigarette between his fingers, and he did not stop until he was in front of the corner playing. He lighted the cigarette, and just as the "Cha'ston con" was about to hurl him into eternity with a blast of "Hilawatha" he rushed in and saved the fellow by taking him out of the side door into the fresh air, where there was a chance to get a beer in case anything should happen. The poor fellow as the fresh air hit him, gave a gasp and asked us "did she decide to take it," we asked him what? He said, "that $15 hat which the lady with the continental soldier's uniform was trying with no mercy on me, to sell." I relieved him by telling him the purchase was subject to his approval, and he smiled one of those leering smiles which men are prone to, when saved from a desperate act, and a state of uncertainty.

The occasion was enjoyed by those who like to look at a well-arranged store, where almost everything can be found, and where the proprietor and his corps of assistants are anxious to please.

The Fall Meeting of Harmony Presbytery Held at Midway Church.

Pursuant to adjournment the Presbytery of Harmony convened at its fall meeting on Wednesday the 7th inst. at 12 m., at Midway church, Clarendon county, and was constituted by the election of the Rev. S. L. Forrester of Sumterton as Moderator and Mr. W. J. DuRant as reading clerk. The Rev. J. E. Stephenson of Mayesville preached the opening sermon. The attendance was composed of all the ministers by sickness and of twenty ruling elders. The narratives on the state of religion showed a healthful condition in grace, progress and liberality. A conference on Foreign Missions was held which produced some enthusiasm and liberal-ity in that line. A conference too was held about the matter of local home missions which brought to review our needs in that direction and suggested methods of supplying them. The pastoral relation hitherto existing between the Rev. W. W. Sadler and the group of churches consisting of Lynchburg, Benlah and Lake City was resigned by him leaving those churches vacant.

Steps were taken to install the Rev. Mr. Holladay of Virginia as pastor of the Manning church, lately vacated by the Rev. Mr. Gregg.

Midway church, which is served by the Rev. James McDowell, is one of the largest and most prosperous out county churches. It lies along the line of Black River, a stream which seems to be given over to Presbyterians. The people are prosperous, self-sustaining and progressive. They live well and have good schools. They need a railroad, however, or some easier access to their county seat.

They entertained the presbytery with royal hospitality. The old custom of furnishing dinner on the ground was in vogue and the tables literally groaned under the weight and the variety of good things served, in quantities fully sufficient to satisfy the cravings of the Presbytery to surfeiting, but also of the crowds who are attracted to such meetings.

Midway church will always find the Presbytery responsive to an invitation to partake of their hospitality.
